Vol. XLVIII. FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 30, 1929. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

HUNDREDS UNDER ARREST IN NEW PALESTINE RIOTS

Arabs Plan Huge Assembly Today; Jews are Gravely Apprehensive of Large-Scale Attack

JERUSALEM, Aug. 29. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—New disturbances broke out today at Safed. Details still are lacking. During the last two days more than 200 Arabs and forty Jews were arrested by the British authorities.

With minor outbreaks continuing in Jerusalem and surrounding communities all day Wednesday and part of Thursday, grave apprehension was held by the Jewish population of Palestine for a possible renewal of attacks on a large scale on Friday, the Sabbath of the Moslems.

The rumor has been confirmed that Arab leaders plan another huge assembly at the Mosque of Omar in Jerusalem for Friday. It was following such an assembly last Friday that the outrages were started.

UNITY OF ALL ARAB COUNTRIES MAY BE OUTCOME

BEIRUT, Aug. 29. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—The troubles in Palestine have roused Arab feeling throughout the Near East, the event assuming the character of a movement for the unity of Arab countries. Demonstrations have been held in many parts of Syria, with equal excitement prevails in Transjordania.

The Sultan Atrash, chief of the Druse tribesmen, is reported to be gathering his forces for an invasion of Palestine.

BRITISH COMMANDER SAYS COLONISTS SAFE

JERUSALEM, Aug. 29. (AP)—There are enough British troops in Palestine to protect all Jewish colonists, said Gen. Dobbie to a deputation of Jews who visited him late today. The general, who is commander of British troops in the country, assured his visitors it will no longer be necessary for Jews to evacuate their homes.

Reports continued to filter in of isolated disorders, but most of these related to incidents that occurred several days ago. One of the reports said the famous orange plantation named Gan-Chayim, or Garden of Chayim, in honor of Dr. Chayim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, had been attacked by Arabs. It was said considerable agricultural machinery and part of the plantation had been destroyed.

There was a big demonstration of joy at Tel Aviv today when the first donations were received from America for the relief fund. They were of $25,000 each and came from Julius Rosenwald of Chicago and Nathan Straus of New York.

Jerusalem was peaceful throughout the day and similar conditions prevailed in the other cities of the country. As troops and marines of the British forces extended their lines of control, a greater feeling of security spread rapidly although rumors of what was happening on the Transjordanian border persisted.

One report, which was not confirmed, said Arabs in Nablus, a city in Central Palestine, had raised

Charges Official Neglect in Palestine at New York Mass Meeting

Hoover Expresses Confidence in Future Security; Jews Undaunted

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) American Jewry, 25,000 strong, crowded Madison Square Garden tonight and heard United States Senator Borah, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, brand the bloody disorders in Palestine as the result of the carelessness or stupidity of the British administrators there. They listened to a message from President Hoover expressing the conviction that the tragic events in the Holy Land would result in "greater security and greater safeguard for the future under which the steady rehabilitation of Palestine as a true homeland will be even more assured."

Varying views of the situation were expressed by Mayor Walker, Lieut.-Gov. Herbert Lehman, Samuel Untermeyer, chairman of the meeting, and other speakers, all of whom expressed keen sympathy for the beleaguered Jews, and pledged their aid to all the Palestine sufferers.

ABSOLVES LONDON

"This catastrophe was the result of carelessness or stupidity or both," the Senator from Idaho said. "Whose carelessness and whose stupidity time alone will reveal."

Senator Borah in his address absolved Premier MacDonald of all charges of indifferences toward the complicated situation in Palestine. He made a plea for a more thorough understanding of the situa-

YOUNG PLAN GOAL WON

Accord Gained on Reparations

Europe's Greatest Post-War Diplomatic Feat Hailed by Six Powers

Rhineland Troops to Leave; Pact Effective Sunday; Bank to be Set Up

THE HAGUE, Aug. 29. (AP)—Agreement on the Young reparations plan, hailed as the greatest achievement possible to post-war European statesmanship, was reached today by the six-power conference.

As a consequence, the Rhineland will be cleared of Allied troops by June 30, next, this having been agreed upon today, contingent upon a final concert on the Young plan as a whole.

The chief remaining problem is the establishment of an international banking institution to handle funds under the Young plan. It is expected that experts will be named to work out details before the present conference adjourns. The chief points at issue are the location of the proposed bank and the definition of its power.

OBSTACLES OVERCOME

In thus bringing to a successful conclusion the negotiations instituted in this city, the conferees surmounted numerous difficulties. Principal among these was the British demand for a greater proportion of the reparation annuities than provided by the experts who framed the Young plan at Paris, and Germany's insistence upon early withdrawal of all troops from the Rhineland.

In both cases compromises solved the questions. At one stage the determined stand of Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, brought the proceedings to an impasse but the hurdle was finally topped when France, Italy and Belgium agreed to changes in their quotas which satisfied about 80 per cent of the British claims and Mr. Snowden agreed to sacrifice the other 20 per cent.

GERMANS GIVE WAY

Similarly Germany gave way on her evacuation demands in the face of concessions from Belgium and France. Great Britain, early in the proceedings, announced that her 6000 troops remaining in Germany will start homeward Sunday, the date set for operation of the Young plan. Belgium agreed to start her withdrawals at the same time and France is to evacuate one zone this fall. The final contingents, on the Mainz Bridgehead, will not, however, be back in France until some time early next year.

A full session of the conference will be held tomorrow morning to clear up some of the details of the work. The last session of the conference is set for Saturday and it is planned to have the Young plan officially adopted then.

NOT ALL SATISFIED

The compromise character of the agreement on the Rhineland was emphasized when all parties to it, except Great Britain, indicated they are not completely satisfied. The arrangement does not satisfy Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister, because he had hoped that all German territory would be freed of foreign soldiery this year.

The agreement fails to please all French elements because they hold that if the territory is evacuated some element of security ought to be substituted in the form of a commission which could continually oversee any military activities on the west bank of the Rhine.

Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29. [To the Editor of The Times:] President Hoover certainly opened up a Christmas tree for the politicians when he suggested that all government land be turned back to the State in which it is located. Just announce that there is something going to be divided up and you got the whole nation interested in national affairs. Announce there is something to pay and you got 110,000,000 anarchists on your hands, so Mr. Hoover is becoming a politician fast. I don't know how bad the Federal government manages the land, but as bad as they do it it can only be one-forty-eighth as bad as the States will do it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

RUTH ELDER AND CAMP WED

Aviatrix Says She Has Promised to Curb Flying, and Honeymoon Will be Auto Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Walter Camp, Jr., president of Inspiration Pictures, Inc., and Ruth Elder, flyer and motion-picture actress, were married at noon today in the municipal chapel by City Clerk Cruise.

Only two members of Cruise's staff, a clerk and a stenographer, were present as witnesses.

Miss Elder, looking tired and nervous, refused to talk to reporters.

In their joint application for a marriage license, Miss Elder described herself as the defendant in an action for divorce granted in Panama in June, 1928. She did not give the name of her former husband, Lyle Womack.

RUTH ELDER

She drew a line through the space where the applicant's occupation is described, gave her age as 24 and her address as Beverly Hills, Cal. She was born in Anniston, Ala.

Camp's age is 38 and his birthplace New Haven, Ct. He is the son of the late Walter Camp, famous football coach, and Alice Sumner Camp. In his application he wrote he has been a widower since 1928.

WALTER CAMP JR.

Miss Elder arrived here yesterday from Cleveland, where she had participated in the women's air derby. In a brief interview she said that Camp has asked her to quit flying because it is too much of a strain for her, and she said she has promied to do little flying in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp will spend their honeymoon touring the United States by automobile. They met this summer in California and Camp proposed at Santa Monica, Cal., at the start of the women's air derby in which she was a contestant. She gave him her answer that night by telephone at the end of the first day's derby lap.

AL SMITH'S GOING UP IN WORLD NOW

Former Governor to Build Eighty-Story Structure on Site of Old Waldorf

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Former Governor Alfred E. Smith will head a company to be incorporated to build what will be the highest building in the world on the site of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The building, which will be known as the Empire State Building, will be eighty stories high and will cost, with the $16,000,000 paid for the site, more than $60,000,000. It will occupy more than two acres with 200 feet on Fifth avenue and 425 feet on Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets.

Mr. Smith, who will be president of the Empire State Building Corporation, made the announcement in accordance with a promise after the last Presidential campaign to newspaper reporters that he would announce his business plans as soon as he determined them. The former Governor said supervision of the construction of the building and its management will be his main business. Since his retirement from the Governorship Mr. Smith has been elected a director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and the New York County Trust Company, but his duties in these directorates have taken but a small part of his time. Although the Governor made no mention of it in his announcement it is said by friends that his salary as president of the building company will be about $50,000 a year.

FILM DEAL EXPECTED AT SESSION

Paramount Stock Merger With Warner Brothers, Rumor of Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation today announced a special meeting of the board of directors to be held on September 4, next.

It is rumored in Wall street that a basis for a merger between this company and Warner Brothers' Picture Corporation, which has been the subject of negotiations for some weeks had been reached and that the meeting is called for the purpose of tendering an offer to the Warner Brothers for an exchange of stock.

This report could not be confirmed today at the offices of either of the companies.

CLOTHELESS PARADERS ARRESTED

Doukhobors Rounded Up and Jailed After Nude British Columbia March

NELSON (B. C.) Aug. 29.—A nude parade of more than 100 Doukhobors on the Provincial highway fifteen miles south of here today resulted in their arrest and incarceration in the city and Provincial jails here tonight.

Provincial police left here to arrest four members of the sect who had disrobed. When the officers appeared three-quarters of the party of 150 Doukhobors took off their clothes and chanted.

John Cartmel, government agent, gave them thirty minutes in which to dress, when they refused to comply, six Provincial police and sixty special officers herded them into automobiles, trucks and busses and brought them here. The city's two jails were overflowing tonight with naked and partly clothed Doukhobors.

The trouble with the Doukhobors started with the arrest of one of their number, Paul Wlosoff, in connection with the burning of Doukhobor schools. They protested filing of charges against him. He is in the jail here awaiting trial.

LOS ANGELES-BOUND SHIP SUNK WITH 105 ABOARD

Heavy Loss of Life Feared as San Juan Goes Down After Crash in Fog Off Bay City

Rammed by the Standard Oil tanker S. C. T. Dodd while in a dense fog off Pigeon Point, approximately fifty miles south of San Francisco, the steamer San Juan of the White Flyer Line, bound from San Francisco to Los Angeles, carrying sixty passengers and a crew of forty-five, sank within ten minutes shortly after midnight with all on board. Lifeboats from the Dodd and the motorship Frank Lynch reported they had picked up numbers of passengers urgently in need of medical aid, but in the fog and with wreckage of the San Juan scattered over the water, it was feared that loss of life will be heavy. The steamer Munami which heard the radio calls sent out by the Dodd immediately after the crash also joined in the rescue work.

A radio message from Capt. Bleumchen of the tanker Dodd picked up at Los Angeles Harbor at 2:53 a.m. said the Dodd was proceeding to San Francisco with twenty-seven survivors on board.

The steamer Munami was standing by at the scene of the collision, according to the message, to continue the rescue work. The message did not state whether any survivors of the wreck were aboard the Munami.

At 3 a.m. the Lynch and the Munami were playing searchlights over the water in attempts to locate survivors. Some were found clinging to bits of debris. Among them were a number who were injured in the collision.

WORST IN MANY YEARS

Cries of the passengers pierced the fog curtain and wreckage and oil covered the waters, the rescue ships reported to the MacKay Radio Station. Every time a cry was heard, a rescue boat put in its direction.

Other craft including the steamship Munami, from San Francisco to Wilmington, and the motorship Frank Lynch rushed to the scene of disaster, according to the McKay Radio, and were putting out boats to aid in the rescue work.

A. H. Faye, Los Angeles agent of the owners of the San Juan, was in communication early today with Albert Gillespie, president of the company, who is in San Francisco, and learned from him that the San Juan left San Francisco about 6 p.m.

The vessel was in charge of Capt. Astlund, who had completed two trips as its master. The first officer is named Anderson. Stanley Hinch is the purser and James Norton is chief engineer. The San Juan registers 1754 tons net and is 286 feet long. It formerly was operated by the old Pacific Mail Company in the Central American trade. It was built approximately forty years ago and had an iron hull. It normally carried a crew of forty-nine but on this trip there were only forty-five in the crew.

DODD OIL LINER

The S. C. T. Dodd is owned by the Standard Oil Company. It is of 4374 tons net register and carries a crew of approximately thirty-five.

Capt. Hansen was in command. The tanker cleared from Baltimore on July 20 for Los Angeles Harbor, and was en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco when the collision occurred.

The tanker was built at Oakland in 1920, steel construction, 4374 net, 7054 gross tons, 425 feet long with 57-foot beam.

WRECK OFF RAGGED POINT

Pigeon Point is about twenty miles north of Santa Cruz on a rugged stretch of the California coast. The district nearly always is overhung with fog.

The fog was so heavy last night that the rescue ships were not certain how far they lay off the shore and they faced the danger of drifting against jagged rocks as they stood by in a valiant attempt to pick up the San JJuan's passengers and crew members.

Although no definite explanation for the crash of the Dodd and the San Juan was radioed, it was apparently due to the intense fog.

The San Juan, so far as is known, was unable to get any signals out as the damage suffered in the crash was so severe it was reported to have started sinking immediately.

The tragedy is the worst on the west coast since the wreck of the Rio de Janeiro, which sank off Mile Rock, at the entrance to San Francisco Harbor, February 22, 1901, with a loss of 128 lives.

ECKENER VISITS PRESIDENT

Zeppelin's Commander Thanks United States for Financial Assistance to Flight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Tired and sorely in need of rest, Dr. Hugo Eckener, master of the globe-cirling Graf Zeppelin, came to Washington today to express personally to President Hoover and high government officials his gratitude for this country's assistance in the historic achievement.

With an air of deepest feeling the German navigator told the President the flight "could not have been achieved without the generous assistance which came from the United States."

From President Hoover and other officials, as well as the throngs who crowded the streets and department corridors, Dr. Eckener received tributes of high admiration for the feat.

HOOVER'S PRAISE

In congratulating the Graf's commander President Hoover said the noteworthy flight showed "the spirit of high adventure still lives," and its "success has been due to the eminent scientific and engineering abilities of the German people, translated by your own skill and courage."

Dr. Eckener arrived at 2:04 p.m., in a Navy transport plane from the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., accompanied by Dr. O. C. Kiep, Charge d'affaires of the German Embassy, Assistant Secretary MacCracken, in charge of Commerce Department areonautics, and Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics.

RATE CUTS EXPECTED

Utility Earnings Held Too High

Millions May be Lopped Off Phone and Gas Charges by Commission

Southern California Would Get Greatest Benefit of Reductions

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Sweeping downward revision in the rates of five public utilities, three of which are in the Southern California field, appeared a certainty tonight as the aftermath of a Railroad Commission order calling on these companies to show why their annual rates of return are in excess of the 7 per cent which the commission believes adequate.

The companies are the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Southern Counties Gas Company, Associated Telephone Company, Modesto Gas Company and Roseville Telephone Company.

Computed on the basis of the differential between the commission's "fair rate" and the rates of return indicated by an investigation on the commission's own motion, the prospective slash may aggregate as high as $15,000,000 and affect approximately 500,000 consumers, the majority of them in and around Los Angeles. Should this eventuate, it will be the most comprehensive decrease in the commission's history and one of the largest in the United States.

SUBURBAN PHONES

The Associated Telephone Company is a combination of recently merged telephone companies in the Los Angeles suburban territory. It serves Long Beach, Huntington, Redondo and Laguna beaches; Santa Monica, San Bernardino, Covina and contiguous territory. The Roseville Telephone Company serves Placer county.

Today's order was forecast some time ago when the Railroad Commission ascertained from annual reports that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is earning 8.86 per cent and the Great Western Power Company seemingly is earning more than the 7 per cent which the commission established as adequate in the case of the Southern California Edison Company. The disclosure made at that time promised a study of the rates of return shown by other utilities.

This investigation, according to the commission announcement, shows that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation made 9 per cent over its entire system in 1928 and 8.9 per cent in 1927. Computed on common stock and surplus combined, the rate of return is said to have been 16.6 per cent in 1928 and 15.86 per cent in 1927.

The rate of return shown by the Southern Counties Gas Company, according to the commission, was 10.85 per cent for 1928 and 13.6 per cent for 1927. Common and surplus returns were 18.22 and 18.78, respectively.

TERMED EXCESSIVE

Proportionate and asserted excessive returns were shown by other utilities named in the order.

The commission, in issuing the order, said these companies have not made a satisfactory explanation of the high returns and they must do so. In similar previous instances, such action by the commission always has resulted in a rate cut, in some cases of large proportions.

The order was in the nature of a preliminary warning to the companies as they are notified they must appear and show cause, but the dates for the appearances have not been set.

BYRD OPERATOR 'GETS' GRAF

Radio Men Hold One of Longest Chats Ever Recorded as Zeppelin Sails Over Pennsylvania

[All Rights for Publication Reserved Throughout the World.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Our radio station was in direct communication with the Graf Zeppelin last night on the last part of its flight. Carl Peterson, who was on the night watch, got in touch with the huge ship while it was over Bellefonte, Pa., and talked for some time to Freund, one of the Zeppelin's wireless operators. He also transmitted direct to the ship the message of Commander Byrd to Dr. Eckener congratulating him on the success of the round-the-world trip.

Peterson had been listening all evening for the large bag. He heard the operator trying to get a New York station and, in turn, Peterson called San Francisco and notified a station there that the Zeppelin wanted to reach New York on a certain wave length. He found that this information had been telephoned from San Francisco to New York.

Then Peterson tuned back again on the Graf Zeppelin and picked up the ship almost at once.

Freund apparently was as glad to talk to Little America as Pete was to have the unusual experience of making one of the longest distance communications ever held by wireless with the dirigible. After Freund had taken the message to Dr. Eckener he asked Peterson to wait and came back in a few moments with word that the airship's commander and Capt. Wilkins both were asleep.

Pete and he then chatted awhile and Freund was told that it was 40 below zero here, quite a contrast to the temperature of Pennsylvania. Then Pete thought of the trip Dr. Eckener is to make in the north polar regions next year with Hansen and Sverdrup.

"Hope I can be with you," he said.

"I hope you can also," said Freund. Then the Zeppelin's operator sent the good wishes of all the ship's company to Commander Byrd and his companions here on the ice and said he hoped the season's work will be completely successful.

ECKENER PAYS HOOVER VISIT

pelin commander and his party were taken to the White House, where he was warmly greeted by the President.

PLANS CORPORATION

At the Navy Department Dr. Eckener told Secretary Adams he planned to organize a corporation to build and operate several large dirigibles for world-wide transportation. He said the corporation will be organized in Germany, but that financiers must be found who will provide for the construction of huge hangars and ships.

The world-girdling trip, he said, demonstrated that Zeppelins of the future had to be faster, shorter and thicker. He added he was convinced by the trip that dirigibles were adapted for successful long-distance transportation.

Secretary Adams told Dr. Eckener "You Germans, with your dirigibles, giant airplanes and fast steamer Bremen, are revolutionizing things. I am glad to see the rapid progress."

Dr. Eckener laughed and replied: "Well, you know we must go ahead."

A visit to Postmaster-General Brown concluded the round.

In expressing his gratitude to Mr. Brown, Dr. Eckener said:

"I want to express my gratitude for your co-operation and assistance in giving us generous mail contracts. Without them I fear that we could not have financed the trip."

Brown replied: "We were glad to put the mail aboard. We knew you would deliver it."

LONGS FOR SLEEP

Dr. Eckener went to the home of Dr. Klep with the expressed intention of going to bed early to sleep until morning, when he will leave by airplane at 7 a.m. for Lakehurst, N. J. From there he will go to New York for a conference with financiers.

After the Zeppelin departs, either late Saturday or Sunday, Dr. Eckener plans to go to Akron, O., to visit the Goodyear Zeppelin works, where two large dirigibles are being built for the Navy.

Former Co-ed Here Married

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Miss Charaline H. Vaughan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Russell U. Vaughan of Los Angeles, became the bride today of Julian Trair, member of the New York Stock Exchange, at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola. The ceremony was performed by Father Delihant and was witnessed only by the bride's mother and an intimate friend of Mr. Trair.

The bride, who is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy, Los Angeles, studied art at the University of Southern California and later attended St. Mary's College.

Dirigible Will Take Off for Germany Tomorrow

Eckener to Remain Behind for Conferences

LAKEHURST (N. J.) Aug. 29. (AP) The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin completed its triumphant three weeks' swoop around the world today and immediately preparations were begun for a take-off at midnight Saturday for her home port across the Atlantic.

It will be the Graf's fifth crossing of the Atlantic and for the first time on a major flight she will not be under the control of her veteran commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener.

ECKENER TO REMAIN

On completion today of the first airship girdling of the globe and the fastest circumnavigation by any means of transportation, Dr. Eckener announced that he will stay in America about twelve days and will follow his dirigible home to Friedrichshafen by steamer and train.

During this period he plans to visit Washington, New York and Akron, O. His first call today was on President Hoover at Washington where he flew in an airplane. For tomorrow he accepted an invitation to be welcomed formally by the city of New York and tomorrow night he plans to leave for Akron.

The Graf Zeppelin completed its 20,000-mile flight around the world in twenty-one days, seven hours and thirty-four minutes elapsed time, beating the record of John Henry Mears and C. B. D. Collyer, who went around the world last year in twenty-three days, fifteen hours and twenty-one minutes, using planes over land and ships across the Atlantic and Pacific.

WORLD FLYERS BEATEN

Actual flying time of the Graf was 11 days, 23 hours and 14 minutes, beating the time of 15 days and 6 hours made by the United States Army world flyers in 1924, the only other flight ever made around the world by any sort of aircraft. The elapsed time of the Army flyers was 175 days.

Lieut. J. C. Richardson, United States Navy observer on the flight, told of riding the tail of a typhoon near Tokio, during which the great ship would drop and jump 500 feet at a time. But the hardest going of all, he said, was over the American Rockies, where the air was rougher than anywhere over the Siberian wastes or the expanses of the Atlantic or Pacific.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, chief of American navy dirigibles, another passenger on the world cruise, also spoke of thrills but when he was asked to describe them reminded his questioners of the restrictions of the news contract.

MISHAPS BELITTLED

All passengers were loud in praise of the Graf's achievement and made light of such mishaps as were encountered. The first of these was the breaking of struts on the rear motor gondola at Tokio, damage which was repaired on the ground, and the only other was while having difficulty gaining altitude in leaving Los Angeles for Lakehurst.

The Graf came in today with a crumpled rudder and officials explained this by saying the rear of the ship bumped the ground in getting away from the California city. They said it had nothing to do with high tension wires which menaced the hydrogen-filled dirigible.

There seemed to be some difference of opinion about these wires, Dr. Eckener speaking of "getting loose" from the wires and Lieut. Richardson saying the ship did not actually touch them.

When asked how close to touching them the Graf came, however, the naval observer grinned and said: "we'll let some one else answer that."

SHIP BEATS CREW

Seven members of the crew of the dirigible got to this terminal of the world flight more than four hours behind their ship. They were "put ashore" at Los Angeles to lighten the dirigible's burden and sent across the country by Transcontinental Air Transport.

It was a beautiful sunny morning as the Graf appeared from New York, to which it had paid a visit before landing, and docking of the ship was accomplished with expert ease. Because of the early hour of arrival (7:13 o'clock) there was a small crowd, perhaps 5000 persons, which was easily kept in check by the sailors and marines.

The Graf overshot the ground crew in coming down, but the ropes were quickly caught after a short chase and the monarch of the skies was drawn to earth and gracefully maneuvered into the hangar, where refueling was at once begun in preparation for the continued flight to Friedrichshafen.

MEDALS WILL COMMEMORATE FLIGHT

BERLIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Prussian mint will strike commemorative medals for the Graf Zeppelin's 'round-the-world flight, which will be executed in bronze, silver and gold pieces with prices ranging from 3 marks to 100 marks (72 cents to $24.)

The design of the well-known sculptor, Oscar Gloeckler, has been accepted for the medal. The obverse shows the profiles of Count Zeppelin as inventor, Dr. Hugo Eckener as navigator and Ludwig Duerr as chief constructor in the high spots of the Zeppelin history. The reverse shows the globe with the landing points of the Graf on her great flight.

Completion of the Graf Zeppelin's around-the-world flight at Lakehurst today brought recollections from the German press that the day also was the twentieth anniversary of the landing of a Zeppelin for the first time in Berlin.

PLANE PERMIT DENIED

PHOENIX, Aug. 29. (AP)—Robert W. Henderson was denied a certificate of convenience and necessity for the operation of aircraft common carrier planes transporting passengers in a general air taxi service over the State, in an order issued by the Corporation Commission today.

Palestine Heads Blamed for Disorders

tion and urged a more definite arrangement, "some definite program," which he apparently believed is lacking in the British mandatory government in Palestine.

After saying that the world is more or less at a loss to understand how disorders began, and why the victims were without proper safeguards for life, Senator Borah said that restlessness, mutterings and threats had been heard in Palestine for some time.

OFFICIALS CASTIGATED

"Why these things failed to mean anything to those in charge of affairs or why they failed to bring action upon their part I am frank to say that I cannot understand," Senator Borah declared. "If I knew where the blame rests, I woould not hesitate to assess it. But I do not know."

After recalling that the British government in Palestine and in London were not the same thing, Mr. Borah castigated the local officials and said the facts of the situation should be established and made known.

Senator Borah then mentioned the Arabs, whom he called a "virile people, resourceful in character, indefatigable in purpose and imbued with a national spirit, which at time, partakes of fanaticism." He condemned what he called a "policy of drift" and predicted that it would always mean misunderstanding.

Resolutions adopted unanimously denounced the attacks upon the Jews in Palestine and continued:

"We are resolved to go forward with the peaceful development of Palestine, the re-establishment of the ancient homeland. We cannot be swerved by a hair's breadth from our purposes by outbursts of primitive savagery. The memory of our martyred dead must cause us to rededicate ourselves to our holy task.

"We appeal to the conscience of the whole world.

"We desire to express our confidence in the honor and faith of the government and people of Great Britain. To them we now turn, that justice my be done to the Jewish people, to the living and to the dead.

"We charge the administration in Palestine with laxity, inefficiency, incompetence and criminal neglect in failing to prevent the organization and arming of the Arab mobs."

HOOVER TELEGRAM

The text of President Hoover's telegram, addressed to A. Tennebaum, an official of the Zionist Organization of America, was as follows:

"I have your request for a statement that may be presented at the meeting this evening in New York.

"I am glad of the opportunity to express my profound sympathy with those who have been bereaved and who have suffered through these disturbances. Good citizens in every country deplore these outbreaks and this loss of life. Our government is deeply concerned not only in this broader sense, but in the narrower sense of the protection of the lives of American citizens.

"Our advices are that the vigorous action taken by the British government has restored a large measure of protection, although that government is still faced with great burdens from this outburst of fanaticism. I know the whole world acknowledges the fine spirit shown by the British government in accepting the mandate of the Palestine in order that, under this protection, there might be established a homeland so long desired by the Jews. Great progress has been made in this inspiring enterprise over these last ten years, and to this progress the American Jews have made enormous contribution. They have demonstrated not only the fine sentiment and ideals which inspire their activities, but its practical possibility.

CONFIDENT OF SECURITY

"I am confident out of these tragic events will come greater security and greater safeguards for the future, under which the steady rehabilitation of the Palestine as a true homeland will be even more assured. An immediate and pressing question is the relief to those who are suffering. The fine sympathy of the American people is already evidencing itself in this purpose and it should receive a most generous support."

LADY HEATH TO SURVIVE CRASH HURT

Noted British Aviatrix Suffers Fractured Skull in Cleveland Accident

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (AP)—After spending three and one-half hours in a hospital operating room, Lady Mary Heath, noted British aviatrix, was reported on the way to recovery tonight from serious injuries received today when her airplane crashed through the roof of a two-story factory building while she was practicing a dead-stick landing.

Dr. E. C. Cutler first operated on Lady Heath at 6 o'clock. From that time until past 9:30 o'clock she remained in the operating room for treatment of a fractured skull, internal injuries and many cuts and bruises. Twenty minutes later she was reported at the hospital virtually out of danger.

Accompanied by Irwin Kirk, 28 years of age, a Cleveland mechanic, the aviatrix was practicing a dead-stick landing in preparation to enter such a contest today at the National Air Races.

With motor turned off Lady Heath was piloting the plane in a glide over the Mills Company factory roof, when it started to drop. With her motor dead the pilot was unable to lift the plane and it struck a guy wire to a chimney on the factory roof.

Kirk jumped just before the plane crashed through the roof. A moment later Lady Heath was buried in a mass of wreckage inside the factory.

The mechanic then risked his life to jump through the hole in the roof to Lady Heath on the factory floor, twenty-five feet below. He broke an ankle and three fingers were severed by glass in his leap.

Lady Heath was unconscious when removed from the wreckage.

the Turkish flag and declared themselves independent of British control. Another report was that Arabs at Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee, were organizing for an armed outbreak and that they expected help from Transjordania.

LONDON REPORTS SHOW SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Energetic naval and military measures by British authorities responsible for order in the Holy Land have succeeded in suppressing Arab-Jewish disorder which has been raging there for five days, according to latest reports received in London.

The grewsome details of the events are being related in newspapers here but the reports still leave the actual origin of the riots confused and contradictory. It will now be the business of the authorities to establish culpability and responsibility for the outbreaks that have resulted in 152 deaths and 263 wounded.

The Colonial Office tonight was able to announce the situation is quiet practically throughout Palestine and unless there are unforeseen developments the country may be considered under complete control.

The British High Commissioner to Palestine, Sir John Chancellor, who was absent on leave in England when the trouble started, has now returned to his post.

The British Colonial Office official communique on the Palestine situation issued tonight stated:

"As regards the general situation it is reported that yesterday and last night were quiet practically throughout Palestine. This produced a steadying effect on rioters.

"Following are the total casualties to August 28, including those previously listed as killed or died from wounds; Moslems, 52; Christians, 4; Jews, 96. Wounded in hospitals, Moslems, 103; Christians, 9; Jews, 151.

NEW LIFE CRAFT INVENTED

Tank Device for Saving Persons in Shipwrecks Proves Success in English Tests

LONDON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—An ingenious invention to save lives on a sinking ship or damaged submarine was demonstrated successfully at Liverpool today. The invention is remarkable simple. It consists of a watertight tank which detaches itself from the deck when the ship goes under water and immediately rises to the surface.

There is no elaborate machinery employed. A haft-turn of a screw releases the chamber from the deck and the two bolts can be withdrawn by manual or hydraulic power. The process occupies only five seconds and apparently is fool proof.

Before a crowd of interested spectators Joseph Kelly, the inventor, floated a model boat and showed his tank fastened securely to the deck by means of bolts. A bird was placed in the chamber, which then was battened down and the miniature craft sunk in twenty-five feet of water. By manipulating his device with strings Mr. Kelly pulled back the bolts. The tank rose quickly. The bird inside was found none the worse for its experience.

The second experiment was tried with white mice, and though Mr. Kelly kept the tank under water twenty-five minutes, the tank rose as soon as released and the mice apparently were unaware of the ordeal.

An obvious objection to the invention is its bulk, but Mr. Kelly points out that lifeboats on large liners will be unnecessary as the tank will replace them. At the first signs of disaster the passengers and crew would be ordered into the compartment, the doors and windows sealed, and when the liner went down the bolts would be released and the tank would rise immediately. It could drift indefinitely.

Mrs. Thaden Takes Second in Sixty-Mile Test

Throng at Field to Watch Los Angeles Take Off

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (AP)—Making a speed of 137.6 miles an hour, Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., won the sixty-mile race for women here today at the National Air Races in an event for planes of 510 to 800-cubic-inch piston displacement.

There were six starters, Mrs. Louise Thaden, who won the Santa Monica-to-Cleveland derby, was second with a speed of 131.43 miles an hour and Mrs. Blanche Noyes of Cleveland with a speed of 127.77 was third.

Another large crowd was at the airport to see the take-off of the navy dirigible Los Angeles on its return flight to Lakehurst, N. J. It left at 1:07 p.m.

The Los Angeles had spent last night here attached to a mooring mast, while its sister ship, the Graf Zeppelin, passed overhead on the last lap of its 'round-the-world cruise.

DERBYISTS FINISH

Two more air derbies were finished today. They came from Toronto, Can.

Hubert St. Martin of Montreal won the nonstop Toronto-to-Cleveland race for commercial planes in 2h. 10m. 24s., winning $2000 in prize money.

Kenneth Whyte of Hamilton, Ont., won the Toronto race which stopped at Buffalo en route with a time of 3h. 26s., winning $300.

Three attempts for new world's solo endurance records were announced but only one was started. Thomas E. Reid of Downey, Cal., took off on such an attempt at 11:04 a.m.

Mae Haizlip of Tulsa, Okla., and Ralph F. Thomas of Cleveland postponed their solo endurance flights until Saturday.

CIVILIAN PLANES

Verne L. Roberts, of Moline, Ill., won the first section of the fifty mile race over a ten-lap course for civilian planes of less than 510 cubic inches piston displacement, with an average speed of 129.18 miles an hour but was second to Errett Williams of Greenville, S. C., in the fifty-mile race for planes of 270 cubic inches displacement. Williams averaged 134.58 miles an hour. The second section of the 510 class race will be held tomorrow, owing to the large number of entrants.

Three flight lieutenants from the Royal Canadian Flying Corps at Camp Gordon, F. E. Beamish, D. A. Harding and G. R. Howson, provided the greatest stunt flying exhibition of the week. Flying their all-metal Siskin pursuit planes they dived within twenty feet of the heads of the crowd and made hundreds of women scream.

LINDBERGH STUNTS

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and two Navy "high hats," from the First Pursuit Squadron at San Diego, took the air for their third exhibition in as many days, and exceeded their former efforts at spectacularity, looping in formation and flying upside down in a group. Six marine Curtiss Hawks from Quantico, Va., went aloft for the first time since Sunday and staged a three-way dog fight which held the attention of the crowd.

Collector Asked to Resign Ready to Fight Ouster

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—John P. McLaughlin, collector of internal revenue here for many years, who has been asked for his resignation, indicated today he plans to fight the ouster. McLaughlin said he intends to consult his friends and study the law in the matter.

McLaughlin openly blamed his difficulties to Senator Shortridge and said he will ask the services of Senator Johnson, of whom he is an active supporter, in retaining his position if the law in the matter allows a loop hole.

Alf Oftedal, prohibition department intelligence agent, is said to be slated to succeed McLaughlin.

Rebel Leaders Named in Suits for War Costs

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—Gens. Gonzalo Escobar, Francisco R. Manzo, Fausto Topete, Juan Gualberto Amaya, Marcelo Caraveo, Francisco Urbalejo, Roberto Cruz, Ramon Yucupicio and others, including several former Congressmen, are named in damage suits for 103,000 pesos, lodged by the government in the courts at Nogales and Vera Cruz, according to special newspaper dispatches.

The suits are to recover the asserted cost to the government of putting down the recent revolution, in which the defendants assertedly were leaders, and most of their property in Mexico has been seized to hold as guarantee of payment.

CRUISER VIEWS LAID ON TABLE

United States and England Explain Positions

Destroyer and Submarine Agreement Reached

Accord on All Basic Points Expected Shortly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The complete viewpoints of Great Britain and the United States on the problem of limitation of cruisers have been placed before the two governments, and, while the differences between the two are few, further discussion will be required before an agreement can be announced.

As a result of the conversations which have been going on between Ambassador Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald since the Ambassador arrived in London it has been found the two governments think alike on the question of destroyers and submarines and that a settlement of the problem of limiting these categories will present no great difficulty.

CRUISERS STICKLER

Consequently the question of cruiser limitation is now engaging the two governments. The series of conferences which have been going on at the White House between President Hoover, Secretaries Stimson and Adams and Undersecretary of State Cotton have mainly, therefore, had to do with the cruiser situation.

It was learned on high authority tonight that as a result of these conferences the American viewpoint on the cruiser problem, the differences over which between the United States and Great Britain resulted in the failure of the tripartite conference of 1927, has been cabled to Ambassador Dawes for presentation to Prime Minister MacDonald. It is presumed that Ambassador Dawes placed the American viewpoint before the Prime Minister today. The British viewpoint on the cruiser problem now is before the American government.

An accord on the principles and basic factors in the problem is hoped for within a few days.

All indications on the phase involving the setting of a year for the attainment of parity between the two nations point to 1936. The principle of parity, or naval equality, to be applied to the navies of the two, has already been agreed on. It also is expected that any naval limitation agreement which will result from a general naval parley, now being tentatively discussed, will expire during that year.

NEW AGREEMENT

After that time it will be necessary for another agreement for naval limitation to be entered into by the naval powers. The attitude in informed circles both in Great Britain and the United States is being generally expressed that a period shorter than that limiting construction in the treaty of 1922, signed at the Washington Arms Conference, should be adopted by the naval powers for the limitation of cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

It also is pointed out that the 1922 treaty expires by its own terms on December 31, 1936, and the capital ship phase could then be reconsidered along with reconsideration of the other classes. The shorter period of limitation, it also is remarked, gives the powers an opportunity to consider various changes in world conditions insofar as they concern their navies and to take more ready advantage of modifications in construction and guns and more efficient methods in making replacements.

Reports from Tokio that the Japanese Ministry of Marine is contemplating a supplementary building program caused no special alarm in official circles here. The belief has been expressed in view of the reports, however, that the Japanese in the next limitation conference will ask for an increase in her ratio, which was established in 1922 for capital ships as five for America, five for Great Britain and three for Japan. It is considered possible that Japan might desire 3.5 or a 4.0 ratio.

DAWES HAPPY AFTER HE TALKS WITH MacDONALD

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Ambassador Dawes had a long conference today with Prime Minister MacDonald regarding naval affairs.

Gen. Dawes looked extremely happy when he strode out of Downing street afterward, but he declined to issue any sort of statement. The Prime Minister was also silent, except to explain that they had continued discussions of naval disarmament and everything was progressing satisfactorily.

It is stated that the American Ambassador, conveyed to Mr. MacDonald the fruits of a conference held in the White House Tuesday, when President Hoover called in Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams and Undersecretary of State Cotton to discuss naval negotiations.

So optimistic has become the atmosphere here that it is reliably stated tonight that an agreement between the United States and Great Britain on a formula for naval reduction will be published within ten days.

JAPAN FORMULATES BILL FOR NAVAL CONSTRUCTION

TOKIO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Japanese press this afternoon reported that the Naval Ministry has formulated a new program of auxiliary construction which has been forwarded to the Ministry of Finance for consideration.

The program is said to include four 10,000-ton cruisers, fifteen first-class destroyers and other vessels at a total cost of 400,000,000 yen (approximately $184,000,000,) covering six to eight years and beginning in the fiscal year 1930-31. This will overlap the current cruiser program by two years.

The program is said to include several small destroyers, submarines, gunboats, oilers and antisubmarine craft.

Official confirmation of the report thus far has been unobtainable.

Broadway Star Will Wed Cuban and Her Former Husband Vanities Girl

PARIS, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Ann Murdock, former Broadway star, and her ex-husband, Hallam Keep Williams, today scored a tie in their race to announce "confidentially" their respective remarriages as soon as the divorce courts come through with the highly necessary decree.

Ann's next husband will be a mysterious Cuban who, according to her, is a scion of a wealthy aristocratic family, but whose name she is guarding until the moment of making the formal announcement.

Mr. Williams is not taking any such precautions, but is ready to tell the world that his intended is Ruth Harrington Anderson of Philadelphia, who was one of the reasons for the popularity of Earl Carroll's Vanities of 1927.

Ann and Hallam obtained a provisional decree at Mineola, L. I., on June 11, last, and expect the real decree to come through the first week in October.

She wintered in Havana, where it is not impossible she met her prospective Cuban husband, and he has been a resident of Paris for some time.

Mr. Williams is leaving for the Belgian Congo in a couple of weeks from now, and the future Mrs. Williams will be keeping him company.

COMMITTEE VIEWS PARK WOODLANDS

Timber Grounds and Road Project at Yosemite Hold Legislators' Interest

YOSEMITE, Aug. 29. (AP)—Inspections of the timberlands of the Yosemite Lumber Company and the $3,000 Wawona Road project were made here today by members on the agricultural subcommittee of appropriations, led by Representative Dickinson, chairman.

The party was welcomed on arrival by H. M. Albright, director of the National Park Service, who conducted them around the park. He was assisted by Superintendent C. G. Thomson.

The visitors first saw cut-over ground and other holdings of the lumber company near Crane Flat, which is considered of greatest importance due to the Park Service's strenuous efforts to preserve the forests in Yosemite National Park.

After a pleasure tour around the valley, the party left for Glacier Point, and on the trip went over the Wawona Road project with Dr. L. I. Hewes, chief engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads. From Glacier Point they visited the Mariposa Big Trees.

The party will leave Wawona tomorrow for Fresno. Other members are Representatives J. N. Sandlin, W. A. Duvall and J. W. Summers and Maj. R. R. Stuart, chief forester.

National Zoo to Get Gift of Rare Gibbons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The monkey colony at the national zoo is to be increased with the addition of a family of rare gibbons, gifts of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Harold Coolidge, Jr., relative of the ex-President.

Known as Mr. and Mrs. Kiki and their 6-months-old offspring, they are natives of Indo-China, and were captured by the Kelly-Roosevelt expedition that recently returned from a collecting tour for the Field Museum, Chicago.

Lowest of the anthropoid apes, they are the first of their species to be obtained by the zoo, and the first mother and baby ever exhibited in this country, if not in the world.

AIR ENGINE TESTING COMPANY ORGANIZED

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Proposing to establish aero engineering plants for inspecting, testing, analyzing and rating aircraft and motors, three Southern California men today filed articles of incorporation of the Aeronautical Safety Rating Corporation of America, capitalized at $25,000. Directors named are Frank W. Wead and Robert H. Bennett of Los Angeles and Volney C. Finch of Coronado. Headquarters of the company are to be located in Los Angeles.

AMERICA LEADS IN MAIL FLOWN

United States Also Foremost in Mileage Covered

But Germany Tops List in Most Other Respects

Canada Second in Number of Passengers Carried

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The United States leads in civil-air transportation so far as mail carried and the number of miles flown are concerned, but Germany is ahead of the rest of the world in miles of airways in operation, number of passengers carried, in commercial mileage per airplane and also in pounds of express and freight carried.

Civil-air transportation statistics from twenty-six nations for 1928 made public today at the Department of Commerce show that United States planes carried 4,061,210 pounds of mail; France, 1,607,280; Germany, 1,130,000; Canada, 316,631, and Great Britain, 120,962.

Germany, however, despite its area as compared to the United States, had 18,540 miles of civil-air lines in operation, compared to 16,667 in the United States. Germany's 585 civil-aircraft flew 7,030,565 miles in regular service and the 6320 civil planes of the United States 10,673,450 miles. Canada's 327 ships flew 2,724,414 miles and little Netherlands, with thirty civil aircraft and 2092 miles of air lines in operation, reported 1,007,920 miles flown in regular service in 1928.

Germany led the list easily in number of passengers carried with a total of 115,000. Canada came second with 74,689. United States was third with 49,713. Germany's express and freight total was 4,282,000 pounds. France was second with 2,735,000 pounds; Canada third with 2,404,682 pounds, and the United States fourth with 1,847,836 pounds.

Noted Scholar Will Join U. C.

BERKELEY, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Dr. Walter Bauer, a graduate of Heidelberg and Leipsing universities, Germany, has been added to the staff of the Giannini foundation for agricultural economics in the University of California, according to announcement today by Director Hutchison.

Dr. Bauer has been a member of the technical staff of the International Institute of Agriculture, at Rome for several years. He will assist in work on international trade relations, investigating the possibilities of foreign markets for California crops.

Sleep Sickness Gains in Japan

TOKIO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Sleeping sickness prevalent in southwestern prefectures continues to spread, particularly in the prefectures of Kagawa and Hiroshama.

A total of 349 cases, with 136 deaths, was reported today. The figures are incomplete.

GOOD ASKS CARE OF BATTLE SITE

Secretary Would Shoo Cows from Historic Ground

Memorial for New Orleans Fight Scene Urged

Jackson Defeated British in War of 1812

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Secretary Good believes the Federal government should shoo the cows off the site of the battle of New Orleans.

So firm is his belief that he has prepared a draft of a bill to provide for the "care, custody, control and maintenance of the existing monument and grounds" by the Federal government. It has been submitted to the House Military Committee.

For a score of years, efforts have been made to have Congress authorize the War Department to make a national military memorial of the battlefield, where the American Army achieved its outstanding victory over the British in the War of 1812.

CONGRESS NEVER ACTED

Congress, however, never indicated a desire for a survey of the site. It did appropriate $25,000 toward a monument erected in 1907 on the grounds, which were to have been cared for by the State of Louisiana and the United Daughters of 1776 and 1812.

The subject has been revived by inquiries from persons interested in the preservation of the battlefield, which disclosed that cattle have invaded the grounds to graze upon the luscious grass. It is held that the State has not made adequate provision to maintain the grounds, while the funds supplied by the United Daughters are understood to be insufficient to care for the monument.

FIGHT AFTER PEACE

One of the reasons advanced why Congress has attached so little significance to the site is that the engagement was fought several weeks after peace was declared.

The battle was fought at Chalmette, on the outskirts of New Orleans. Nine thousand British attacked 4500 Americans, led by Maj.-Gen. Andrew Jackson, whose force included the Pirates, headed by Pierre and Yon Lefitte, and their lieutenant, Dominique You. The British suffered 2137 killed and wounded, while the American casualties numbered 71.

GUGGENHEIM AIR CLAIM REFUSED

Uncle Sam Won't Allow Him $58.14 As Plane Fare for Committee Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP) Harry F. Guggenheim, wealthy member of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, had an idea that Uncle Sam owed him $58.14, but Comptroller-General McCarl has decided otherwise.

An expense bill for oil and gasoline used by a private plane that took Mr. Guggenheim from New York to Washington and back for the committee's first meeting has been disallowed. Mr. McCarl can stand for only $36.38, the train fare.

WINE RULES REVISED BY DRY CHIEF

New Regulations Made by Dr. Doran Now Being Studied by Experts

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Dr. James M. Doran, Federal prohibition commissioner, today announced the first revision of wine industry regulations since 1916 is under way. The administrator will give no indication of when the regulations are to go into effect, nor what they contain.

The revisions, consisting of about 100 pages of galley proofs, were submitted to a committee of California wine experts for consideration. Most of the revisions, it is believed, have to do with the regulation of bonded wineries in the United States. The experts are to make suggestions for further study.

Dr. Doran will confer with winery operators in Southern California, he announced, regarding the proposed regulations.

The prohibition commissioner met today with the board of directors of Fruit Industries, Inc., newly formed merger of grape by-products concerns, and discussed with them the legal phases of the by-product industry as affected by the prohibition laws.

SUPREME COURT JOBS ENTHRALL

Three Justices Could Retire, But They Stay On

Taft Old Enough, Only He Lacks in Service

Few in History of Tribunal Have Quit Bench

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Young men who aspire to quick wealth so they may retire at an early age and enjoy the fruits of their labors may obtain a lesson in service from three men on the government pay roll, all more than 70 years of age, who need only say the word to be retired at their present salaries of $20,000 a year.

The three are Associate Justices Holmes, Van Devanter and Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court. Holding appointments for life, apparently all intend to die in harness, so absorbed are they in the work of the nation's highest bench, for there is no indication that any of them even is considering retirement from his frequently arduous position.

TAFT NOT ELIGIBLE

Chief Justice Taft passed his seventieth birthday nearly two years ago, but fails by reason of another restriction to qualify for full pay retirement. Ten years continuous service as a Federal judge is required preceding the seventieth birthday, so the head of the bench will not be eligible until July 7, 1931, the tenth anniversary of his appointment.

Every chief justice since John Marshall to Taft has died in office, proving their appreciation of the position, and of these only Salmon P. Chase failed to reach the age of 70. The longevity apparently guaranteed to all who achieve the eminence is shown by the fact that the ten chief justices in the history of the court have averaged fourteen years in that post.

FEW QUIT BENCH

Search of the records discloses that the instances also are few of associate justices relinquishing their positions while their health remained, and only two ex-justices now are living. They are Charles Evans Hughes, who resigned to run for the Presidency against Woodrow Wilson and John H. Clark, appointed to succeed Hughes, who resigned in 1922 to devote his efforts to the Nonpartisan Association for the League of Nations.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, now 88, the oldest man ever to sit on the Supreme bench, has twenty-seven years of service in the Federal judiciary to his credit, all spent on the highest court. For twenty years prior to his appointment, he was a justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, including three years as chief justice.

VAN DEVANTER NEXT

Next in point of service, is Willis Van Devanter of Cheyenne, Wyo., who was 70 years of age in April of this year. He was appointed judge of the Eighth Federal Circuit in 1903, and since 1911 has served on the Supreme Court. Justice McReynolds, next in seniority, is ineligible for retirement despite his fifteen years on the Supreme Court, as he is but 67 years old.

Following him is the third of the trio who possesses the requisites to a lifetime vacation at $20,000 annually, Louis D. Brandeis. Like Holmes, a Bay Stater, he is noted for his association with that jurist in numerous important dissenting opinions.

None of the other four members of the court in the order they ascended the bench—Justices Sutherland, Butler, Sanford and Stone—has reached the retirement age, and only one, Justice Sanford, has the required ten years in the Federal judicial service.

Flyer O'Brine's Divorced Mate Sues for $9300

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Bauer of New York, divorced wife of Forest O'Brine, today filed suit against the coholder of the world record endurance championship for $9300 for maintenance and support of their 15-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Bauer says the divorce was granted on grounds of desertion and nonsupport in 1917.

O'Brine had earnings in excess of $16,000 from the flight. He lives here with his second wife.

ESCAPING CONVICT STOPPED BY BULLET

ARIZONA PRISONER FLEES IN TRUCK, BUT GUN SHOTS END CHASE

FLORENCE (Ariz.) Aug. 29. (AP)—After a melodramatic dash for liberty, Frank Williams, serving a ten-year term in Arizona State prison from Maricopa county for robbery, is in the prison hospital here this morning, suffering from gunshot wounds in his leg and back. He is expected to recover.

Williams, a member of a prison crew at the gravel pit, commandeered a truck which had been driven to the pit and swung out on the highway toward Apache Junction.

Prison officials immediately gave chase in a prison automobile, but when only a short distance from the truck they ran out of gas.

John Dixon of Florence continued the pursuit of the truck, which finally collided head-on with a highway road scraper.

Williams made a dash for liberty on foot. When a full charge of buckshot, which hit Williams in the back, failed to stop him, Dixon drew his revolver and brought Williams down with a bullet through the leg.

PARTY IGNORES SHOUSE BATON

Democratic Concert Can't Get in Tune

New England Doesn't Want Him as Keynoter

G.O.P. Trouble Tinkerers Laugh Up Sleeve

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—With all their tariff troubles, it was exceedingly pleasant for Republican leaders to sit back today and note fresh evidence of violent discord in the Democratic national organization and contemplate that, after all, if they have their burdens and face an uncertain future on the tariff issue, the rival party is in a much worse plight.

For the efforts of the new Democratic management to promote party harmony have struck another snag, a serious one, this time in Massachusetts. A powerful faction in that State is attacking the propriety of having Jouett Shouse, chief of party headquarters here, speak at the organization meeting at Boston, September 7, next. National headquarters in Washington, it is charged, has devoted itself entirely too much to expressing the views of the southern wing of the Democratic party, as against those of the North and East.

Feeling along this line has developed so strongly that the Boston Post, the Democratic bible of the Bay State, has felt it necessary to complain editorially that the selection of Shouse as principal speaker at the forthcoming rally is "hardly a happy one."

POST'S COMPLAINT

"Mr. Shouse is personally an attractive, able man," the Post says, "but the course of the national committee under his direction (since Chairman Raskob is temporarily inactive) is not such as to commend itself to Massachusetts Democrats. Under Mr. Shouse's direction, the Democratic National Committee seems to have surrendered almost completely to the southern wing of the party, despite the fact that northern Democrats carried two Republican States in New England, while southern Democrats were handing over four States of the South to the Republican ticket."

It is the Democratic attack on the new tariff bill engineered by Shouse that the Massachusetts Democrats and their organ, the Post, chiefly resent. Massachusetts wants a tariff on boots and shoes and textiles. It is ranged on the industrial side in the big fight of agriculture versus industry.

The Post charges that Shouse, in his continual bombardment of the tariff bill, has taken the side of agriculture altogether. "He selected," the paper continues, "as his tariff spokesman, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the bitterest foe of Gov. Smith in the South, who virtually was responsible for the anti-Smith victory in North Carolina, openly advising the Democrats to bolt. Senator Simmons, a veteran of the Senate, long has been known as the chief Democratic 'tariff-favor grabber' in the Senate and has in the past frequently voted with a Republican majority on tariff bills, after he had obtained what he wanted for his State."

DOWN SOUTH, TOO

Such an attack must make Shouse realize the ungratefulness of his job because it has been only a few days since Virginia Democrats told him and the Democratic national organization to keep out of their State campaign, or, rather, announced that they would not permit them to come in. This attitude on the part of the Democrats of the Old Dominion is easy to understand. The chief issue of the Republican-Cannonite coalition is that of "Raskobism" and it would be suicide for them, under the circumstances, to let the national headquarters set up by Raskob give them aid and comfort.

But now Shouse has to take another one on the chin from the Bay State. Both sides seem to want to kick him around. It would seem to emphasize the futility of his vigorous fight to bring the Democratic party together. It is torn asunder on the tariff, it is rent on prohibition and if it isn't divided on these issues then it finds something else to fall out about.

CRITICISM AWRY

Of course the Boston Post's statement that Shouse made Senator Simmons the Democratic tariff spokesman is out of line. Simmons is the party's tariff spokesman by virtue of his position as ranking Democratic member of the Senate Finance Committee. The fact is that Shouse's hard-working press agents considered it quite an achievement when several weeks' back they succeeded in getting a tariff statement from Simmons. The fact Simmons gave the committee a statement was regarded as a happy sign, for it indicated that at least he had nothing against his party headquarters, any more, and was willing to co-operate in the movement to restore harmony.

And now the leading Democratic newspaper in Massachusetts says in effect that the Democratic party should not play ball with Simmons at all but that it should express the views of the people who voted the Democratic ticket last November. It is true, too, that Simmons does have a habit of getting what he wants in tariff rates for his State. Republicans long have noted this as a favorable sign that the South was being won over to the protection principle.

The Bay State Democrats think they have an excellent opportunity of electing a Senator next year to succeed Senator Gillett and the September 7 meeting was arranged with the view of getting the campaign under way with rousing cheers. But it is a sad commentary on Democratic affairs generally when the Boston Post finds it necessary to lament the prospective presence at the meeting of a national manager of whom the South is wary on the entirely opposite grounds that he is too close to Raskob.

HOOVER ATTITUDE

Meanwhile more definite reaction on the tariff situation is reaching the White House and there are additional signs that President Hoover will shed no alligator tears if the Hawley-Smoot measure finally fails of passage. Newspaper clippings, editorial comment and other expressions coming to the executive office in great heaps show, it is declared by those watching tariff matters for the President, that the country as a whole is not greatly interested and certainly is not wrought up over the tariff bill. Certain sections of the nation such as New England, with its boot and shoe industries, and California with its citrus industry, are keenly anxious about the tariff, to be sure. But at the White House the idea gradually is taking hold that the United States, generally speaking, does not care particularly whether a new tariff bill is passed or not.

If the Hawley-Smoot measure can be driven to passage in the special session or early in the regular December session and if its final form is somewhat more acceptable under the Hoover formula of chief consideration for agriculture, then President Hoover would like to see the bill enacted and he would sign it, probably with a sigh of relief and at the same time a feeling of apprehension over its possible effect on the 1930 elections. But if Congress dillydallies and a stubborn coalition succeeds in an effort to delay action so that the tariff issue will be more potent in next year's campaigns, then Hoover, it is believed, would just as soon the bill was buried for keeps. For he is not convinced, at this time, that the country as a whole really needs tariff revision, or cares much whether it gets it. He still is of the opinion that the revision should be chiefly for agriculture.

WOOED, WED, LOST AND WON

American Heiress Reconciled With Prince Rosso After Spat Over Sicilian's Jealousy

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The American heiress he wooed, wed and then lost has been won again by Prince Domenico Rosso. This was revealed in a cable to Mrs. Edwin J. Clapp of Fifth avenue, mother of the former Amy Clapp, heiress, now Princess di Cerami.

The Prince, descendant of an old Sicilian royal line, and Miss Clapp were married May 1, last, climaxing a romance begun in historic Arcole-Verona, Italy, where the heiress had been studying art.

According to advices from the Palazzo Cerami in Catania, Sicily, the American Princess left stealthily one evening, two months after her marriage, and took the first boat home.

Her royal spouse's jealousy caused the breach, it was said. On her return to New York, July 1, last, the Princess told friends that her husband's flaunting of his former loves also became annoying to her.

His wife had hardly settled herself in the Connecticut bungalow of a friend of her school days, however, when the Prince began a fervent courtship by cable. After six weeks she capitulated.

On the 10th inst. she sailed and rejoined him. Mrs. Clapp said the Prince and Princess cabled her they are on a tour of Europe.

Court Disbars Attorney Here, Suspends Five

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The State Supreme Court today disbarred one Los Angeles attorney and suspended five others from the same city.

Sam H. Robertson was disbarred after he had been found guilty of a charge of using the mails to defraud. Seth B. Smith was suspended for a year, Elmer MacMeader, one year; George C. Watson, three months; Lee R. Taylor, sixty days, and John B. Hubbard, six months, for asserted unethical conduct.

SENATORIAL ELECTION PASSED ON BY WEBB

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Webb today informed Assemblyman Jewett of Hanford, in reply to an inquiry by Jewett, that there will be no State Senator elected in the Twenty-seventh District, in which Kings county is included, during 1930 under the new reapportionment. The incumbent, Senator Young of Los Gatos, will hold over two years until 1932, Webb stated.

The charge struck him in the abdomen.

POWER INQUIRY TO START SOON

Couzens to Call Committee in Few Weeks

Broad Investigation Will be Made by Senators

All Communication Forms Will be Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Prospects of a widespread inquiry by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee into the power industry as well as into all forms of communication is foreseen in the terms of a resolution adopted by the Senate shortly before adjournment last June.

The resolution authorizes the committee to inquire into "the transmission of power by wire or wireless." On the basis of that authority, Chairman Couzens is contemplating a thorough going investigation.

Some surprise was expressed at the Capitol at this feature of the resolution, which was offered by Senator Couzens several months after the committee had begun studying conditions in the radio industry and other modes of communication.

Adopted without debate, it authorised the committee to "investigate the relationship existing between the different kinds of communication services used in interstate and foreign commerce, including radio, telephone, telegraph, and all kinds of wireless and cable service so used, and transmission of power by wire or wireless."

Senator Couzens contemplates calling the committee together about the middle of next month to consider plans for resuming the investigation of a wider scale.

Federal Farm Board Borrows Expert of U. C.

BERKELEY, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) At the request of Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, Prof. Asher Hobson has been granted leave of absence by the University of California for a period of three months, beginning September 1. He is to be borrowed by the farm board to assist in organizing and inaugurating its work in foreign agricultural statistics.

Prof. Hobson has been representing the United States as American delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome since 1922 and recently was appointed professor of agricultural economics on the Giannini Foundation in the college of agriculture at the university.

Arizona Road Builder Killed

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 29. (AP)—H. H. Johnson of San Diego, subcontractor on the construction work of the new Nogales-Tucson highway, was shot fatally through the head this morning as he sat in his office in the construction camp.

Dr. L. B. Pruitt of Tubac, owner of a small ranch, is being held in the Santa Cruz County Jail in connection with the shooting. He denies all knowledge of who fired the shot which ended Johnson's life.

According to reports the two men were in dispute over a $30 water bill said to be owing to Pruitt.

PRISONER HANGS SELF BY WOODEN LEG STRAP

DENVER, Aug. 29. (AP)—W. M. Gibson, a prisoner in the City Jail serving a 100-day sentence, committed suicide in his cell by hanging himself with a strap torn from his artificial leg. He had been returned to the jail after having escaped a week ago. He was serving a sentence for disorderly conduct.

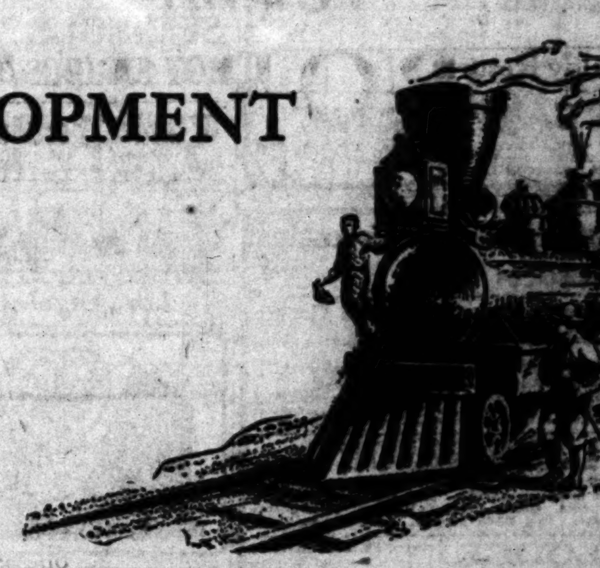
DEVELOPMENT



WITHIN the span of a single lifetime, California has developed from a land of scattered ranchos into an economic empire. Men now living remember the discovery of gold, the Overland Trail, the coming of the Iron Horse.

The development of California has gone hand-in-hand with the development of California institutions.

In 1860 financial pioneers founded a bank that has grown into the Bank of America of California. Sixty-nine years have passed. Today this institution, anchored on a foundation of sound principles, brings unsurpassed banking facilities to ninety-two California cities.

At each Branch, this experience and this strength safeguard the deposits of every customer.

VETERANS WANT NEW HOSPITALS

Foreign Wars Organization Adopts Resolutions

Increased Pay Favored for Military Forces

Restriction of Immigration of Filipinos Backed

ST. PAUL, Aug. 29. (AP)—Additional hospital facilities for disabled veterans throughout the United States were demanded in a resolution adopted today by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their thirtieth annual encampment here.

Adopting the report of its committee on Legislation, the veterans also went on record as favoring increases in pa yfor all of the military forces of the nation, liberalization of rules relating to hospitalization of veterans, and indorsing the Brookhart bill providing for immediate payment of adjusted compensation allowed by the government. The organization also recorded itself as opposing the placing of any time limit on filing claims for disability, and also to permit suit by the claimant on any denied claim.

WOULD CURB IMMIGRATION

Approval also was given a resolution drafted by the California department providing for Congressional action to restrict the immigration of Filipinos. Another resolution was adopted under which veterans employed by the government in civil service would be entitled to retirement after twenty-five years' service, and also would be given credit for military service in their status.

Approving the report of the committee on pensions and soldiers' homes, the convention indorsed the Knutson bill, introduced by Representative Harold Knutson of Minnesota, which would provide increased pension allowance for veterans of the Spanish-American War. Approval also was given to proposals for pensioning the widows of disabled World War veterans, increasing pension allowances for veterans who have been maimed, and increasing pension allowances for veterans of the Civil War.

DRY MOVE TABLED

A resolution sponsored by the New York department asking for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment was tabled by the resolutions committee. Proponents of the resolution announced that they will seek adoption on the floor despite the unfavorable report of the committee.

SKY NOW LIMIT ON TELESCOPES

And They Cost as Much as Does Battleship

Making of Star Detectors Becomes Industry

American Society Meeting Told of Progress

BY JAMES STOKLEY

OTTAWA (Ont.) Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The available funds of the astronomer are the chief limit to the size of telescopes that can be built.

So declared J. W. Fecker of Pittsburgh, in a lecture here in connection with the meeting of the American Astronomical Society. He is the successor to John A. Brashear, one of the most famous telescope makers of the past. During his previous connection with a Cleveland company he designed the seventy-two-inch telescope now at Victoria, B. C., second largest in the world. He now is engaged in completing one only slightly smaller for Ohio Wesleyan University. In this instrument the light from the stars will be collected by a dish-shaped mirror sixty-nine inches in diameter, so that it will be the third largest in the world. This mirror is being constructed from glass made at the Bureau of Standards in Washington. It is the largest piece of optical glass ever prepared in the United States.

WANT 'EM LARGER

But the astronomers are constantly calling for larger and better eyes with which to scan the heavens and a combination of astronomical and engineering science can supply their wants, said the speaker. Telescopes with mirrors even larger than 200 inches, the size of one now being designed for the California Institute of Technology, can be built, he believes.

Such instruments cost money, however, and the price of a telescope with a mirror several hundred inches in diameter would be many millions of dollars—nearly as much as a single battleship.

With the coming of these giant instruments there has been developed an entirely new method of design and construction. Years ago, a large telescope was mainly a one-man job, so far as design was concerned. The size and relation of the various parts were determined by trial and error, now engineering has entered astronomy, said Mr. Fecker. The maker must design the telescope with all the engineering skill used in planning and erecting a bridge. But the large telescope is comparable to a drawbridge that works with the precision of a fine watch. To achieve this the astronomer, the engineer and the optician must all co-operate, each contributing his special knowledge.

NEW MATERIALS

Many new materials are now available, and must be used in the future, he said. These include such things as duralumin, alloy used in girders for airships, to make moving parts that must be as light and rigid as possible, and new kinds of glass for lenses and mirrors.

Another paper presented to the astronomers by Prof. R. K. Young of the University of Toronto, indicates the improvement that may come in the future of reflecting telescopes. In the reflector, the concave mirror is ordinarily covered with silver to reflect the light to the focus. Though universally used, silver is not ideal. Even when new, it reflects red light better than blue, or the shorter invisible waves beyond, in the ultra-violet. It soon deteriorates, and does so most rapidly in this same blue and ultra-violet region. Yet these are the very waves in which the astronomer is most interested.

Prof. Young made comparative tests of the reflecting power of silver and chromium, a metal formerly rather rare, but now common as one of the chief constituents of stainless steel, commonly used for kitchen knives. When new, he found a chromium surface does not send back quite as much light as silver, but it does reflect all colors equally well and reflects the ultra-violet as well as silver. Furthermore, it does not tarnish, and a coat a year old is as good as new, and much better than silver of the same age. So the same quality that has made chromium of value in peeling tomatoes may help the astronomer solve the secrets of the stars.

Maid Mystified by Auto Gift

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Bridget Parry, chambermaid at the hotel where Arnold Rothstein was shot, has received a mysterious gift of an automobile. Somebody, she doesn't know who, telephoned her to take a look in a certain spot, and, sure enough, there was the automobile.

Bridget was held in jail six months as a witness and then freed.

Col. Roosevelt Reaches Hawaii

HONOLULU, Aug. 29. (AP)—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who headed an expedition into Tibet to collect specimens of animal life for the Field Museum of Chicago, arrived here today from Shanghai with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt said he will go to Washington to see President Hoover before proceeding to Porto Rico, of which he will be Governor.

HOT CLEW GOES TO DOGS

Shades of Rover Stalk When Officers Chase Into Desert to View Mystery Trunk of Bones

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—An officer, the deputy Coroner and deputy District Attorney went scurrying across the desert today to unearth the body of one of Gordon Stewart Northcott's victims from his unmarked grave, two miles south of Adelanto. Behind, vainly trying to keep pace with the officers' car, were the undertakers, who were to have returned the body to San Bernardino.

News of the finding of the unmarked grave was brought to San Bernardino by C. M. Coffin, salesman for the Golden State Milk Products Corporation of Los Angeles who told the Sheriff's office that he saw the grave from the road. There in an old trunk, half uncovered by a cloudburst, Coffin said he saw the bones of a child wrapped in what appeared to be a carpet. Coffin hurried to inform the officers of the mystery.

On the theory that the mystery had been stripped from the disappearance of at least one of Northcott's victims, Deputy Sheriff Farlay Dep. Dist.-Atty. Thompson and Dennis Ralphs, deputy Coroner, hurried into the desert. So positive was Coffin that the trunk contained the bones of a child the officers called the undertakers to follow them to the grave.

But when the officers opened the trunk they found bones, those of a dog, probably a pet whose master gave it a decent burial.

LEAK SEEN IN TEXT OF CHINA NOTE

Shanghai Paper Publishes Purported Refusal to Drop Extra territoriality

SHANGHAI (China) Aug. 29. (AP) The American Shanghai Evening Post today published the purported text of the American extraterritoriality note to China as printed in the Tsingtao Times of the 24th inst.

The American paper flatly stated that it was presenting the "American August 10 note to China in which Washington refused China the desired abolition of extraterritoriality."

The publication has increased belief here that the official text of the note has "leaked out."

C. T. Wang, the Nationalist Foreign Minister, would make no statement, but it was evident that publication of the note had been made against the wishes of the Nationalist government. Minor officials say that if the true note has been published it is in violation of the Nationalist government's understanding that it be held up. (The American note to China was not made public at the time it was delivered in Nanking, but it was "understood" to embody American refusal to abolish extraterritoriality at the present time.)

Pastor Accused in Will Action of Anaheim Man

SAN RAPAEL, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Asserting that Rev. Walter E. Clark, pastor of the Church of Holy Innocence of Corte Madera, had persuaded one of his elderly women parishioners to bequeath him her entire estate, Chester O. Lewis of Anaheim, a nephew of the woman, today filed suit against the minister in the Superior Court of Marin county.

Lewis's aunt, Mrs. Anna M. Wilson, 88 years of age, died the 19th inst. The will that names Rev. Clark as her sole heir was made June 6, last, and filed for probate a few minutes after the suit contesting it was filed.

Lewis, the nephew, and Lulu Allen, a niece, living at Beverly Hills, were bequeathed their aunt's "fond remembrances."

Grape Concern Takes in Fruit Products Group

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Almost immediately following the resignation today of Walton N. Moore of San Francisco as a director in the Federal Fruit Stabilization Corporation, the officers and directors of that body voted inclusion of the Fruit Industries, Inc., into the corporation which was formed to direct rehabilitation of the California grape industry. Fruit Industries, Inc., is a recent merger of the leading by-products organizations throughout the State.

Coincidentally A. R. Morrow of San Francisco, who is chairman of the executive committee of Fruit Industries, was named to the directorate of the stabilization corporation.

BAY CITY'S TREASURER RESIGNS

Thieler Quits Under Fire Following Long Session With Grand Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—City Treasurer John H. Thieler, target of a grand jury investigation centering on irregularities and inefficiency in office, resigned under fire tonight. The resignation was submitted to Mayor Rolph following a five-hour session with the grand jury, another lengthy session with the Mayor and a third with his attorney. It becomes effective Saturday.

Thieler, it has been learned, has admitted to the grand jury that there have been irregularities in his office. He denied any of them is of criminal nature. The District Attorney's office has been instructed to investigate thoroughly and report to the grand jury so that body can determine if prosecution is warranted.

Thieler is said to have admitted freely before the grand jury that he has borrowed thousands of dollars of the people's money for his own use, covering the amounts with personal checks which were carried in some instances for may months as office cash. He admitted further, it was reported, that he had drawn the pay checks of a former secretary and given them to Mrs. Virginia Dorman, not on the city pay roll, and generally termed his nurse. He has been ill for some time.

Hoover Party Leaves Today for Virginia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—A party of twenty-one, including six members of the Federal Farm Board, has been invited by President Hoover to spend the week-end at his Virginia camp on the Rapidan in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The President and his party will leave Washington tomorrow afternoon and will remain over Labor Day, returning to the capital Tuesday morning.

In addition to Mrs. Hoover and the President's son Allan, the party will include Chairman Legge of the Farm Board and four of his colleagues, Commissioners Teague, Denman, Wilson and Williams, and their wives.

Hospital Gets "Ride" Victim

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—A little fellow, swarthy, furtive and fleet, delivered a dead man to Henrotin Hospital last night, and Chicago police have another gang "ride" slaying to solve.

There are five bullet wounds in the body of the dead man, later identified as John F. Bowman, 36 years of age, racketeer and hoodlum. The man who carried Bowman into the hospital apparently believed him to be still alive.

When an interne pronounced Bowman dead the man fled.

RADIO MAY AID FACTORIES

Loudspeakers Installed in Eastern Plant So Workers Can Hear Treats While They Labor

BY MARTIN CODEL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—An experiment to determine whether radio can lighten the routine of factory labor is being conducted at the plant of the Ceco Manufacturing Company, radio tube makers, at Providence, R. I. Twenty-two loud speakers have been installed in various departments for program reception during one morning and one afternoon working hour daily. Efficiency experts are checking the results.

Factory officials say it is too early to estimate the results, but the plan has proved highly popular with the 1000 workers at the plant. In fact, the advisability of offering more hours of such entertainment is being considered to make the final findings more conclusive. The testimony of the factory foreman is that the effect has been to reduce fatigue, which, they say, is conducive to increased production.

PRIOR EXPERIMENT

The first experiment of this kind on record was reported to have proved highly successful as a stimulant to production. About a year ago, radio loud speakers were installed in the plant of the Chair City Upholstering Company of Garden City, Mass., and the president, Nathan G. Ewandter, reported production increased 17.5 per cent during a given period as the result of installing radio.

This plant first was impelled to furnish radio programs to its employees when they balked at working overtime during a rush order season because it was the time of the Presidential campaign. The radio first was tried out at night, and the workers were quite satisfied to remain in the factory and listen to the campaign speeches while at their benches. After election day it was decided to give the factory hands musical programs during the day and a checkup showed the increased production result.

JAZZ PROVES BEST

"We find," Mr. Ewandter reported at the time, "that the best type of music to speed up work is jazz. Speeches tend to slow up workers when they try to catch every word. Some of the employees, however, say that they can work better when listening to classical selections. There is no doubt in my mind that the use of broadcast music to increase production in industry is worth a thorough investigation, though it is obvious that it would be useless in factories where there is noisy machinery in operation."

Several factories have provided radio receiving equipment to enable their employees to listen to music during lunch hours in their rest rooms and gathering places. Many executives have found radio sets valuable in their offices for tuning in stock market quotations offered by certain stations. When he was Secretary of Commerce, President Hoover had a radio receiver in his office to listen to broadcasts of important events occurring during the daytime.

RICHARDSON HAS EAR TO GROUND

Former Governor May be Candidate Again

Plans Depend on Way Things Go, He Declares

Ex-Executive Back Home from European Journey

BERKELEY, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Ex-Gov. Richardson may be a candidate for Governor again in 1930. He returned to his home here today after two months in Spain, France, Norway, Sweden and Scotland, combining exuberance and political gossip in his conversation.

No definite statement, of course, was forthcoming, but it was apparent that he will not pass up the fight if convinced the prospects are sufficiently bright to make the race worth while.

To the direct question, he replied:

"First I must look over the situation and confer with my friends."

Amplifying, he said: "I shall have something to say about politics later. There is no particular hurry now with the next State election a year away. My future political plans depend upon how conditions develop."

That he has his eyes and ears as closely attuned to the situation as usual was evident in his perusal of statements made by Gov. Young in the South regarding the surplus in the State Treasury. The former Governor said he will have something to say about that surplus also "at the proper time."

He admitted his friends have been talking to him about the road back to the gubernatorial chair. A sheaf of newspaper clippings and many letters were brought back with him, the letters urging him to make the race again.

BITERS BACK AFTER SOJOURN

False Teeth Take Long Trip Through City Sewer System

VISALIA, Aug. 29.—The old adge, "truth is stranger than fiction," is exemplified in a peculiar incident here, which also recalls the fairy tale of the tin soldier who sailed through the sewer in a paper boat.

J. R. Aikens's false teeth negotiated the Visalia sewer, were recovered by a city employee and are safely back in their owner's possession.

James Fleming, a city employee, found the teeth and turned them over to the police, who held them with a vague idea that some one might be seeking them.

Aikens, employed on a construction job here, having heard of the find, appeared at headquarters and claimed them.

Inspection convinced Aikens they were his teeth. Now a local dentist is cleaning and repairing them.

MOTHER WHO GAVE CHILDREN AWAY HELD

OAKLAND, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) When police raided a transient rooming-house today, they discovered Mrs. Agnes Bunan, wife of a fruit picker who created a sensation recently by giving away ten of eleven children at a Niles auto camp because of asserted poverty. The eleventh child was ill in a hospital. Mrs. Bunan was booked on a morals charge.

IRRESPONSIBLE AIR SCHOOLS HIT

Action Taken at Cleveland to Eliminate Them

Fly-by-Night Teaching Called Menace to Aviation

Papers Will Be Asked to Bar Advertisements

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (AP)—Radical action to eliminate the "fly-by-night" flying schools which were termed one of the most dangerous drawbacks to a healthy development of aviation was taken today by the flying school committee of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

A resolution authorizing the chamber to investigate and give publicity to its findings in all cases of questionable flying schools reported to it was adopted by the flying schools committee. Newspapers and magazines will receive copies of the reports and will be requested to withhold from publication all advertising of the "fly-by-night" schools.

The committee praised the work of the Department of Commerce in rating flying schools which request governmental approval but it was pointed out the government agency cannot go outside of its licensing and regulatory jurisdiction in the elimination of the questionable schools.

The Department of Commerce requirements for approved schools provide that all airplanes must be licensed by the government and that the instructors be licensed transport pilots. Equipment and landing-fields must meet the approval of the department and ground and flying course must keep certain standards.

PREMIER NEARLY SHOT AS HIS AUTO HITS BUGGY

SOFIA, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—A motor car speeding along the highway between Xinograd and Verna on the Black Sea smashed into the fine team of horses being driven by a choleric factory owner of the town of Sorna.

The factory owner disengaged himself from the wreckage. As the motorist trembled with terror, the villager drew a revolver, shot holes in the tires and gasoline tank of the car and put the last bullet in the windshield, all the while treating the cause of the accident with some of the rarest terms of the expressive Bulgarian tongue.

When the torrent subsided the shivering driver spoke up:

"Are you finished? If so, I would like to inform you that I, whom you have come so near assassinating, am Andre Liepcheff, your Prime Minister."

The villager still was in a daze when the police arrived to take him into custody. The Prime Minister called at the jail and ordered him released, saying he fully appreciated the annoyance of having a motorist tangling with his buggy, having once driven a buggy himself.

JEAN LEE OUT ON BAIL TODAY

Seventh and Last Suspect in Money-Car Case Arraigned

Red Curls Sought by Police Are Black Now

Preliminary Hearing May be Set for October 23

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Arraignment of Jean Lee, seventh and last suspect in the Agua Caliente money-car hold-up and double murder of May 20, last, was postponed from this morning by Undersheriff Oliver Sexton, to allow police to question her. She was taken to the City Jail by the Undersheriff shortly after noon and was fingerprinted at once. Her arraignment took place this afternoon.

She surrendered to the Sheriff at noon yesterday, announcing she understood he was looking for her. She was held in the County Jail overnight.

Prosecutor Oran Muir announced her preliminary hearing probably would be set for October 23, the date to which such hearing of all suspected accomplices has been continued.

The young woman appeared with black hair instead of the red curls police everywhere had been advised to be on the watch for, and said she has been at Long Beach and San Francisco since her sudden departure from San Diego immediately after the hold-up. She denied any direct implication in the crime, confessing merely that one of the bandits, Marty Colson, wounded, went to her for succor. She took Colson to the home of Jerry Kearney, 3559 Valencia Terrace, where later police arrested him and Mrs. Kearney. The arrests led to linking the others accused. Colson and Lee Cochran, who committed the hold-up and shooting, went to prison for life terms. Kearney and his wife, Cochran's wife, Marcell Dellon and the Lee woman, are to face trial as asserted accomplices after the fact.

Bail of $1000 will be provided by Kearney for her release, he told Muir. Kearney, confessed hijacker and bootlegger, has implicated all the others in this calling by his account to the authorities.

Both Dellon and Kearney were at the County Jail this morning in anticipation of the young woman's arraignment. Kearney plans to take her to his home pending trial.

Ranch and Pipe Line Threatened by Brush Fire

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—Burning over more than 1000 acres of grass and brush land within a few hours, a fire of unknown cause last night broke out in San Luis Obispo county near Atascadero and threatened the Eagle ranch of Mrs. Kathleen Peabody McLean and the pipe line of the Standard Oil Company, according to word received here by forestry officials.

More than 350 men were fighting the fire, District United States Ranger Fletcher Hayward reported to the local office. It was burning under control this morning over territory just a mile outside of the Santa Barbara National Forest boundaries. Eagle ranch was threatened, but employees on the ranch succeeded in keeping the flames back.

Workmen of the Standard Oil Company, building a pipe line from Kettleman Hills to the coast, were fighting the fire, which was burning in the vicinity of the pipe line. More than 100 men from towns near by also were on the fire line.

Low humidity and high temperature prevailed in the fire district. A brisk southwest wind was blowing during the afternoon, fanning the flames into the heavy brush territory.

Smoke from the fire was sighted by Figueroa Mountain lookouts, located more than seventy-five miles away.

SELF DEFENSE WILL BE SHOOTING-CASE PLEA

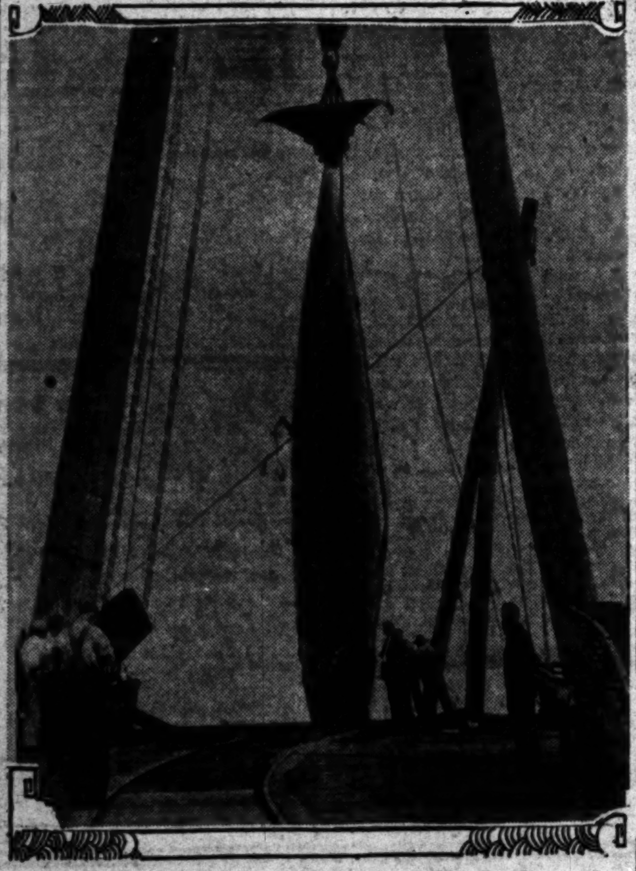
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Self-defense will be the plea of Frank Carillo if prosecuted for the fatal shooting several days ago of his neighbor, Pete Padillo, his attorney, Fred Noon, said today. The District Attorney has withheld complaint until all members of Padillo's family have been questioned.

Padillo's family witnessed the quarrel between him and Carillo in front of their homes in Palm City, it is said. Both men were armed, both fired their weapons, but Carillo claims Padillo drew first, according to Undersheriff Oliver Sexson.

Carillo gave himself up after the shooting.

"WHALE OF A PROBLEM"

Classification Stumps Railroad Men



Interstate Commerce Commission Solves Puzzle

Request for rates on "carload of whale" first in history of freight service; shipping agents appeal to general offices, which in turn refer matter to Washington; marine mammal will now travel over all lines as "Scenery."

VENICE, Aug. 29.—If you were a railroad traffic official how would you decide upon the freight rate for the transportation of a "carload of whale?"

According to the owners of the sixty-ton California gray-back whale now on exhibition here in a steel railroad car on Trolley Way, near the site of the old Venice roller coaster, various railroad attaches were more or less stumped by the request for rates governing this particular shipment.

The whale, unique in the annals of biological exhibits, was killed recently off San Clemente Island, and since has been thoroughly preserved with more than 6000 gallons of special fluid, injected by a crew of marine morticians. It will tour the country in the special steel car it is now aboard.

Since the novel request of the whale's owners for rates was the first in the history of American railroading which involved tariffs for the shipment of a whole whale, it became necessary for all the local agents to communicate with their home offices and they in turn to wire the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington, presenting a petition for a specific rate. The result is that now the whale will move over all railroads as a carload of "scenery" of the deep-sea variety.

Walnut Growers Hold Meeting Near Ventura

VENTURA, Aug. 29.—W. T. Weber, sales manager for the California Walnut Growers' Association, is to address the walnut growers of Ventura county at a field meeting to be held tomorrow at the John P. Thille orchard on the State highway near here.

This address by Mr. Weber is one of several instructive discussions that will be presented at this field day. Mr. Weber will speak on marketing the 1929 walnut crop and standardization with special reference to Ventura county.

Ventura county has on its walnut trees the largest production of any district in California and therefore the marketing problem is of special interest to the Ventura county growers.

The meeting will start at 10 a.m. and there will be a program in the afternoon."

MAYBE OUR MONTROSE BEST KNOWN OF TWO

MONTROSE, Aug. 25.—It is a long distance from Montrose, Scotland, to Montrose, Cal., but just the same mail for one or the other place gets mixed up. Not long ago a letter was mailed in England for the Scotland town. In some manner it found its way to the local postoffice, where the error was discovered. Postmaster Brown has remailed the letter to its proper destination.

Rainfall Record Like Old Times Resort Man Says

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 29.—"We're getting back to old times," declared C. L. Emerson, owner of Idyllwild, resort in the San Jacinto Mountains, today in commenting on the summer's record rainfall. Emerson stated that the Idyllwild rain gauge registered .75 of an inch for yesterday afternoon's precipitation. The Idyllwild precipitation for the last two months is more than 4½ inches, he announced.

The Hemet Water Company also reported an unusual summer rainfall at Lake Hemet in the San Jacinto range. From the 16th to the 27th inst. the total is as follows: The 16th inst., .18; the 19th inst., .04; the 22nd inst., 1.26; the 27th inst., .51.

Company officials declared that the heavy midsummer rains have obviated any danger of water shortage in Hemet Valley.

A heavy rain was experienced yesterday on virtually all the western slope of the San Jacintos. Perris also had showers of unusual proportions and March Field was drenched with ra' that laid the heavy dust more thoroughly than hours of sprinkling, officers said.

The Mecca-Blythe Road, sixteen miles east of Mecca, was badly damaged. The storm water swept out of Box Canyon. Crews were sent out to make repairs and traffic will not be seriously hindered, State highway officials declared.

ICE TRUCK CRACKS BONES OF TRUCKMAN

ONTARIO, Aug. 29.—Charles Codman, Ontario youth, was in Riverside Hospital today suffering from a fracture of the pelvic bone, cracked ribs and possible internal injuries, received last evening on Riverside Road near Wineville, when an ice-laden truck from the Ontario Ice and Cold Storage Company overturned and fell on him.

The truck was driven by Ben Worsham of the ice company. Loose dirt on a detour caused it to veer from the highway and plunge over an embankment. Worsham cried to Codman to leap.

Both men jumped, but Codman was caught under the heavy weight as the truck overturned. Worsham escaped injury.

SUPERVISOR HONORED

SANTA ANA, Aug. 28.—County Supervisor George Jeffrey today received notice of his appointment as chairman of the road, traffic and vehicle committee of the State Association of County Supervisors. The appointment was made by President Charles Todd of San Francisco county.

"SPIRITS" FOUND IN CEMETERY

Camarillo Grave Yard Type Emanates from Bottle, Deputies Discover

VENTURA, Aug. 29.—Groans and moans coming from the general direction of the Camarillo Cemetery last night may have created an impression that there were a number of spirits in that locality, which did not miss the mark greatly.

Spirits, of one sort or another, were responsible for the "spiritual" sounds, Deputy Sheriffs Ransdell and Bliss discovered, when they answered a call and found Jack Hoover, 78 years of age, lying on the ground in an assertedly intoxicated condition.

NEW MOUNTAIN ROAD

Riverside County to Begin Work on Mountain Highway in Near Future

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 29. (AP)—Prison road camp crews early next week will begin work on a $500,000 scenic road surmounting the crest of the San Jacinto Mountains and linking the Idyllwild resort points with the desert "watering place," Palm Springs, county officials announced today.

Construction of the highway is expected to take five years. It will connect with the recently completed Oakcliff-Idyllwild high-gear road, traversing the entire San Jacinto range, which at points is 9000 feet above sea level.

Three miles of the route can be built only from the terminus of this initial stretch onward to the desert side. Surveys are under way for three possible routes. Decision by the Board of Supervisors is expected late this fall on the final route.

Besides comprising some of the most beautiful wilderness lands of Southern California, the area lies contiguous to the San Jacinto State Mountain Park, which eventually will receive $100,000 from the $6,000,000 park fund voted in 1928. Game abounds because of Federal action which established protection there several years ago.

One of the proposed routes would end in the famous national monument, Palm Canyon, and county officials are understood to be favoring this possibility.

BURGLAR ALARM PLAYS 'POSSUM

Nocturnal Animal Raids Bank and Starts to Dig Way Out When Police Mobilize to Capture Bandit; Prisoner to be Arraigned at Restaurant

MONROVIA, Aug. 29.—Sirens screeched, red police lights flashed and with drawn revolvers, a squad of police surrounded the local branch of the Security-First National Bank last night. The burglar alarm gong on the front of the building was clanging and an odd sound inside indicated that the bandits were trying to dig their way out.

There was no time to lose!

Motorcycle Officer Perry Heywood and Patrolman Harry Toker ran to the side door from whence the noise appeared to come.

"Stick 'em up!" they commanded in unison.

Mr. 'Possum didn't fancy the big bipeds who had disturbed his scratching. He waddled hurriedly to the front door and down the stairs into the basement of the Chamber of Commerce Building. A few minutes later, curled in a gunny sack, he was on his way to the Sunshine Restaurant.

The officers deduced that the burglar alarm and the possum had been affected by the weather simultaneously.

AGED MAN REJOINS HIS FIRST WIFE

Body of Octogenarian Who Tired of Life Discovered Prone on Grave

ALTADENA, Aug. 29. — After placing a floral wreath upon the grave of his first wife, who died twenty-seven years ago, Joseph Turner, 85 years of age, drained the contents of a small brown bottle, dying a few moments later, the local Sheriff's substation reported today.

The body was found early this morning lying across the grave in Mountain View Cemetery. In one hand was the small bottle, believed to have contained poison. The other hand lay outstretched toward the wreath.

Harold Bergman of 1524 Atchison street reported that he saw the old man wiping his eyes with a handkerchief in the cemetery late yesterday, but it was seven or eight hours later that the body was discovered by George B. Brown, cemetery caretaker.

Deputy sheriffs who were called ordered the body taken to the Wendell P. Cabot mortuary.

Mrs. Anna Turner of 2865 Nina street, Pasadena, Turner's second wife, reported that her husband visited her yesterday afternoon to tell her that he was going to rejoin his first wife, Mary Turner, who was buried in the cemetery in 1902. Mrs. Anna Turner asserted that Turner had threatened to take his life because of worry over ill health.

She asserted that she telephoned the Pasadena police and that they searched beneath the Colorado-street bridge on the theory that Turner might have planned to leap to his death.

In an effort to determine the nature of the poison that the aged may is believed to have taken the bottle was taken to the county Coroner's office where a chemical examination will be made tomorrow.

AGED NATIVE SON OF CALIFORNIA PASSES

REDLANDS, Aug. 29.—Miguel Ellis Bermuda, for sixty-three years a resident of this section, a native son, born in San Bernardino, died on his ranch in San Timoteo Canyon today. He has lived on the ranch most of his life and has seen Redlands develop from sagebrush hills to a city of more than 20,000.

Bermuda has been a widower for many years. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Vivian O. Payson, and a son, E. E. Bermuda, who lives on the ranch, also six sisters living in the county and one brother in San Bernardino.

Funeral services are to be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. and interment will be in Hillside Cemetery.

WORKMAN KILLED IN DITCH CAVE-IN

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—Crushed under tons of earth when a ditch in which he was working at the campus of the University of California at Westwood caved in, James Simms, 50 years of age, 1415¼ Eleventh street, Santa Monica, was dead when fellow-workmen released him thirty minutes later shortly before 11 a.m. today.

Several other men narrowly escaped the same fate. The accident is the first fatal one to occur on the Westwood campus.

Simms was employed by Lohman brothers, plumbing contractors with offices at 232 South Spring street, Los Angeles. He is survived by a widow and stepson. The body was removed to the Price-Daniels funeral parlor, Sawtelle.

Preliminary investigation by police indicated that the trench was not adequately timbered.

Athletic Coach Not Guilty of Misdemeanor

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Barkham Garner, 26 years of age, one-time prominent athlete and student body president at San Diego State College and present assistant athletic coach at that institution, was found not guilty of disturbing the peace by Judge Claude L. Chambers in Police Court today following charges made by two young married women that Garner had followed them in his car for a considerable distance Monday night.

Judge Chambers declared himself satisfied that Garner had accosted the women but said that some doubt existed in his mind if merely asking them to take a ride constituted disturbing the peace. It was not an aggravated case, the judge stated in summing up and he took into consideration the weight of good character testimony offered by numerous prominent citizens and friends of the defendant.

The two women, Mrs. J. Grant and Mrs. F. L. Murray, testified that Garner had followed them from First and Broadway to Ninth and Market on the night in question.

Ontario Growers Plan Marketing

ONTARIO, Aug. 29.—Grape growers and shipper members of the sixteenth district advisory board of the California Vineyardists' Association will gather at Ontario Chamber of Commerce tomorrow at 2 p.m. to lay final plans for marketing the great grape crop which is now nearly ready for harvest.

Allen Thompson, district manager of the C.V.A., is expected to be here from San Francisco to outline to the growers and shippers how the Grape Stabilization Corporation plans recently adopted, will function.

As United States Prohibition Commissioner Doran has made a plea to the growers and shippers to guard against sending their grapes into channels where they might be used in violation of the national prohibition laws, it is believed this request will be discussed by the local growers.

A few shipments of grapes have already been made out of the district, but the general crops have not matured sufficiently for shipment yet.

ART WING PLANNED FOR CITY'S LIBRARY

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—Construction of an art wing for the Santa Barbara Public Library is to be started by Charles E. Hubbell, contractor, next week, it was announced yesterday. Hubbell was awarded the contract by the trustees of the Faulkner Memorial Fund, through which the addition was made possible. Myron Hunt is the architect for the wing.

It is to be built on the west end of the library and will contain an art gallery, 35x63 feet, a room for prints and another for pictures, in addition to a storeroom.

The new addition will be constructed in keeping with the wing on the east side of the main building. It is planned to have the wing completed before the first of the year.

JUNIOR COLLEGE TO OPEN AT LANCASTER

LANCASTER, Aug. 29.—When school reopens on September 10, next, a junior college course will be started in the local high school, it is announced. Two years of accredited college work will be offered. Twelve teachers are listed in the college, headed by Miss Lois Bennink, with Claude N. Settles as dean. Alterations have been made in the high school building during the summer in order to make room for the new class courses.

DR. E. R. THOMPSON CALLED

Illinois Man Choice of Pasadena Congregationalists for Pastorate; Invitation Favorably Considered

PASADENA, Aug. 29.—Dr. Edward Archibald Thompson, pastor of the La Grange (Ill.) First Congregational Church, and one of the leading Congregational ministers in the United States, has been called to accept the pastorate of the Pasadena First Congregational Church, it was announced today.

Decision to invite Dr. Thompson is the culmination of several months of effort to find a suitable successor to Dr. Daniel F. Fox, former pastor, who resigned recently after occupying the pulpit of the local church for more than twenty years. Applications from thirty ministers from all parts of the country were received by the pulpit committee, which included Fred M. Wilcox, chairman; Judge Edwin F. Hahn, Mrs. Leon C. Brockway and F. L. S. Harman.

Dr. Thompson has not accepted the call officially, but he has written that he considers the proposed move to California very favorably.

He became pastor of the La Grange church in 1923, going there from the First Congregational Church of Quincy, Ill., the oldest of the 328 Congregational churches in Illinois.

Born at Caseville, Mich., about forty-five years ago, he received his degree of bachelor of philosophy from Alma College, Michigan, afterward doing post-graduate work at Edinburgh University, Scotland.

During the World War he did Y.M.C.A. work at March Field, Riverside, becoming acquainted with Southern California at that time.

Man's Last Words Tell of Scenery from Park Bench; Another Body Found

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—Bay District police were today confronted with the problem of identifying two suicides whose bodies were discovered in the last twenty-four hours.

The latest of these, the body of a man between 40 and 50 years of age, was discovered by Bert Kenaston, 123 Georgina avenue, on a bench in Palisades Park, overlooking the ocean. Beside him was an automatic pistol, a bullet from which had passed through his head. He had tattooing on his hand, was moderately well dressed, wore a sandy moustache, and was slightly bald.

The following note was found in his pocket: "Six-twenty p.m. Wonderful! The sun has just now dipped behind the Malibu hills. A beautiful scene—At northern end of Palisades, overlooking canyon.—7 p.m. Getting dark fast now. The Malibu hills toned to a misty line and lights twinkling everywhere. A lovely setting. 7:30 p.m. It is now dark. Good-by and bless the three of you."

The body of another man who died probably by his own hand was at the Nolan funeral parlor in Venice, where it was removed after being taken from the surf near the Venice pier.

A possible clew in the case was provided by Robert Gill and Edward Lawrence, employees at a pier concession, who brought a suitcase to the Venice Police Station containing several stationary engineer's licenses issued to M. B. Martin of Chicago. On viewing the body, they identified the dead man as the one who left the suitcase several days ago.

They said that the man appeared to be under the influence of liquor when he left it. Police were communicating with Chicago authorities.

A wallet bearing the name of J. M Grant of Burlington, J. J., was also found in the suitcase.

Mission Fund Gets Prompt Aid

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Twenty-four hours after A. V. Mayerhofer cabled the mother house of sisters in Europe that the San Diego Advertising Club had voted to sponsor the campaign for the restoration of old San Diego Mission and that a San Diego newspaper had subscribed $1000 to the fund, a reply was received ordering a check for $25,000 to be contributed to the fund.

At the close of the Ad Club's regular meeting yesterday, Joseph E. Dryer, president, called a meeting of the committee to make plans for the subscription campaign. Mayerhofer informed the committee that he has in the restoration fund a total of $36,000, which includes several pledges that will be paid immediately. He also announced that the Sisters of Nazareth and Bishop Cantrell had assured him that if the additional $15,000 is raised through the efforts of the Ad Club, the old mission will be restored and maintained by the Sisters of Nazareth.

Valley "Cukes" Grading High

NORTH LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29. George B. Williams, manager of the Heinz plant here, says that 70 per cent of the cucumbers coming to the plant are grading No. 1, and that this is the best showing in years at any of the many Heinz plants. Cucumbers have been slow in maturing in this section, which is the old Zelzah area and famous for its cucumber fields. The plant here will be kept busy until September 15, next. Scores of tons of the cucumbers are pickled here and then sent in large casks in carload lots to the Heinz refineries where they are used in all of the fifty-seven varieties. Hundreds of persons are employed picking cucumbers in this area.

BANDIT PAIR HOLD UP INN PROPRIETOR

PASADENA, Aug. 29.—Held up by two young gunmen early today, A. N. Manos, proprietor of the Colorado Inn, 341 East Colorado street, was robbed at the point of a revolver of $85 in currency and a certified check for $100.

Manos and a waitress were alone in the cafe when two roughly dressed men entered shortly after 1 a.m.

Sensing that something was wrong, Manos reached for a hammer to defend himself, but raised his hands when one of the bandits stuck a revolver in his ribs and whispered: "Don't do any comics or I'll pull the trigger."

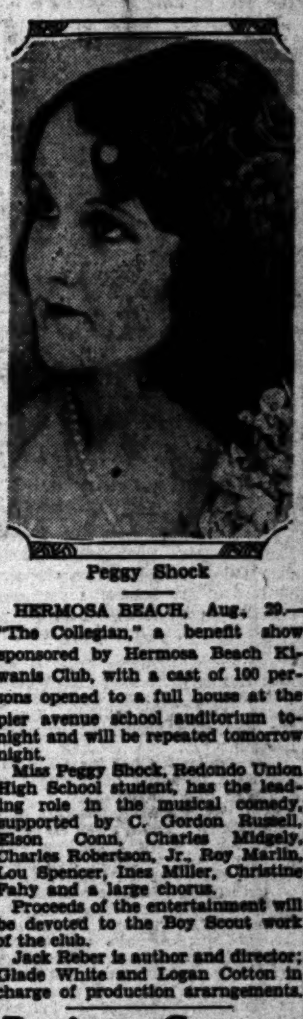
The other robber scooped out the currency and check from the cash register and ran from the cafe after warning Manos and the waitress to "keep still for five minutes!" Good descriptions were obtained, according to the police.

RAID OF EL MONTE HOME BRINGS ARREST

EL MONTE, Aug. 29.—Chief of Police L. C. Burdick together with officers R. E. Foell and Jake O'Bannon early today raided the home of Andrew Lopez south of this city and seized a quantity of whiskey, wine and beer. They arrested Lopez on a charge of illegal possession. He pleaded guilty before Judge F. G. Wilson this morning and was fined $300.

Chief Burdick said they found two "saps" and a butcher knife under Lopez' pillow.

MAKES HIT IN MUSICAL COMEDY



Peggy Shock

HERMOSA BEACH, Aug. 29.—"The Collegian," a benefit show sponsored by Hermosa Beach Kiwanis Club, with a cast of 100 persons opened to a full house at the pier avenue school auditorium tonight and will be repeated tomorrow night.

Miss Peggy Shock, Redondo Union High School student, has the leading role in the musical comedy, supported by C. Gordon Russell, Elson Conn, Charles Midgely, Charles Robertson, Jr., Roy Marlin, Lou Spencer, Ines Miller, Christine Fahy and a large chorus.

Proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the Boy Scout work of the club.

Jack Reber is author and director; Glade White and Logan Cotton in charge of production arrangements.

Business Course Versus Athletic Equipment Fight

SANTA ANA, Aug. 28.—Whether a business course in high school is more essential than athletic equipment, was argued at a meeting of the Santa Ana Board of Education here last night. Herbert L. Miller, member of the board, charged that the educational courses at the high school were being curtailed by the trustees because of a lack of funds, but that there was very little curtailing in the purchase of athletic equipment.

Miller referred to the suggested purchase of a book-keeping machine. The machine would cost several hundred dollars and, according to other members of the board, the school does not have sufficient funds to make the purchase.

The statement precipitated a general going over of the financial situation. Miller declared that in his opinion the book-keeping course was absolutely essential. He stated that local business men are having difficulty in finding competent persons to operate the machines, which the now in general use, and said he believed the course would be of great value in the high school. He pointed out that two weeks ago the board of education spent $300 to pay a student body bill for athletic equipment, and he then recommended that some other items on the school budget for the coming year be eliminated to allow the purchase of the machine.

Other members of the board agreed that the book-keeping machine was needed and the budget committee was asked to review the budget again in an effort to pare some of the proposed expenditures.

UPLAND PURCHASES WATER-BEARING LAND

UPLAND, Aug. 29.—A three-acre tract of land on Eighth avenue below Ninth avenue was purchased today by City Council in order to make room for the city's proposed water expansion program.

The city yards are to be located on the new tract and a reservoir is to be built on the site to care for water from a new well sunk on Sixth street.

The new well is flowing heavily and steadily, assuring the city of a greater supply for domestic and irrigation purposes.

WORK ON MOUNTAIN CUT

NEWHALL, Aug. 24.—The big cut through the mountain near here for the Weldon Canyon road is nearing completion and work is going on at the last "lift" of the 185-foot depth. It has not been settled yet whether the important route will be opened as a dirt road or kept closed until it is paved. This is to be announced soon.

SEPARATED BY DEA

Young Aviator and Father Close Kept House Together

SOUTH PASADENA, Aug. 29.—With the death of Eugene E. Drury, 22-year-old aviator, who crashed while he was stunting at a low altitude, son and father were separated.

Young Drury and his father, C. G. Drury, employed in Los Angeles by the Bekins Van and Storage Company, kept house together in a bungalow court at 1719 Fremont avenue. Mrs. Drury died several years ago, and since that time the father and son had been inseparable, according to Mrs. Mary Schmuck, bungalow court manager.

Informed of the tragedy by reporters, Mrs. Schmuck exclaimed, "It will kill the boy's father!"

"They were more like brothers and took turns doing the cook-

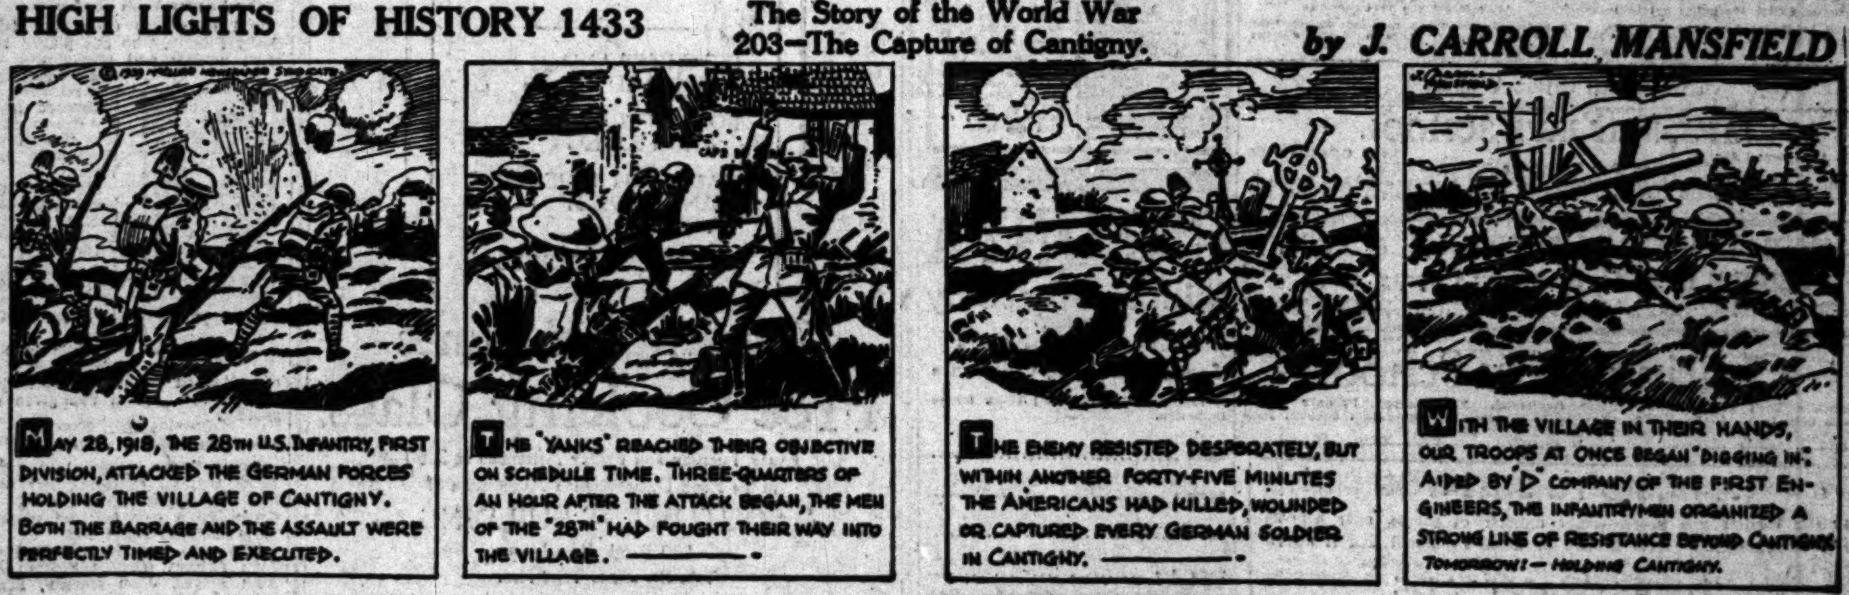
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



MAY 28, 1918, THE 28TH U.S. INFANTRY, FIRST DIVISION, ATTACKED THE GERMAN FORCES HOLDING THE VILLAGE OF CANTIGNY. BOTH THE BARRAGE AND THE ASSAULT WERE PERFECTLY TIMED AND EXECUTED.

THE "YANKS" REACHED THEIR OBJECTIVE ON SCHEDULE TIME. THREE-QUARTERS OF AN HOUR AFTER THE ATTACK BEGAN, THE MEN OF THE "28TH" HAD FOUGHT THEIR WAY INTO THE VILLAGE.

THE ENEMY RESISTED DESPERATELY, BUT WITHIN ANOTHER FORTY-FIVE MINUTES THE AMERICANS HAD KILLED, WOUNDED OR CAPTURED EVERY GERMAN SOLDIER IN CANTIGNY.

WITH THE VILLAGE IN THEIR HANDS, OUR TROOPS AT ONCE BEGAN "DIGGING IN". AIDED BY "D" COMPANY OF THE FIRST ENGINEERS, THE INFANTRYMEN ORGANIZED A STRONG LINE OF RESISTANCE BEYOND CANTIGNY.

TOMORROW!—HOLDING CANTIGNY.

ILLINOIS CARS LEAD VISITORS

Ohio and New York Next in Point of Numbers

All-Year Club Shows Iowa Ranks Eleventh

Coast and Near-by States Not Counted as Test

Residents of Illinois outnumber those of any other eastern State in the crowded and continuous procession of pleasure motorists visiting California, according to an announcement of the All-Year Club.

Texas, Ohio, New York and Michigan follow in rank of automobile travelers into the State from territory east of the Pacific Slope, it was revealed by a check of nonresident auto permits issued by the State Motor Vehicle Department.

Only the four neighboring commonwealths of Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Colorado sent more motorists to California last year than Illinois, while Iowa, the traditional source of a great portion of California visitors, actually ranked eleventh in number of permits.

All-Year Club officials expressed surprise at the high ranking of New York, pointing out than an automobile journey from the Empire State means a minimum round trip of close to 6000 miles.

The list of the thirty leading States in rank of visitors' permits issued, follows:

Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Colorado, Illinois, Texas, Ohio, New York, Oklahoma, Iowa, Kansas, Utah, Missouri, Idaho, Minnesota, Indiana, Nevada, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Montana, Wisconsin, New Mexico, New Jersey, Florida, Wyoming, South Dakota, Arkansas, North Dakota and Massachusetts.

Inmate of County Farm Ends Life at Wife's Grave

After spending a day in meditation beside the grave of his wife, who died twenty-seven years ago, Joseph Turner, 85 years of age, and a patient at the Los Angeles County Farm, ended his own life some time Wednesday, according to reports filed by deputy sheriffs yesterday. The body was found Wednesday evening in the Mountain View Cemetery by Lloyd F. Atterbury of 3102 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena.

A small bottle labeled poison found beside the body caused officials to believe that the man committed suicide.

The investigators reported that Turner had left the county farm Wednesday morning after having obtained three days' leave of absence. Later in the day he was seen by passers-by sitting beside his wife's grave, holding his face in his hands. A few hours later Atterbury discovered the body.

BANK OFFICIAL WILL ADDRESS LIONS' CLUB

MONKEY KILLED WHEN IT ATTACKS CUSTOMER

A pet monkey is dead and Ralph Steele, 22 years of age, of 345 West Eighty-second street, is in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a severely bitten leg as the result of an encounter between the two yesterday in a note on South Broadway near the man's home.

For no known reason the simian, which police assert was the property of B. Scates of 8215 South Broadway, set upon Steele suddenly as he entered the store to make a purchase. Fastening its teeth in his left thigh, it refused to let go, despite several desperate slaps delivered by Steele and the storekeeper. While Steele yelled with pain a police call was sent to the Seventy-seventh-street division. When officers arrived they found the monkey had transferred his hold to the region of Steele's calf.

Outnumbered with the arrival of the police Jocko let go and, chattering and screaming viciously, sought safety on the top of a telegraph pole. The police then brought a sawed-off shotgun into play and that brought the monkey down, dead.

Police Surgeon Carey reported Steele's wounds may prove serious.

OVERHEAD WIRE PERIL DENOUNCED

Near Crash of Zeppelin Brings Demand in Council for Ground Conduits

A resolution designed to eliminate the high-tension electric line menace from the vicinity of airports, brought about by the near-disaster Tuesday morning last when the Graf Zeppelin left the Municipal Airport, was introduced in Council yesterday by Councilman Randall. It was referred to the Public Utilities Committee.

At present an ordinance exists which requires the placing underground of high-tension lines at the rate of two miles per year. Randall's resolution calls for the repealing of this ordinance with another taking its place making the grounding of the wires mandatory. He called attention to the fact that these lines surround the city's airports. He also said that the Department of Water and Power has grounded 9000 feet of lines in the San Fernando Valley, and that the telephone corporations recently have started grounding their wires in that vicinity.

More Seized as Theft Suspects

As the result of questioning Conrad Bayas, arrested Wednesday while a police dog held him captive in a garage behind an apartment-house at 123 South Figueroa street, Detectives Lieutenants Ennon and Doran yesterday took in custody two other men on suspicion of burglary. They gave their names as Martin Nochi, 20 years of age, of 262 North Flower street, and Vincente A. Parr, 25, of 456 Centennial street. According to the officers, both are suspected of aiding Bayas in a series of recent petty daylight burglaries in the central district.

Bayas was apprehended when Storm King, pet police dog belonging to Marcus Munk of 911 Diamond street, chased him into the garage. Returning to his home, it is asserted, Munk surprised Bayas on the premises. Bayas fled and Munk loosed the animal, commanding him to pursue. The chase led to the street, up several flights of the neighboring apartment-house, down a fire escape and into the garage.

FILMS MADE IN MANY TONGUES

Universal Changes Dialogue to Suit Country

Eddie Cantor Has Role in Paramount Revue

"Battle of the Ladies" Will be Made in Spanish

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Pioneering another enterprise, as it has done before, Universal is going ahead and making talking pictures in foreign languages, it became known yesterday.

"Broadway," has already been made with German dialogue, and "Show Boat" is getting under way in the same tongue. In most of the talking scenes, of course, German has merely been substituted for English, but some of the scenes in which it was impractical to do this, have actually been remade.

We hear that Paul Kohner is supervising these foreign-language films.

It is likely that Universal will make foreign-language films abroad, with most of the production to take place in Berlin.

Not only are "Broadway" and "Show Boat" to be made as German talkers, but a number of originals for the foreign market alone are to be made in German; and already a number of short-reel subjects are being produced at Universal City.

EDDIE CANTOR WILL PLAY LASKY ROLE

EDDIE CANTOR

Neither Flo Ziegfeld nor any other power seems able to keep Eddie Cantor out of talking pictures, now that his New York show, "Whoopee," has closed.

It is with Paramount that Eddie has thrown his fortunes. He is to appear in "Glorifying the American Girl," which is being produced under the personal supervision of Florenz Ziegfeld, and most of the sequences of which are finished.

Under the title, "Cheap Charlie," the Cantor skit is a part of the big stage revue which is presented in the above-named production. In it Cantor shares stellar honors in the revue-within-a-revue, with Halen Morgan and Rudy Vallee, each of whom presents a distinctive musical number. Lew Hearn, who played in the original stage presentation, and who collaborated with Cantor in writing the skit, supports the star.

"Glorifying the American Girl" has Mary Eaton as its lead in the title role, and heads a cast which includes Dan Healy, Edward Crandall and Olive Shea.

Novarro Film in Spanish

RAMON NOVARRO

It is likely that Ramon Novarro's current starring vehicle, "Battle of the Ladies," will be made in both Spanish and English versions, it was learned yesterday.

The story has to do with the days of Napoleon, and is the sort of romantic film which the Spanish people love. Moreover, Novarro is becoming exceedingly popular in Spain.

Novarro himself has written a Spanish serenade song for the picture, and has also made the English translation.

Rogell Directs Empey Story

Just as soon as Al Rogell finishes "Painted Faces," starring Joe E. Brown, for Tiffany-Stahl, he will start work on the direction of Guy Empey's war story, "Troopers Three."

It would seem that Guy Empey should rival Lawrence Stallings in the writing of war stories, inasmuch as he spent several years at the front in the World War, and especially as his "Over the Top" was one of the sensational hits, both in fiction and pictures, of the actual war days.

The picture is to be made at the Presidio in Monterey.

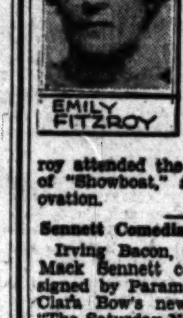
Tiffany-Stahl means to make "Troopers Three" one of the specials of the coming year. Besides the supervision of Empey himself, Capt. Blount and Col. Robert Finch also will supervise.

Carroll Nye Wins Fine Role

There's just no stopping that clever juvenile, Carroll Nye. Now he has won the excellent part of Johnny Sprigg in "The Bishop Murder Case," which has just started at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios under the direction of Nick Grinde.

Nye comes to M.-G.-M. from excellent work in "The Squall," "The Girl in the Glass Cage" and "Light Fingers."

Emily Fitzroy With Us Again



EMILY FITZROY

Full of stories about her trip, Emily Fitzroy, who has played the cruel mother and step-mother in many pictures, has returned to Hollywood from a five-months' tour of England, Scotland and Wales.

Miss Fitzroy's last two pictures before leaving Hollywood were "The Showboat" for Universal and "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" for M.-G.-M.

While in England Miss Fitzroy attended the premiere showing of "Showboat," and was given an ovation.

Sennett Comedian With Lasky

"Greene Murder Case," at Paramount, Solved in Engrossing Style

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

A marvel of compact story-telling, "The Greene Murder Case" reached the screen of the Paramount Theater yesterday, as the second in the series of filmed Philo Vance detective novels. Few talkies have had the benefit of such concise, interesting dialogue; "The Greene Murder Case" will repay study as an example of the intelligent application of voices to the narration of a mystery yarn. It is well written, well directed and well played.

Although nearly the entire picture takes place in the old Greene mansion, one is never conscious of a let-up in the action. Frank Tuttle, the director, has imbued his camera with something of the spirit of mathematical pursuit which governs the movements of that sly bird, Philo Vance. Vance is everywhere; he says little, sees much, and is always in at the death. In the present vehicle, the obituary list grows steadily; a man's home may be his castle, but that of the Greenes is a figurative casket.

Chester Greene, poor fellow, is the first to go. They find him with a flabbergasted look on his face, as though his eyes couldn't believe what they saw even as death streaked upward from his heart. Ada, his sister, received a wound in the back three minutes later, but it proved superficial. Rex, again, was completely done in with neatness, dispatch, and a .32-caliber bullet. Mrs. Greene—but is it quite fair?

One of the striking assets of this exciting melodrama is the absence of theatricality from most of its scenes. The feeling of horror which envelops the spectator possesses a tenfold pregnancy because it spreads its tentacles so quietly—sneaking up, as it were, on him. It is evident that Mr. Tuttle's method does not consist in showing a series of close-ups of white, screaming faces, punctuated with pathetic attempts at humor by a silly-ass Englishman, a stuttering housemaid or a negro gone pale with fright. If there is any fault at all to be found in the film, it is with the stretches of silence which now and again catch up the listener sharply to the realization that he is watching something mechanical. I doubt, indeed, if the sound movie will ever extract the drama from a vital pause which a stage play does. We are too accustomed to music with our shadow thrills, for one thing.

The members of the cast are so uniformly excellent that it is difficult to single any one out for extended praise. William Powell, of course, as Philo Vance dominates the proceedings; and Florence Eldridge, Ulrich Haupt, Augusta Burmeister, Gertrude Norman, Jean Arthur, Brandon Hurst, Morgan Farley, E. H. Calvert, Eugene Pallette, to name most of the others, reveal their capabilities in support.

S. S. Van Dine's book furnished the inspiration for "The Greene Murder Case," and Bartlett Cormack the adaptation and dialogue.

A two-reel Jack White comedy, "Look Out Below," is amusing, although its talk hinders rather than helps it. A display of peevishness in one scene by a waiter, enacted, I think, by Monty Collins, is one of the most unexpectedly funny moments the screen has given us. Stephen Roberts directed, and the cast includes Raymond McKee, Thelma Todd and Jerry Drew.

Lillian Roth in a singing subject, a sound cartoon and Paramount News follow the Greene inquest at the Paramount.

ROMANCE OF MIDSUMMER MIRRORED

Walter Leads Schumann Symphony; New 'Cellist is Presented

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The symphonic program at the Hollywood Bowl last night drew another record-breaking crowd and Bruno Walter received a standing ovation at its conclusion. Without doubt he is the greatest conductorial hit in years. It is with very real regret that one hears he is not planning to return again to America, either for orchestral or operatic conducting. He is an idol in musical Europe and as money is not an object, there is no reason why he should conduct far away from his home, at least the Bowl management has not been able to present any reason sufficiently convincing to him.

A German conductor nearer at hand has been engaged for next season, however, and last night Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish announced the name of Alfred Hertz of San Francisco, as conductor of the first week of the Bowl season of 1930.

The program Bruno Walter selected for his Thursday-night concert was a long one, the night was exceptionally warm and the crowd was rather inclined to move about. Several hundred were kept standing at the gates throughout the Schumann symphony in D minor. From the sides it failed to leave an impression of intrinsic greatness, but it was played with sympathy and taste.

A new violoncellist was introduced to the Bowl in a showpiece of amazing difficulty. Alexander Borisoff played a concerto in E minor by Servais. He displayed a rich and resonant tone and a warmth of spirit which was attractive but the concerto did not have a virtuoso performance. He seemed at ease with the orchestra and his many friends in the audience led the widespread applause. He responded with a small work of his own.

Charpentier's "Impressions in Italy" had a painstaking reading from Bruno Walter and Emile Ferrir, violinist, and Ilya Bronson, violoncellist, played soli with taste and discrimination.

Tonight Bruno Walter opens with the "River Moldau" by Smetana, a favorite of early Bowl audiences and Philharmonic fans of other years. The other Hungarian musicmaster, Dvorak, will be represented by the Carnival overture. Ravel's Spanish Rhapsody will afford modern interest. Norma Gould and her dancers will interpret the Schubert Unfinished Symphony and the Tschaikowsky Nutcracker suite under Sylvain Noack's direction.

'MASQUERADE' FEATURES REALISM

There are some extraordinary vital touches to "Masquerade," Russell Birdwell's first directorial effort for Fox, which was unfolded on the screen of the Boulevard yesterday.

Every now and then, Mr. Birdwell, who obviously knows his gentlemen of the press and has observed at close range denizens of the police department at work, projects his magic lantern to astonishing realistic effect.

"Masquerade" could not have been an easy picture to produce. For one thing, the leading male character, Alan Birmingham, not altogether an experienced screen actor, is called upon to portray a dual role. This—in sound. He has been faced with the difficult problem of suiting the exacting microphone requirements at all moments and yet attaining two distinct tonal qualities, two diverse vernaculars in speech.

For another thing, the Louis Joseph Vance light mystery type of story from which the film has been adapted would, to the mind of this reviewer, been far better suited to a more flexible picture of silent motion.

On the whole, the result is credible and a melodramatic picture of good entertainment value has been obtained.

Birmingham as the central figure is a young gentleman about town who discovers, quite by chance, that a clever crook resembles him in almost every detail of face and stature. A pretty girl (Leila Hyams) intent upon obtaining some precious papers by which she may secure the release of her father from jail, becomes involved in a burglary in Birmingham's home in which the crook is also involved.

Birmingham, entranced by her pretty face, endeavors to protect her from justice and in this connection is confused with the crook. There are numerous scenes of mistaken identity, to the embarrassment of all concerned.

It was difficult at times to understand Birmingham. Whether this was due to bad recording, imperfect sound projection or simply mouthing of words is not known. Other than this he was a fairly plausible figure in a tale of such proportions. Clyde Cook as a comic English valet had some good comedy scenes, while J. Farrell Macdonald had the opportunity to prove himself an excellent trouper. Miss Hyams looked very pretty.

A Clark and McCullough comedy, "Medicine Men," reveals this pair of comics at large in a doctor's office.

PANGBORN SIGNS NEW STAR

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has been signed by Franklin Pangborn to appear as guest star at the Vine-street Theater. The young star will lend his talents to the interpretation of a whimsical character, that of the title role in "The Youngest," Philip Barry's comedy-drama. This play, which won the Burns Mantle award when produced recently in New York, will follow Rachel Crothers's farce, "Expressing Willie."

Young Fairbanks, whose rapid strides in the steps of his noted father have said to surpassed the most optimistic predictions, is enthusiastic over his new role, an enthusiasm which is being shared by his friends, who feel that the role is singularly fitted to the young actor's talents.

Franklin Pangborn, in announcing the signing of the young actor, declared that he felt the junior Fairbanks would give one of the outstanding performances of the local dramatic season in the title role of the Barry comedy. He also announced that an exceptionally strong cast is being assembled to support him and that in a few days he would be able to announce the entire cast and the opening date of the comedy.

PLAYHOUSE GIVES COLLEGE MUSICAL

Frothy Presentation of Youth by Community Players is Pleasing

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

If the odor of moth balls clings a trifle persistently even to the title, "Commencement Days," by Margaret Mayo and Virginia Church, Pasadena Community Playhouse takes the bull by the horns, in a modern manner, adorning the same with colorful furbelows in the way of song and sophisticated lyric, and the latest frills in slang.

Youth must be served and Pasadena's younger generation is taking a delighted fling at this rather passe vehicle. Earl Ebby, Pasadenan, contributes the musical score and Catherine Turney, also one of the Pasadena proteges, manages something effervescent and timely in the lyrics. There are some appealing song numbers and catchy choruses, which seem to arouse the enthusiasm of the midsummer audience.

Obeying the lightsome theme of the moment, the play is frothy and zestful. At times it breaks a few aesthetic cannons, but there is the freshness and spontaneity of youth about it. The ineffable luster of the golden hey day is ever present, and at times the frivolously petite chorus dances and sings with a charming vivacity and esprit de corps, especially in the numbers directed by the indefatigable and dynamic Wally Start. By the way, this same miniature comedian sings and dances with a jaunty lustiness, which at all times lends an animation to the ensemble, which the rest of the cast unfortunately just misses.

The plot of "Commencement Days," though strenuously revamped and sturdily licked into musical comedy form, somehow lacks the conviction of modern-day collegians. Despite its debonair and allegro atmosphere created by smartly modern misses and settings, the play limps in spots quite perceptibly. However, there is a bright scintillation of merry patter of which the youthful cast makes the most.

Marion Vale, a recruit from the musical comedy world, is daintily attractive as the belle of the campus, and Erin Clare Colville of the El Monte Community Players displays a talent for dancing and a melodious voice, which, with proper training, might go far. Robert Snyder's mellow and sympathetic voice gives a note of real musical beauty to the performance. Laddie Knudson as the stuttering lover offers further evidence of his dramatic talent. Others giving pleasing performances are Bradley Wright, Ralph Urmy, Betty Jenks, Jane Loofborrow and Sherwood Walgamot.

HILLSTREET WILL SHOW "BIG NEWS"

Film of Newspaper Life Features Carol Lombard, Robert Armstrong

"Big News," Pathe's all-talking film of newspaper life, comes to the Hillstreet Theater Saturday. "Big News" stars Robert Armstrong, features Carol Lombard, and brings a selected cast of prominent talking-picture players together in a story which is marked by action from beginning to end, it is said.

Unlike the greater portion of newspaper stories, "Big News" concerns itself with drama which takes place right in the office of a big metropolitan daily. Banks, a reporter, quarrels with the managing editor, the managing editor is found slain and from this moment thrills and excitement tumble rapidly upon one another. Gregory La Cava directed.

The R.K.O. stage bill to be presented will include Edith Evans and Ray Mayer, Countess Sonia and her "Revue Intimate," the Briants and Cora Green. "Big News" is the last attraction to be shown prior to the closing of the Hillstreet, September 6, when it will undergo a complete change of policy, reopening September 11 with Radio Pictures' musical-sound production, "Street Girl."

COMIC WITH CLARA BOW

Eddie Dunn, tall, rangy comedian who has played in many one and two-reel features, and who had a prominent comedy role in the Clara Bow starring picture, "The Fleet's In," has been signed by Paramount for a new Bow starring vehicle, the all-talking film, "The Saturday Night Kid." A. Edward Sutherland is directing.

FILM REVUE SIMILAR TO "FOLLIES"

Lois Moran, David Percy Essay Leading Parts in "Words and Music"

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

Left-over numbers from "Fox-Movietone Follies" evidently inspired the filming of "Words and Music," the Fox feature showing now at Loew's State Theater—for it is quite obvious that the story (what little there is of it) was written with the one idea in mind of utilizing stage scenes that could not be used in the former production.

Lois Moran and David Percy have the principal roles in a featured cast, but are offered little opportunity to do more than walk through their scenes. The picture opens somewhat inauspiciously, with a male quartet running through the strains of "Sweet Adeline," for no purpose other than to permit three other college students to practice pitching vegetables.

"Words and Music" is quite as nondescript in character as it is in title. It has little to recommend it, aside from its music. The plot might have been jotted down the morning after. It is well cast, however.

Frank Albertson may be credited with the best performance, although the part does not require much real acting. He portrays a likeable college youth, slightly wise-cracking, who carries the sympathy of the audience. Doubtless his popularity will increase after "Words and Music."

The story has a college locale, the action leading up to the night of the annual stage frolic, in which the best number presented by any student wins a prize. Several acts are shown, with Miss Moran taking the lead in two. One is particularly colorful and allows the actress to trip the light fantastic to good effect.

Helen Twelvetrees is cast as the dean of women's pet, and makes her part convincing. Elizabeth Patterson portrays the dean humorously, and Tom Patricola adds a comedy note with his clowning. Others include William Orlamond and Duke Morrison.

Fanchon and Marco's Idea this week is billed as "Columns." Rome and Gaut elicit many laughs for their antics as the featured comedians. Billy Rolls presents some fast acrobatic dancing, and Maxine Evelyn appears with the Sunkist Beauties.

Charley Chase's talking comedy, "The Big Squawk," is a hilarious bit of entertainment and was particularly well received by the audience. Nina Quartaro as his leading lady is both beautiful and vivacious.

The arrival of the Graf Zeppelin is featured in the news reel.

Screen Cowboy Star in Role of Publisher

Ken Maynard, actor and producer, has recently become author and publisher.

He is identified with two new books, which will be out in a few weeks. One bears his name as author and deals with aviation barnstorming days. The other, edited and published by him, deals with early California history.

"Handsprings for Hamburgers" is the title of the volume setting forth the brave exploits of flyers, who earned small livelihoods and gave thrills to thousands of people by their daredevil stunts on circus grounds.

"Men," a novel of early California days around the Feather River region, is being published by Maynard. It was written by a woman lawyer, who submitted it in manuscript form to the star. In addition to acting as the novel's publisher, Maynard purchased the story and will film it early next year.

"Marianne" Has French Locale

"Marianne," the talking, singing and dancing screen musical comedy in which Marion Davies will appear at the Mayan Theater, September 5, in a world premiere, presents the unique spectacle of a talkie liberally peopled with doughboys, yet not strictly a war picture. The story is told in France during the period just after the armistice, when the entire A.E.F. was waiting for the homeward-bound transports.

Naturally they were up to all sorts of mischief and the trio played by Lawrence Gray, Cliff Edwards and Benny Rubin manage to get into a variety of scrapes which, it is said, fill the picture with laughs. Miss Davies as the peppy little French mademoiselle, who is the idol of the entire A.E.F., is said to have her finest comedy characterization. Seven tuneful song hits are introduced during the course of the story, and a male chorus is led by the Rounders and the Cheer Leaders.

Studio Selects Picture Title

After months of research and deliberation, Inspiration has found the perfect title for Henry King's maiden effort in the talking-picture field, it is said. "Hell's Harbor" is the name which received unanimous approval.

The picture is an adaptation by Mme. Fred De Gresac from the novel "Out of the Night," by Rida Johnson Young. The title of the novel having been used before for pictures, stories and plays, necessitated a title switch.

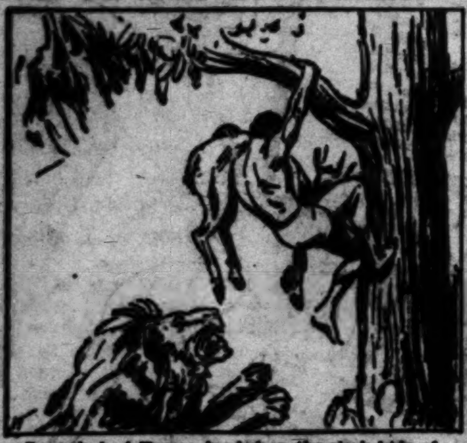
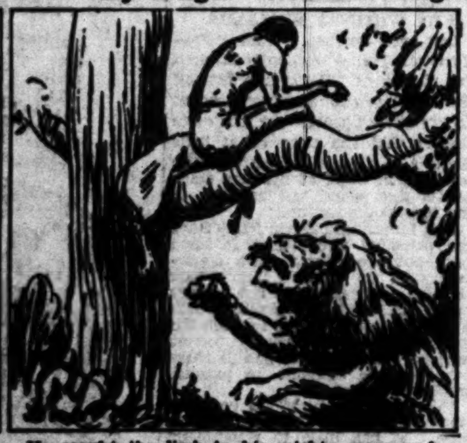
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

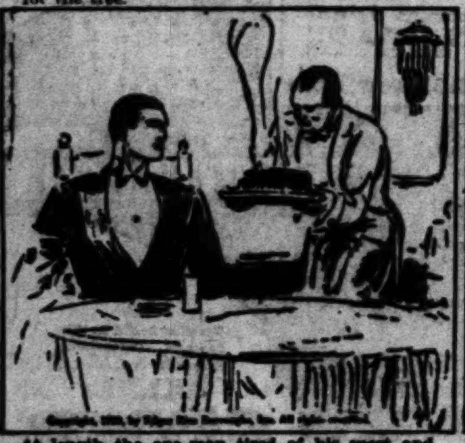
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



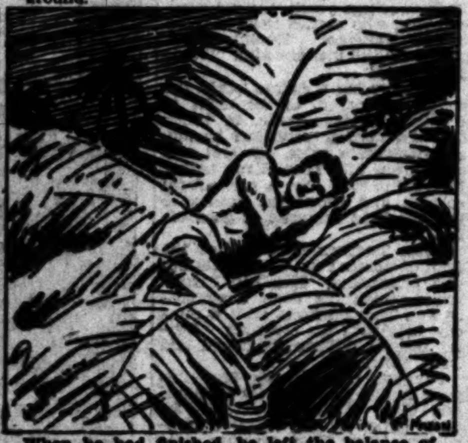
Scarcely had Tarzan landed on the sleek hide of the deer with a force that sent the animal to its knees, than he grasped a horn in either hand. With a single powerful wrench he twisted its neck before the animal was even aware of its merciful fate. Now the lion was roaring in baffled rage close behind him. Like a flash, Tarzan swung the deer across his shoulders and leaped for the tree.



He caught the limb in his mighty grasp and, at the instant Numa sprang, drew himself and his prey out of reach of the lion's cruel claws. There was a thud as the baffled cat fell back to earth. From the safety of a higher branch, Tarzan looked down with grinning face at the gleaming yellow eyes of the other wild beast which watched him so hungrily from the ground.



At length the ape-man tired of his sport and swinging over into the branches of a near-by tree climbed to a dead fork in its trunk. Here, with some twigs, he rubbed up a small fire and cooked himself a juicy steak. Never in the choicest of his exclusive London clubs had food tasted better! Could his fellow peers in the House of Lords have seen Lord Greystoke thus!



When he had finished, he left the balance of the carcass in a high fork of the tree where he had dined. And with Numa trailing below him, still keen for revenge, he made his way back to his tree-top shelter. Here he slept until the sun was high the following morning. The next few days he spent in completing his weapons and exploring the jungle.

The adoption of the code of marketing practices is an effort to bring order out of chaos and to place the industry on a sounder basis, it is declared. The new code provides for the elimination of many of the existing evils.

URGES APPROVAL

"Some of the objectionable practices are, by the mandate of the Federal Trade Commission, now prohibited by the authority of law," continues the editorial. "Other provisions of the code, representing an expression of the industry that certain trade practices are unfair, will become effective through the good faith of the oil companies which subscribe to them.

"The American Petroleum Institute hopes that the whole industry will so subscribe. The Standard Oil Company of California has already publicly announced its approval and adherence to the code. General support of this instrument should greatly reduce the cost of business, which will help the industry to make a reasonable return on its investment, concerning which it is only necessary to cite an authoritative estimate that for the year 1927—the last for which figures are at hand—the return on the oil industry's investment of $10,- was 29-100 of 1 per cent."

Insurance Unit's Income Mounts

Net earnings of the Knickerbocker Insurance Company of New York for the first half of the current year totaled $1,254,517 after all charges including Federal income taxes, equal to $12.54 a share on the 100,000 shares of $5 par value common stock outstanding, against earnings equivalent to $10.59 for the full year 1928, it was announced yesterday by the company. Assets of the company as of June 30, last, totaled $6,779,156, an increase of $1,744,792 since December 31, last. Voluntary reserve for contingencies was increased $500,000 to $1,000,000; surplus to policyholders, $977,286 to $2,956,079. The company started business in 1913 with aggregate capital and surplus of $975,000.

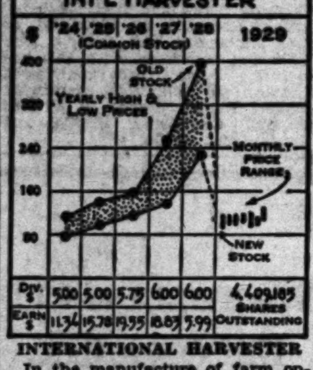
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

In the manufacture of farm operating equipment, International Harvester Company is unquestioned leader, while it is also a large manufacturer of industrial tractors and motor trucks. Some of the main products are agricultural machinery, tools and implements, gasoline and oil engines. Subsidiaries operate iron mines, lumber companies, rolling mills and short-line railroads. The company has subsidiaries manufacturing and selling in the principal countries of the world.

Net income in 1928 established a new high record at $31,526,000, compared with $24,745,000 in 1927. Net income has increased in every year since 1921, and doubled since 1924.

The balance sheet as of December 31, 1928, showed current assets $240,037,917, as compared with current liabilities of $38,963,201.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, none; preferred stock (7 per cent cumulative,) $73,712,300; common stock (no par,) 4,409,185 shares.

Current data: The company is introducing a new corn harvesting machine which cuts and delivers the corn, from stalk to silo, without the necessity of human assistance other than the operator of the machine.

Income of Auto Group Up Shade

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Moderate increases in production coupled with slight aggregate gains in earnings featured reports for the second quarter and first six months of 1929 of eight leading motor companies exclusive of Ford. New high records for earnings in both the second quarter and six months were reported by four companies with three corporations setting new marks for production during the same period.

Chrysler, Packard, Nash and Hudson established record earnings for net profits during the first six months, while Studebaker reported a substantial gain over the like 1928 period. The most striking increase over 1928 records was established by Nash with a gain in second-quarter profits of 139 per cent over the like period of 1928 and an increase of 99 per cent over the six months' earnings figure for last year. Decline in General Motors earnings, however, and the comparatively more substantial decreases in Willys-Overland and Hupp profits bring the earnings record of the eight companies as a whole to approximately the same levels as 1928.

London Market Tone Irregular

LONDON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The market had an irregular tone with activity on a smaller scale. Margarine issues continued buoyant and Talking Machine securities in good demand. International Securities were easier with International Nickel in supply. Textile issues were in good demand and artificial silks steady. Tobaccos had an easy tone. Rubbers were quiet. Oils moved irregularly and the mining list was active and steady with Rhodesians an easy exception. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted around £3 7-8 and Brazilian Traction ordinary around 73.

Gilt-edge division easier. Foreign issues quiet. Home rails irregular while Argentine rails were dull. Canadian Pacifics firm.

PRESIDENT ELECTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) J. A. Bower, until recently vice-president of the New York Trust Company, was elected president and a director today of the Chemical National Company, Inc. Percy H. Johnson, heretofore president, was elected chairman.

M'KEE ANALYZES STOCKS

Investment Trust Head Finds Opportunities for Investor Still Exist in Many Fields

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Long-pull investors in carefully selected common stocks have nothing to fear from the apparent high level of security prices, said Henry S. McKee, president of the American Capital Corporation and Pacific Investing Corporation, in discussing yesterday the principles and policies under which his investment trusts are operating.

The country was never in better economic balance," he pointed out. "Unless some unexpected convulsion occurs there is nothing in sight to throw business out of gear during the remainder of this year and the early part of next year, so far as we can tell now. At this time the earnings of the different lines of business are in excellent relation to each other, and there are no weak spots of importance."

PROFITS AT PEAK

To support his conclusions in part Mr. McKee produced statistics to show that industrial corporations reporting so far for the first half of the year disclosed net profits approximately 35 per cent higher than for the same period of 1928. His information, furthermore, indicates that the last half of the year will round out the best twelve months in business history.

Although prices for stocks of companies operating in various industries may be high compared with past records, the research experts collaborating with Mr. McKee's companies submit data to show that excellent buying opportunities for the pull are still offered in many lines. These opportunities the American Capital Corporation and the Pacific Investing Corporation are acting upon, and the stocks are held until, as Mr. McKee expresses it, "the company loses its preferred position through economic changes affecting the industry, or through internal changes affecting that particular corporation, or through changes in market price, which render its retention no longer desirable."

From the standpoint of his investment trusts, Mr. McKee thinks favorably of the outlook for the agricultural implement companies. The farming interests, he explained, are beginning and will continue to purchase equipment they have done without in the last few lean years. Such expenditures come under the head of operating expenses, and no industry can go very long without maintaining a proper ratio of operating expenses to gross income.

Office equipment manufacturers are also favored by him for the long pull. The expansion of commercial and industrial enterprises; consolidation of small units and the installation of modern office machinery and methods; and new inventions simplifying and speeding up office procedure combine to stimulate a steadily increasing demand for office equipment, as Mr. McKee analyzes the situation. He believes the stocks of the well-situated companies in this field will do much better.

VALUES STILL THERE

Public utility and rail stocks are still undervalued, he believes. There is no reason, Mr. McKee said, to sell the stocks of the strong companies in these fields if the investor has faith in the future of the country and in the kind of public service these companies render. And if there is no good reason for selling these stocks then there is good reason for buying them, as he reasons.

Mr. McKee and his companies are not especially interested in the petroleum industry at this time. While the investment portfolio contains moderate holdings in a few representative oil companies, the stocks are held because the management believes these companies will prosper no matter what troubles the industry has. As to taking a strong investment position in the oils it is Mr. McKee's personal opinion right now that it is too early to estimate the possibilities in current attempts to control surplus oil production.

"Our day-to-day task in carrying on this business," he summed up, "is the incessant study of our portfolio of perhaps 100 different investments for the purpose of ascertaining which one of them is the least desirable to hold, and with the purpose of replacing it with some other investment in whose soundness and future prospects we have greater confidence."

SHELL EXPANDS IN MIDWEST FIELD

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Making a further expansion of the operations in the Shell interests in the United States, the Shell Petroleum Corporation, a subsidiary of the Shell Union Oil Corporation, has purchased the Western Oil Refining Company of Indianapolis. The last-named company operates 213 filling stations throughout Indiana and Ohio, and has forty-five branch bulk stations.

OLD MARK REACHED AT UTAH RAM SALE

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Paralleling the highest price ever paid for a yearling lamb at the local stockyards, a Suffolk stud ram, owned by J. H. Patrick & Son., Ilderton, Can., sold for $2000 at the fourteenth annual ram sale today. The ram was bought by the Laidlaw & Orockie Company of Muldoon, Idaho.

WARREN FOUNDRY EARNINGS RISE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Warren Foundry and Pipe Corporation for the six months to June 30, last, today reported consolidated net income of $123,391, equal to 49 cents a share on 250,000 capital shares as against a net loss of $45,664 in the 1928 period.

REDISCOUNT RATE HOLDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) The New York Federal Reserve Bank today made no announcement regarding its rediscount rate of 6 per cent.

Ticker Tales Heard in Wall Street Rounds

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) There was considerable buying in Continental Can which moved up to a new high ground in today's session, according to gossip in Wall street. The company has been acquiring many well-established companies on highly favorable terms. Present indications are that a new high earnings record will be made this year.

Earnings of the Hudson and Manhattan are again on the upgrade, the street believes, and it is estimated that the company will earn close to $5 a share this year. The territory served by this carrier has been showing almost constant increases in population and in addition is said to have merger possibilities as a result of its strategic position.

Earnings of General Cable are unofficially estimated to be running in the neighborhood of $8 a share. In the first half of this year the company reported earnings equal to approximately $2 a share while nothing was available for the same issue last year. A reserve of $1,150,000 was set aside for shrinkage of inventory with copper metal prices showing a firm tone. It does not appear likely that these reserves will be needed in the near future.

After waiting for a year since the present upward movement started there is a prospect now that patient holders of Otis Steel will likely have the satisfaction of seeing the common stock placed on a dividend basis soon. Early in the year earnings were running at the rate of $6 a share annually but some estimates are now being made that the company is showing earnings at the rate of $7 a share.

Title Company in New Set-up for Expansion

Security Title Company, founded in Los Angeles about four years ago, has taken the first step in an expansion program and its entrance into the title insurance field with the formation of a new company, American Title Insurance Company, incorporated under the laws of California, which will presently acquire the title plant, entire capital stock business, and assets of the Security Title Company, W. J. Galligan, president, announced yesterday.

The new company has been organized with the object of qualifying at the conclusion of its financing with the Insurance Department of the State to write and issue title insurance. In effect it is an expansion of the business heretofore conducted by Security Title Company and its subsidiary, the Land Escrow Department, Inc.

The management and personnel of the new company will be practically unchanged from that of the Security Title Company. Officers include besides Mr. Galligan, Zeno Klinker, first vice-president; Rex A. Klinker, secretary-treasurer; H. V. Hoffman, second vice-president, and G. W. Wilder, Jr., and Ivan McMullin, assistant secretaries.

GARDNER ROYALTIES PAYS DIVIDEND

Checks for the payment of a dividend of 1 per cent to stockholders of record the 20th inst. will be mailed by Garner Royalties, Inc., the 31st inst., the company announced yesterday. The payment of this dividend will increase the total dividends paid to 107 per cent in seventy-six months. The royalty coldings of the concern are diversified to include interests in a number of proven fields with over 250 producing wells, in addition to many drilling wells and well locations.

SECURITIES LOAN TOTAL SHARPLY UP

Reserve Bank Figures for Week Set New High at $6,217,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Loans to brokers held by the New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending the 28th inst. were announced by the Federal Reserve Board as $6,217,000,000, representing an increase of $132,000,000 and setting a new high record.

The previous record was established last week when the loans reached $6,085,000,000. The loans for the week ending August 29, 1928, amounted to $4,235,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

	Aug. 28, 1929	Aug. 21, 1929	Aug. 29, 1928
For own account:	$ 992,000,000	$ 926,000,000	$ 793,000,000
For account of out-of-town banks:	$1,756,000,000	$1,787,000,000	$1,535,000,000
For account of others:	$3,468,000,000	$3,372,000,000	$1,907,000,000

The Federal Reserve Board in totaling the division of brokers' loans adds or subtracts odd thousands of dollars not shown in the report and the total arrived at by adding the above columns may not agree with the board's total.

Comparative weekly figures of brokers' loans with corresponding periods of last year follow:

An increase of $536,901 was shown yesterday in brokers' loans as reported by sixty-six members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for the week ended the 28th inst. A total of $35,990,795 was registered for the week, compared with a low of $35,158,568 as of the 7th inst. and a high of $42,774,335, during the week ended February 13.

Tobacco Plans for Split Told

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Plans of the directors of the American Tobacco Company for the sharing of increased earnings with stockholders embrace a two-for-one split-up of the common stock and the putting of the new stock on a $5 annual basis, compared to the $8 annual basis of the present stock, it was learned today. This action will not be taken until some time in 1930 as the split-up in the stock requires a charter amendment for which a meeting of the stockholders is necessary.

While this is the present plan it is possible that it may be revised into a wider split-up, and possibly a greater increase in dividend rates, it was said.

STANDARD UNITS IN AVIATION AID MOVE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Three Standard oil companies, spanning the country with their distribution stations, have formed a board of expert chemists and engineers to advance aviation. The companies are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Standard Oil Company of California, the three largest of the Standard group. The aviation advancement effort of the three companies has been formed under the name of Stanavo Specification Board, with headquarters at 122 East Forty-second street.

NEW FARM BOARD PROBLEM

Secretary Hyde Calls Proper Use of Land Most Important Awaiting Solution

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—At the annual farm dinner which J. D. Barnum, Syracuse, N. Y., gave to the farm leaders, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde made the statement that one of the most important elements of the farm problem is the proper utilization of land.

The United States contains 1,903,000,000 acres. There are 505,000,000 of these classified as improved farm lands. Only about 350,000,000 acres are in crop. And yet American farmers "the most efficient in the world, are annually producing vast stores of food stuffs which not only supply the demands of our own 120,000,000 people, but overrun domestic needs into the markets of the world."

Secretary Hyde believes that by using intensive methods on the 505,000,000 available acres, farm crops could be doubled in volume. But who would buy the huge surplus?

So the question of land utilization is a most important one.

The Federal Farm Board, therefore, has, among others, this problem on its hands. But it has also another one just as important—what to suggest in order to bring into a co-operative whole the 6,000,000 independent units "each captained and managed by that most individualistic of all human beings—the American farmer."

Secretary Hyde's Syracuse address is worth reading from the first word to the last.

Each city has its own peculiar geographical problems. Some overcome these obstacles more effectively than others. The expense in overcoming certain of these physical obstacles is very great in certain cities.

In New York, excavation work is extremely expensive for it means cutting down the foundation work through solid rock.

New Orleans has another type of problem. Her city has been built below sea level, so dikes and artificial pumps are used to get rid of surface water.

Pumps capable of removing from 20,000 to 28,000 cubic feet of water a second—enough to fill the ground tanks of 20,000 Ford cars—are being installed at the present time to force the water into the Mississippi River. The present pumps carry off only 12,000 cubic feet of water a second. This is not fast enough, as the danger of floods is always present.

These new pumps—a dozen of them—will be operated by General Electric synchronous motors of unusual size. Seven of these—the largest drainage pumps in the world—will each be driven by a 2000 horsepower, 6000-volt motor, the smaller pumps—five of them—by a 1200 horsepower motor.

These large pumps are the last word in speed. Each of them will deliver from 1000 to 13,400 cubic feet of water per second, depending upon the varying water conditions throughout the city.

Now, just what does all this mean? In nontechnical language it means that the new pumps, working at full capacity, will be able to remove in twenty-four hours a fourteen-inch rain over the entire city.

Thus, science is pushing back the flood.

NEW LAMBERT AERO ENGINE IN MAKING

(Exclusive) Radically new innovations in airplane engine design are incorporated in the construction of the new eight-cylinder inverted V-type power plant which is being developed now by the Lambert Aircraft Engine Corporation, a subsidiary of Allied Aviation Industries, Inc., it was announced here yesterday. A large tentative order has been received from a leading airplane manufacturer.

Bay City and Local Brokers Unite Houses

Bacon & Co., and Wardell & Co., brokerage houses respectively of Los Angeles and San Francisco, will consolidate their business on September 1, under the name of Bacon, Wardell & Co., it was announced yesterday. The new organization will hold memberships on the Los Angeles and San Francisco stock and curb exchanges.

The present quarters of Wardell in the Russ Building, San Francisco, and the present offices of Bacon & Co., in the Pacific Southwest Bank Building, Los Angeles will be respectively the San Francisco and Los Angeles offices of the new partnership. These offices are already connected by private wire.

The merger, according to the announcement, will develop a larger business through its unity and personal connections. Partners in the new organization, besides Messrs Bacon and Wardell, include Philip F. Travers, Robert E. Keane, Charles T. Jawetz, Rix Maurer, S. L. Stern, Ronald E. Kaehler, and John J. Lynch.

STOCK VALUES CONTINUE GAIN

Prospects for Broker Loan Increase Ignored

Rails Lead Selected Group to New High Level

Slight Curtailment Noted in Volume of Trading

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The stock market turned emphatically bullish today, with the prospect of another large increase in brokers' loans only serving to restrict the volume of trading. Some pre-holiday liquidation appeared during the morning, but the rails continued to forge ahead and were joined before the close by a large assortment of merchandising, chemical, utility, tobacco, metal and miscellaneous shares.

The weekly brokerage loan figures, making their appearance after the close, showed an increase of $132,000,000, carrying the total to another record level at $6,217,000,000. The Federal Reserve condition statements disclosed that the system was still releasing credit very sparingly. Although acceptances bought in the open market increased about $24,000,000, this was largely offset by a reduction in rediscounting and in holdings of government securities.

The credit requirements for the seasonal movement of crops and merchandise resulted in call-loan withdrawals during the week of about $30,000,000 by out-of-town banks, but the New York banks were again supplying the market with funds, increasing their loans more than $60,000,000, while loans for "others" mounted more than $90,000,000. New York banks found it necessary to increase their borrowings at the Federal Reserve by only $9,000,000.

MONEY STEADY

Call money held at 9 per cent today, and bankers felt that the month-end requirements would be met without much further strain, with a possibility that the rate would not go higher. It was pointed out that the New York banks were still in a position to keep credit conditions comparatively stable. The three-day market holiday, beginning Saturday is expected to bring funds into the call-loan market for employment over that period at the present attractive rates.

Aside from the weekly loan and condition statements, there was little in the day's news to influence the market. The final agreement at The Hague on the Young plan was received with satisfaction in Wall street, but it had been generally expected. Firmness in lead and copper prices helped the metal shares. Merger rumors were interesting, one story going the rounds stating that negotiations for a merger of Montgomery Ward and Sears, Roebuck had been resumed.

SALES DECREASE

Total sales fell short of 3,500,000 shares, but the Standard Statistics Company Associated Press price indices of fifty industrials and twenty rails rose to new record levels, and that of the twenty utilities mounted nearly 4 points to within a few points of its peak.

Pere Marquette soared 30 points to a record price at 260, but closed at 249. Atchison sold up about 8 points to a new peak, and Chesapeake and Ohio, Lackawanna, Erie, Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, Norfolk and Western and Union Pacific were among other carrier issues to reach new high levels.

National lead shot up 16 points to a new high, but lost much of its gain. St. Joseph lead was also strong. Formation of a new lead association in Europe is expected to stabilize prices of this metal.

Do You Need
BOTH FIXED INCOME and A SHARE IN EARNINGS?

MANY investors do. The man or woman living on the earnings of accumulated capital cannot depend entirely on common stock dividends or possible appreciation, he must have a regular fixed income from his securities. At the same time, common stock earnings afford an excellent method of off-setting changes in the purchasing power of the dollar.

We are offering a 6½% bond that enables you to combine both features in one investment. Secured by a 22% first mortgage and backed by earnings of 4.9 times interest charges, each $1000 bond carries a bonus of 10 shares of common stock on which earnings are estimated at $2.95 per share.

We believe this issue merits your investigation. Full details will be gladly furnished. Just send us your name and address in the margin of this advertisement.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The return to market leadership of Electric Bond and Share, which soared nearly 13 points to a new high record at 175⅜, featured today's curb market. The general list displayed marked irregularity, due to the approach of the three day holiday and the fears of a large loan increase.

Power and light stocks were mixed, strength of American and Foreign Power Warrants, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, American Superpower and Italian Superpower being offset by the heaviness of American Light and Traction, Central States Warrants, Commonwealth Edison, and Northern Power.

Natural gas stocks again showed independent strength, National Fuel rising more than 3 points, while the Arkansas issues were turned over in large volume at advancing prices.

Oil shares presented several points of strength on the publication of an analysis showing that first half year earnings of the leading companies ran well above those of the same period last year. Gulf of Pennsylvania was marked up more than 3 points, Humble advanced 2 and Ohio Oil sold within a point of the year's high. Most of the Standard Oil issues improved fractionally.

Dubilier Radio touched another new high at 20, or five times the year's low, but lost part of its gain. L'Air Liquide crossed 91 to a new peak. General Realty, Lane Bryant, Mayflower Associates, Aeronautical Industries and Standard Screw also sold at their best prices of the year. Shares of the Cord Corporation, the new holding company formed for Auburn Automobile stock, were marked up 2 points to a new high at 30. Electric Investors, Guardian Fire, General Cable Warrants and Newberry Company also showed conspicuous strength.

Wide fluctuations took place in some of the high priced specialties. Aluminum Company of America slumped 34 points to 450½, which contrasts with the recent high of 539½ and the year's low of 146. Crocker Wheeler jumped 10 points to 500 and Singer Manufacturing moved up 10 to 585. Safety Car Heating and Lighting dropped 8¼ and Willow Cafe preferred fell 6¼ to a new low at 36½, or about 22 points below the year's high.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

Demand for blue annealed sheets is remarkably constant in the Chicago district and backlogs are being lengthened beyond fifteen weeks. Mill orders for black and galvanized sheets also are picking up.

At Cleveland sheet trade continues fair, although buying is chiefly in small lots. New business in strip steel continues to fall off at Pittsburgh, but demand is high for this season. Back logs are shrinking, however, as production has not been stepped down with the decline in buying.

Wheat Futures in Rally After Early Decline

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The wheat pit found itself oversold today, and a somewhat gloomy aspect in Argentina was enough to turn the price trend upward. The trade became increasingly aware, too, of a likely shortage of feed grains, with a growing pessimism over the corn harvest, and all grains scored gains, with wheat the leader.

As has been its habit for the last few days, wheat slumped at the opening because of Liverpool's persistent selling off. The revival was quick, however, and the pit saw prices boosted around 4c before profit-taking ended and the rally, and the close was at net gains of 2@2¾c. Corn closed ⅛@1½c higher, September enjoying the least advance, and oats finished ¾ to ⅞@1c up. Provisions were about steady.

At 1.38¼, December wheat equalled the low mark reached last Monday, and gave the signal for the shorts to step in. Yesterday's Argentine rains and poor prospects of any export sales softened prices at Liverpool, but it developed that the rains were insignificant, and official figures from the 1st inst. to the 30th inst. show that only .02 of an inch of rain has fallen in Northern Argentina, against a normal fall of .09 of an inch. The weather there now is dry and cold. Shipments from Argentina were estimated 1,000,000 bushels smaller than last week, and the acreage there was placed at 19,019,000, compared with 20,900,000 last year.

The Canadian crop is still moving in record style, Winnipeg taking in 604 carloads, of which 341 were new wheat. Country deliveries yesterday were 1,945,000 bushels, against last year's 196,000. Threshing returns were described by a Yukon grain leader as disappointing. Estimating the final crop as between 190,000,000 and 220,000,000 bushels he termed it the worst he has seen in fifteen years of Canadian crop inspections. About 65 per cent of the prairie province spring wheat has been harvested.

Corn reached a new high on the present movement, December crossing the dollar line for the first time in several weeks and stopping there for the night.

Some attention was paid to a report that Senator Nye would ask the Federal Farm Board to stabilize wheat at 1.75, and hopes of generous loans from the board were expressed.

Lard was higher, finishing 7c up for all months, while ribs were unchanged to 7c down and bellies 2c lower to 5c higher.

BAY CITY CURB

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Trading on the curb exchange today was confined to a few selective issues. The majority of the issues opened today's trading with substantial gains over the previous close, and toward the close liquidation entered due possibly to the large increase of brokers' loans. This liquidation centered around only the more inactive issues, while the active issues closed around the high for the day.

Develops a New Diesel Airplane Motor—
Authorities look upon it as one of the most outstanding developments in Aviation in recent years. Will it bring radical changes in the Automotive as well as Aviation industries? Who knows?
In a recent test flight from Detroit to Langley Field, Virginia, the new motor consumed only $4.68 worth of fuel, according to report. An ordinary airplane motor would have consumed almost six times that in cost and bulk, or about $27.00 worth.
Lindbergh Pleased With It
Col. Lindbergh, in a flight with Maj. Thomas Lanphier, August 15th, tested the new Diesel airplane motor and expressed himself as being highly pleased with it. He is the first person outside of the Packard staff to fly with the new engine.
For Immediate Purchase
Already the leading producer of high priced cars, Packard bids fair to become dominant in Aviation motors as well. We recommend this stock.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Union Oil and Union Associates dominated trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday with an unusually rapid turnover of shares while the market as a whole quieted down, under the influence of a preholiday listlessness. However, the dealings were well scattered throughout the list and a general buoyant understone resulted in a large number of fractional gains.

Union Oil issues, believed under the influence of pool operations and stimulated by the revival of merger rumors, were traded actively. Union Oil recorded a transfer of 7100 shares and Union Associates 6000 shares. The former reached a high at 54 and closed at 53 1-4, up a point, and the latter, after reaching 52 7-8, ended at 52 1-2 for a similar net gain. Standard of California, Rio Grande and Richfield all advanced fractionally while Signal moved up a full point to 36.

Transamerica held firm at 154 while the new stock firmed up 1-4 to 63. The warrants dropped off 30 cents to 1.20 and the scrip held steady to 1.52 1-2. Pacific American Fire Insurance, moving up 1-8, established a new high at 75 1-8. The close was at 75. Pacific Finance closed up 1-4 to 143 1-2. International Reinsurance yielded 7-8 to 60.

Food Machinery, while traded to the extent of only 100 shares, was one of the strong spots of the session with a second successive advance to a new high peak. The stock jumped 2 3-4 points to 55 1-4. Aero Corporation moved up 1-4 to 9 1-2, while Pickwick dropped off a similar amount to the same price, which is a new low for this issue.

Southern California Edison advanced 1 1-4 points to 84 3-4, but on subsequent selling dropped back to close at 83 3-4. More than 3000 6 per cent preferred shares were bought up at 24 7-8. Bank stocks held steady.

Sales totaled 27,828 shares, valued at $1,407,060; previous day, 14,710 shares valued at $714,745.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Gladding McBean, transferred in excess of 3300 shares, virtually monopolized trading operations on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday. The stock advanced 1 3-4 to 91, but on subsequent selling sold down to a close at 89, off 1-4 net.

Axelson Engine and Cord Corporation improved substantially while the balance of the market held generally firm under a light volume of trading.

Axelson Aircraft Engine advanced 1 1-8 points to 17 1-4, within 1-2 point of its high for all time, and closed at the top figure on sales of 1000 shares. Cord Corporation rallied sharply to a high and close at 30 1-4, up 2 1-4 points. Diamond Electric moved up a point to 53 1-4 and Aviation Corporation rallied 3-4 to 17 1-4. Fokker dropped 1 1-2 points to 50.

Intercoast Trading Company, the new Giannini organization which is commanding a great deal of attention, transferred at 30 all day, off 1-8 net, with 1300 shares changing hands. Hancock Oil lost 3-4 to 55 1-4. Kemper Radio was a feature of the cent stocks and jumped 20 points to a new peak and close at 3.90.

Sales totaled 93,708 shares, valued at $621,457; previous day, 70,672 shares, valued at $467,760.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Lower private crop figures and the failure of weather reports to show anything more than a few light showers in droughty western belt sections, had a stimulating effect upon the cotton market today.

Early declines were recovered, with the market selling up sharply during the early afternoon on covering by recent sellers, combined with considerable local and Wall street buying.

Trading was somewhat less active around 2 o'clock, but steady, within 2 points of the best, at net advances of 13 to 19 points. A private report placed the condition of the crop at 59 per cent and the indicated yield at 14,961,000 bales.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil was more active and firmer. Tenders of 6500 barrels on September contracts apparently caused some active selling of that position, but offers were readily taken by refining interests and shorts, while in the latter months there was some good buying on the firmness of cotton. The close was firm at 6 to 18 points net advance. Sales were 23,100 barrels. Local market will be closed on Saturday, as well as Monday. Prime crude, 7.62½; prime summer yellow, spot, 9.15; September closed 9.20; October, 9.46; December, 9.58; January, 9.66; March.

RIO GRANDE

No oil company is forging ahead faster and more substantially than Rio Grande. This year earnings for the first quarter were 900% greater than for the same period last year. Rio Grande's production for the first quarter this year was greater than the entire year of 1928. A recent important favorable court decision plus the great strides that the company is making in the retail field cause to again repeat our recommendation

Columbian Carbon and United States Industrial Alcohol achieved new tops. Other strong spots included American International, American Type Foundry, Continental Can, Ingersoll Rand, International Harvester, R. H. Macy and Simons, all of which reached new tops at substantially higher levels.

UTILITY REVIVES

Stone & Webster came forward as the leader of the utilities, rising more than 13 points to a new peak above 190. The stock was brought out at 100 only last June, but the subsequent appreciation of its treasury holdings, and the wide experience of its management and engineering divisions, as well as rumors of pending developments, have attracted an enthusiastic following for the stock. Standard Gas and American Water Works rose 7 to 8 points to new record levels.

Motor shares were generally quiet, although Auburn has had another of its wide moves, selling up 40 points to 495, and closing at 487. Oils were firm, but failed to make notable headway, although standard of New Jersey reached another new high. Steels and coppers were likewise firm, but moved in a narrow range.

Among the few soft spots, Homestake Mining lost 13 points, while Allis Chalmers, Bohn Aluminum, Case Treshing and Goodyear slipped back 2 to 5 points.

Commodities were firm. Wheat futures mounted about 2 cents on smaller offerings and bullish weather in Argentina. Corn moved up about a cent on reports of Kansas crop damage. Cotton futures advanced 60 to 70 cents on smaller private crop estimates.

Foreign exchanges were fairly steady, but sterling cables sagged slightly to $4.84 3-4.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—A strengthening tendency is being shown on 56s strictly combing domestic wool. Inquiries for this trade are increasing and a number of houses are unable to fill requests.

Prices are slightly stronger on territory 56s strictly combing wools. The bulk of sales are in the range of 88@92c, scoured basis, with the maximum figure having been realized on a fair quantity of wool.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Montebello Trust's Meyer No. 1, deep test situated on a thirty-acre lease on the south slope of the Montebello field, is reported to be drilling ahead in tough shale with showings of oil and gas.

With present bottom below 2950 feet, this test first encountered showings at 2400 feet and drilled through 180 feet of oil shale, according to company officials. It will be drilled to at least 5000 feet to give that section of the field a thorough test.

The Standard, Shell, Union and [illegible] companies hold the majority of the acreage at Montebello. The Montebello Trust's test is south of [illegible] property and east of the [illegible] Oil Company's holdings. Union has a pumper about 400 feet [illegible] of the Meyer No. 1, which is said to be putting out approximately thirty-three barrels of oil per day at 2900 feet.

About a mile west of Meyer No. 1 Standard is said to have drilled a deep test several years ago and to have obtained good production below 2800 feet, but that it was [illegible] to conform with a program which favored delaying the development of a deep zone.

To Abandon

The Southern Exploration Company has announced that its Twitchell No. 1, situated on the bluff overlooking the ocean at the extreme western edge of the old Summerland field will be abandoned. So much difficulty was had in testing for a complete water shut-off that the derrick has been dismantled and reconstructed for Twitchell No. [illegible] which will spud in within a week, according to field reports.

The Twitchell No. 1 was originally drilled to about 1300 feet, but picked up showings of gas and oil considerably higher, it is said. Unable to cement off the water lower down, the well was plugged back several times. About 300 feet of oil sand was cored in this test, and indications were that it could have been placed on production, if the water could have been successfully shut out.

Along the edge of the surf, the Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, with bottom at 1350 feet, is pumping about 150 barrels of 18-deg. gravity oil per day. The Williams No. 2 has twelve and one-half-inch casing cemented at 1075 feet.

Installing Boilers

The Associated Oil Company is installing boilers preparatory to drilling two or more wells for the Southern Pacific Railway on a narrow strip of right of way on the bluff at Summerland. The site is about 400 feet northeast of Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, now producing.

New Activity

The Western Gulf Oil Company has added a 480-acre lease to its holdings in the vicinity of the System Oil Company's Bradley No. 1 wildcat, five miles southeast of Santa Maria, giving it about 2200 acres in that district for further prospecting.

System's Bradley No. 1 is drilling out the cement in a day or two. It has had showings of oil sand and gas, it is asserted.

Cleaning Up

The Kern Hill Petroleum Company's No. 1, on Sec. 6, 28-29, in the Round Mountain field is yielding approximately 350 barrels of 16-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 1550 feet. Completed about ten days ago, it sanded up but was cleaned to bottom to improve output.

Drilling Ahead

The Recreation Gun Club No. 1 wildcat of the Ohio Oil Company in the Playa Del Rey district, which had showings of oil sand, is drilling ahead below 4250 feet. This test is near a dry hole drilled by Ohio several months ago.

Kill to Deepen

The General Petroleum Corporation's Jalk No. 111, at Santa Fe Springs, has been killed to deepen from bottom at 7961 feet. Cement plug was drilled out at 7885 feet, where four-and-three-quarter-inch tubing was set and it came in, making about 1700 barrels of 33.2 deg. gravity oil per day.

General's Santa Fe No. 224 is putting out approximately 2400 barrels of oil per day from a depth of [illegible] feet and is gradually cleaning up, according to reports.

At Kettleman Hills, the Ochsner No. 2, on Sec. 26, has drilled past about 110 feet of frozen three-inch drill pipe and is milling ahead below [illegible] feet. When fishing started on this project, 5300 feet of three-inch drill pipe was struck. The remaining 110 feet of it will be left in the old hole, it is said.

General's More No. 1 wildcat, three miles southeast of Elwood, is being pumped full of mud. Gas pressure on the tubing is 800 pounds, although under control.

Coring Oil Sand

The Becker Fee No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., in the old Summerland field is reported to be coring ahead in oil sand with bottom below 1300 feet.

At Kettleman Hills, Getty's Armstrong No. 1 on Sec. 4 is drilling at [illegible] feet, while Armstrong No. 1 on Sec. 6 has eleven-and-three-quarter-inch casing cemented at [illegible] feet. The plug will be drilled out in a few days.

Building Derrick

The Pacific Western Oil Company is constructing derrick for its Gibraltar Dam No. 1 wildcat, to be drilled on a lease near Gibraltar Dam, about fifteen miles northwest of Santa Barbara. The operators recently rebuilt several miles of road to enable equipment and supplies to be trucked to the site.

Gas Showings

The Keystone Petroleum Company has encountered gas showings in its Paderewski No. 1 wildcat, three miles southwest of Santa Maria, according to reports, and is drilling ahead below 2100 feet in shale formation. Oil sand showings continue, it is said, in the True No. 1 wildcat three miles south of Surf, with bottom below 2460 feet.

Output Down

Daily average production of deep-sand oil at Santa Fe Springs last week totaled 277,000 barrels, being approximately 16,000 barrels less than the preceding week. There were 280 active and fifteen idle projects.

The week's completions include the following: General Petroleum Corporation's Santa Fe Community No. 179-F, 3400 barrels; Shell Oil Company's Slusher No. B-1, recompleted for 2100 barrels; Standard Oil Company's Johnson No. 6, recompleted for 1800 barrels and Jordan No. 7, for 3100 barrels; Union Oil Company's Bell No. 42, 4700 barrels, and York & Lockhart's No. 2, recompleted for 400 barrels.

Running Tubing

The Shell Oil Company is running two-and-one-half-inch tubing in Nesa No. 11, deepest well in the world at Signal Hill. About 2500 feet will be run preparatory to placing this deep test on the pump. Yesterday it was washed to bottom at 9280 feet, and no oil showings were reported to be in evidence, it is said.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—A good clearance was made of yesterday's small supply at fully steady prices on all classes.

Two cars of 834 and 854-pound steers that had a short turn in a Southern California feed lot made 11.25 and 11.50, respectively. A car of plain 800-pound Central California steers went over for 10.75. No other steers were included.

Odd head of heifers cashed from 9.00@10.00, the latter price also taking in one choice 1200-pound grain fed cow. Odd lots of cows sold from 8.50@9.00, while most cows, common and low medium kind, sold from 7.25@8.25. Cutters and low cutters cleared from 3.00@6.25. A few medium bulls sold from 7.50@8.25, with common bulls around 7.00.

CALVES—Offerings were limited to odd lots of truck-in calves and vealers. The general market ruled fully steady. Odd head and small lots of good and choice vealers sold from 13.00@15.00, with plain vealers and calves down to 8.50.

HOGS—Two cars of rail hogs were offered, one of which was held over from Wednesday. Other offerings consisted of several lots of truck-in butchers. The general market ruled steady, quality considered. A car of good 170-pound California butchers cashed for 12.60. Several lots of 140 to 186-pound truck-in butchers cleared from 11.85@12.10. Packing sows were in light supply from 9.50@10.50. The car of holdover butchers sold from 11.75@12.35.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply consisted of holdovers from Wednesday, mostly lambs. The general market was called steady. A deck of common and medium 74-pound Nevada lambs sold for 10.50, with a 10 per cent sort at 9.50. A small lot of common truck-in Navajo lambs cashed for 10.00, with a few Navajo wethers at 7.00 and Navapo ewes at 4.75. THE CORPORATION: Manhattan-Dearborn Corporation has been organized under the laws of Delaware with a charter that grants broad investing powers. The principal purpose of the corporation will be to buy, hold and sell real property and interests therein. It will also buy, hold, sell and trade in securities; and will participate in syndicates and underwritings, and engage in such other activities as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

The corporation will receive $18,750,000 net in cash from the sale of the capital stock to be presently outstanding. All organization expenses and distribution costs in connection with the present issue will be paid by the bankers.

Of the 375,000 shares now offered, more than 190,000 are being purchased for investment by the bankers and closely affiliated interests. Among the large stockholders are interests whose co-operation it is believed will be of material value in the profitable employment of the corporation's funds.

DIRECTORATE: The policies of Manhattan-Dearborn Corporation will be supervised by its board of directors, which includes five executive officers of Lawrence Stern and Company, four executive officers of A. G. Becker & Co., and the following:

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR.,
Chairman of the Board of William Wrigley, Jr. Company

JOHN HERTZ

ALBERT D. LASKER,
Chairman of the Board of Lord & Thomas and Logan

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE

CHARLES A. McCULLOCH,
Chairman of the Board of The Parmelee Company

HERBERT L. STERN,
President of Balaban & Katz Corporation

CHARLES S. PEARCE,
President of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company

All of the members of the Board, except Herbert Bayard Swope, are directors of Lawrence Stern and Company or A. G. Becker & Co.

The acquisition of any securities or property previously owned by the directors or bankers is not contemplated. However, transactions between the corporation and its directors or the corporations or firms with which they are identified are not prohibited.

MANAGEMENT: Manhattan-Dearborn Corporation has entered into a management contract with Lawrence Stern and Company for a term of ten years, with provisions for renewals for five-year periods. This contract may be cancelled at any time by a majority vote of the stockholders of the corporation. The managers will receive no compensation in any year unless the corporation earns more than 8% on its invested capital in such year. In any year in which realized net profits of the corporation exceed 8%, the managers are to receive an amount equal to 20% of the total net profits for such year, but only to the extent that the payment thereof will not reduce the net profits below 8%. The requirement for net profits of 8% shall be cumulative, so that, if in any year the corporation shall earn less than 8%, the deficiency must be made up before computation of any subsequent management compensation.

A. G. Becker & Co. will co-operate with Lawrence Stern and Company in the management of the corporation and for such services will participate in the management fee.

All stock now authorized or issued is of the same class and all shares have identical rights as to voting, dividends and otherwise. Common stock in excess of the present authorized issue, and securities senior to such stock, may be authorized by a majority vote of the stockholders. No stockholder will have any pre-emptive right to subscribe to future issues of stocks or other securities convertible into stock. There are no options on any unissued stock nor has the Corporation any agreements other than as herein referred to.

Three Cases of Whisky Come to Light in Wreck

FRESNO, Aug. 29.—County authorities were confronted today with an unusual puzzle growing out of an automobile accident in which a young and pretty woman suffered a fractured leg, and out of which deputy sheriffs garnered three cases of whisky.

From papers found in the car Deputy Sheriffs Bacon and Townsend deduced that the woman's name was Edna Osborne, but when she was admitted to the County General Hospital for emergency treatment, she gave her name as Sorensen. The car was registered to R. Morgan.

Witnesses to the accident called the Sheriff's office, bue when the officers arrived the woman had been removed to a physician's office, where she was found and placed under arrest on charges of possession and transportation of liquor.

LOW TAX RATE

VERNON, Aug. 29.—The City of Vernon probably has the smallest tax rate of any city in the State, the City Council having set the rate at 35 cents on each $100 of assessable property, for the year 1929-30. Added to this will be a 6-cent rate for the sewer municipal improvement district. The taxable property now totals $46,661,020, as compared with $44,355,450 last year.

ARMY'S AIR PLANS HELD OUT OF DATE

Zeppelin's Pacific Flight Shows Need for Revision of Program, Says James

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The flight of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin across the Pacific was cited here today by Representative James of Michigan, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, as a feat which has emphasized the "obsolescence" of the army's five-year aerial construction program.

Representative James, here on a tour of inspection of Pacific Coast defenses, pointed out that the crossing of the Pacific by air is one of the developments which Congress was unable to foresee in framing the five-year program. He previously declared he will recommend the scrapping of the five-year program on the ground that it has been rendered obsolete by the recent developments in aviation.

"It is a fact," said Representative James, "that most of our important financial and manufacturing areas are within easy striking distance by air forces. Destruction of the large cities on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts by air bombardment would be a paralyzing blow to the country's resources.

"It is also manifest that the largest ground army and the largest navy could not ward off such an attack."

First Bale of Kern Cotton Out of Gin

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—Kern county's first bale of the 1929 cotton crop has just been ginned. T. E. Dempsey reported today the cotton was produced at the ranch of J. M. Preston and Ben Tomlin, one mile south of Brundage between Kern Island and the Wible Road. It was graded at good middling and the bale weighed 551 pounds. The cotton was contracted for and the price was not announced.

The bale was ginned at the San Joaquin Ginning Company gin, Greenfield, a subsidiary organization of the San Joaquin Cotton Oil Company and formerly owned by the Dempsey Ginning Company. Tomorrow the company will gin two more bales of cotton, but it will be September 15 before the gins are operating under pressure. Cotton this year is later in maturing than last year.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Vándalos que Maltratan unos Cuadros Rurales

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Agosto 29. Han sido desfiguradas por personas desconocidas, que les echaron rayas y les hicieron agujeros, varias de las famosas pinturas murales del ministerio de Educación Pública, debidas al pincel del artista Diego Rivera, de fama internacional.

Los referidos cuadros murales han dado lugar a interminables discusiones públicas, pues muchos de ellos chocan con las ideas de la gente conservadora, por ser de tendencias disque radicales y comunistas. Diego Rivera es, efectivamente, uno de los líderes del partido comunista de Méjico.

A la señorita Ione Robinson, de Los Angeles, que ayudó a Diego Rivera a decorar los muros del palacio nacional, le ha sido encomendada la tarea de reparar las pinturas murales dañadas.

Se Demanda a los Jefes Rebeldes por Daños de Guerra

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Agosto 29. Según mensajes especiales de prensa, ha interpuesto el gobierno mejicano, ante los tribunales de Nogales y de Veracruz, una demanda por $10,300,000 de daños y perjuicios contra los líderes de la última revolución, generales Gonzalo Escobar, Francisco R. Manzo, Fausto Topete, Juan Gualberto Amaya, Marcelo Caraveo, Francisco Urbalejo, Roberto Cruz, Ramón Yucupicio, y otras personas, entre las que están incluidas varios ex-miembros del congreso.

Las acciones contra esos individuos son para recobrar la suma que el gobierno dice invirtió en sofocar el alzamiento provocado por ellos. La mayor parte de las propiedades de los acusados en Méjico han sido ya confiscadas para garantía del pago de los daños.

El Mal del Sueño Sigue Aumentando en el Japón

TOKIO, Agosto 29.—Continúa extendiéndose, particularmente en las prefecturas de Kagawa e Hiroshama, la enfermedad del sueño, que reina sobre todo en las prefecturas sudoccidentales.

Anuncióse hoy que había ayer 349 casos de dicho mal, y que se produjeron 136 defunciones.

Tienen los Japoneses un Enorme Programa Naval

TOKIO, Agosto 29.—Esta tarde ha publicado la prensa japonesa que tiene formulado el ministerio de Marina un nuevo programa de construcción auxiliar, que ya ha sido enviado para su estudio al ministerio de Hacienda.

Dícese que vienen incluidos en dicho programa, cuatro cruceros de 10,000 toneladas, quince destructores de primera clase, y otros navíos más, con presupuesto total de 400,000,000 de yens (unos $184,000,000), y para un plazo de seis a ocho años, a partir del año fiscal de 1930-31. Se sobrepone en dos años este nuevo programa al actual programa en curso de realización.

Inclúyese en el nuevo, según se dice, varios destructores pequeños, submarinos, cañoneros, petroleros, y barcos contra submarinos.

Hasta ahora no ha sido posible obtener confirmación oficial de la noticia.

Reclamación de Guggenheim Desestimada

WASHINGTON, Agosto 29.—Harry F. Guggenheim, acaudalado miembro del Comité Nacional Asesor de Aeronáutica, tenía la idea de que el Tío Samuel le salía debiendo $58.14; pero el contralor general McCarl ha resuelto que no hay tal cosa.

No ha sido aceptada la cuenta que ha pasado el señor Guggenheim por el aceite y gasolina que gastó en su avión particular para un viaje redondo de Nueva York a Washington, con el fin de asistir a la primera junta del referido comité.

El señor McCarl no puede aprobar más gasto que el de $36.38, importe del billete de ida y vuelta en ferrocarril.

NOTAS LOCALES

Mejicano Distinguido que Encomia al Señor Morrow

Los placeres de la luna de miel proporcionan buena dosis de felicidad a cualquiera; pero eso de pasar la luna de miel por Sudcalifornia es el pináculo de la dicha postmatrimonial, según opina el señor don Manuel Palivicini, de la ciudad de Méjico, quien, con su esposa, ha venido a ésta, a invitación encarecida del Club Rotario de Pomona. Es portador de un mensaje de los rotarios de Méjico para los habitantes de los Estados Unidos.

Y la novia, que hasta hace cinco días era la señorita Berta Viesca, hermosa prenda de la sociedad de Méjico, se siente también feliz en Los Angeles, si bien ha necesitado los auxilios de su señor y joven esposo para hacérnoslo saber, pues la señora Palavicini, que está asombrada de la enormidad de esta población, no habla palabra de inglés.

Al hablar ayer con los chicos de la prensa, tuvo el señor Palavicini palabras de grandísimo encomio para Dwight Morrow, embajador norteamericano en Méjico. Dijo que no había habido embajador de este país que hubiera conquistado de modo tan cabal la confianza del gobierno y del bajo pueblo mejicano. En prueba de su acerto, adujo el señor Palavicini pruebas convincentes para el ánimo de cualquiera.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

V.

Pero los caballos estaban cansados, y los hombres tuvieron que apearse y seguir a los perros a pie (But the horses were tired, and the men had to get down, and follow the dogs on foot).

Los cazadores tuvieron entonces que atravesar pequeñas lagunas, y, a veces, trepar por sobre árboles caídos (The hunters now had to wade through little ponds of water. Sometimes they had to climb over fallen trees). Llevaban los vestidos desgarrados por los arbustos. Al cabo de dos horas, llegaron por fin a un lugar donde la pantera se había subido a otro árbol (Their clothes were badly torn by the bushes. After two hours more, they came to a place where the panther had again gone up into a tree).

MEXICAN LAUDS MORROW

Attorney Here With Bride on Honeymoon Trip Tells of Ambassador's Popularity

To experience the joys of a honeymoon is happiness enough for the average man, but to be on a honeymoon jaunt in Southern California is the very apex of post-wedding happiness, according to Senor Manuel Palavicini of Mexico City, who, with his bride, is here at the earnest solicitation of the Rotary Club of Pomona, to bring to the United States a message from Rotary of Mexico.

And the bride, who, up to five days ago, was Senorita Berta Viesca, beautiful society girl of the Mexican capital, also is happy to be in Los Angeles, although it required the services of her young husband to make that fact known. For Senora Palavicini, wide-eyed with amazement at the hugeness of the city, speaks no English. The couple are guests at the Alexandria.

PRAISES MORROW

Extravagant words of praise for Dwight Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, fell from the lips of Senor Palavicini when he talked to newspaper men yesterday. No American Ambassador ever has had the confidence of the government and the common people of Mexico that Ambassador Morrow possesses, he said. A peculiar proof of this was cited by the visitor, who pointed out that one of the worst bandit-infested roads in the country was that leading from Mexico City to Quernavaca, the small town where Morrow has his home.

"And," said the Mexican visitor, "there must be a tacit agreement among the bandits, for on Saturday, the day on which Ambassador Morrow usually travels that road on his week-end trip, there are no hold-ups or depredations of any kind. We in Mexico City can explain it in only one way: The bandits, admiring the American Ambassador, as do all our people, keep off that road for fear of attacking his automobile by mistake," he said.

FORMER JOURNALIST

Ambassador Morrow goes everywhere in Mexico without a body guard. He is credited with being responsible, with President Portes Gil, for the change in attitude of the government toward the Catholic church, and that, above all else, endears him to the people of Mexico, Senor Palavicini said.

The Mexican visitor is to be the speaker at the next meeting of the Pomona Rotary Club. He was met here by T. J. Brownrigg, an official of the Pomona Rotary organization. The Pomona Club will send a speaker to the Rotary Club of Mexico City in the near future to carry the message of American Rotary to the neighboring country, it is explained.

Senor Palavicini is the son of Felix Palavicini, one-time owner of a chain of the most influential newspapers in Mexico. One time newspaper man and now a successful attorney of Mexico City, he is interested deeply in American newspaper plants and intends to visit several here before his return, he said.

OAKLANDER TO AID NEW CRIME WORK

Chris B. Fox Appointed as Secretary to Commission Just Organized for Task

Selection of Chris B. Fox, Oakland attorney, as secretary of the California State Crime Commission was announced yesterday at Gov. Young's office. The commission, appointed recently by the Governor under authority of a law passed by the last Legislature, held its first and organization meeting here. Its headquarters will be in Fox's office, Tribune Tower Building, Oakland.

"The commission is to be a continuing and permanent body," Fox explained, "to study the whole field of crime, assemble facts and make recommendations. It is a division of the newly created State Department of Penology and James A. Johnston, director of that department, is its chairman.

"The next meeting probably will be in connection with the joint convention of California sheriffs and peace officers in Oakland, September 16-18.

"One of the difficulties in dealing with crime is that we have so few actual scientific data covering the field. It is these that the commission will acquire and have ready for such use as suggests itself."

Others on the commission are: Atty.-Gen. Webb, Dean Miller of University of Southern California law school, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and W. A. Beasley of Oakland, an ex-judge of the Superior Court in Santa Clara county.

WARSHIPS DUE TOMORROW

ve Dreadnaughts Returning from North Will Enter Upon Long Season of Training

ve dreadnaughts of the United States battle fleet will return to training base here tomorrow, after a summer of exercises and over- in the North Pacific. They are the Maryland, Colorado, New Mississippi and the Idaho, under command of Rear-Admiral [illegible], commander of Battleship Division Four. The fleet base force al- is here, having arrived during the past week.

The dreadnaughts will remain at anchor until September 9, when the season of training involving many new features will get under way over the longest period the fleet ever has been here, and lasting until February, next year. Short-range battle practice and antiaircraft will initiate the program.

Joining them in a few weeks will be the flagship California, now undergoing a $600,000 modernization at the Puget Sound navy yard, and the West Virginia, and the Tennessee, undergoing annual overhaul in the north.

The aircraft carriers Lexington and Saratoga returned here yesterday after a month at San Diego conducting plane exercises, and perfecting an improved hook affording greater safety to planes in landing. Their arrival occasioned a thirteen-gun salute from the Lexington, Rear-Admiral Henry V. Butler's ship, to Rear-Admiral T. Pickett Magruder, commander of the fleet base force, and a return salute by the latter's flagship Procyon. The Lexington will go to Puget Sound September 8, next, for overhaul, to be followed by the Saratoga.

Child Wanders Away from Tent

Searching parties were being conducted through the canyons near Gorman Station of the Ridge Route yesterday by deputy sheriffs in an attempt to find 9-year-old Angel Carranza, who disappeared mysteriously from his father's camp during the night.

According to the father, Pedro Carranza, who lives in the suburbs of Anaheim, the boy wandered from their tent at night, probably while walking in his sleep. Missing him, the parents went in search of the boy and heard him call "Papa, papa," twice, but were unable to find him.

It is feared that the child may have fallen over a high cliff and is seriously injured and unable to call for aid.

CACTUS EXHIBIT DRAWS CROWDS

Marvels of Desert Capture Visitors to Show

One Thousand Prickly Plants Compete for Prizes

Ex-Policeman Produces Many Fiber Novelties

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Unmindful of the prevailing hot weather, hundreds of persons flocked to Pasadena yesterday afternoon and evening to attend the opening of the first annual exhibition of the Cactus and Succulent Society of America at 352 East Glenarm street.

Scores of horticulturists, landscape gardeners and cactus collectors from distant points, who were in attendance, declared that the show far outstrips in variety and more than trebles in size anything of the sort ever before attempted in the United States. One immense greenhouse and part of another are filled to overflowing with rare desert plants, and 100 feet square in the open is devoted to miniature rock gardens.

WIDE VARIETY

It was estimated yesterday by John Vosburg, show manager, that there are 20,000 plants in the show, with more than 1000 varieties represented. The specimens range in size from tiny prickly plants no larger than a man's thumb to the Old Man of the Desert, towering twelve feet in the air. The largest displays by individuals probably should be credited to Dr. A. D. Houghton of San Fernando and G. A. Frick of Los Angeles. Both have upward of 1000 plants on display. Mr. Frick's collection of euphorbias, numbering sixty-two different plants, is said by many collectors to be the finest they have ever seen from a single garden.

R. E. Willis, secretary of the association, has a magnificent mixed collection, including many trays of seedlings ranging upward from the size of a pea. He has two rare specimens of the Echinops family, unnamed, and said to be unlisted in Britten & Rose, the authority on cacti. Dr. Houghton is showing a rare plant from Africa, known as Euphorbia Grandicornis.

CACTUS NOVELTIES

One of the odd and attractive exhibits is that of Burton E. Gear, formerly a member of the Los Angeles Police Department, who, finding it necessary to go to the desert for the benefit of his health, found something worth while to do by manufacturing all sorts of household novelties from cholla fiber. Book ends, fern boxes, lamp stands, desk lamps, card cases, ash trays and a large number of other articles have been artistically created from the tough fiber of the desert's toughest cactus. Mr. Gear paints them attractively, and they are something exceedingly novel, fitting in magnificently with modernistic decorations and cactus bowls.

The show is astonishingly complete, its variety being so great as to astonish even the professional collectors. The exhibition will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. today and tomorrow. The judges completed their work yesterday and the list of prize winners will be announced today.

Nothing New for Weather Topic Today

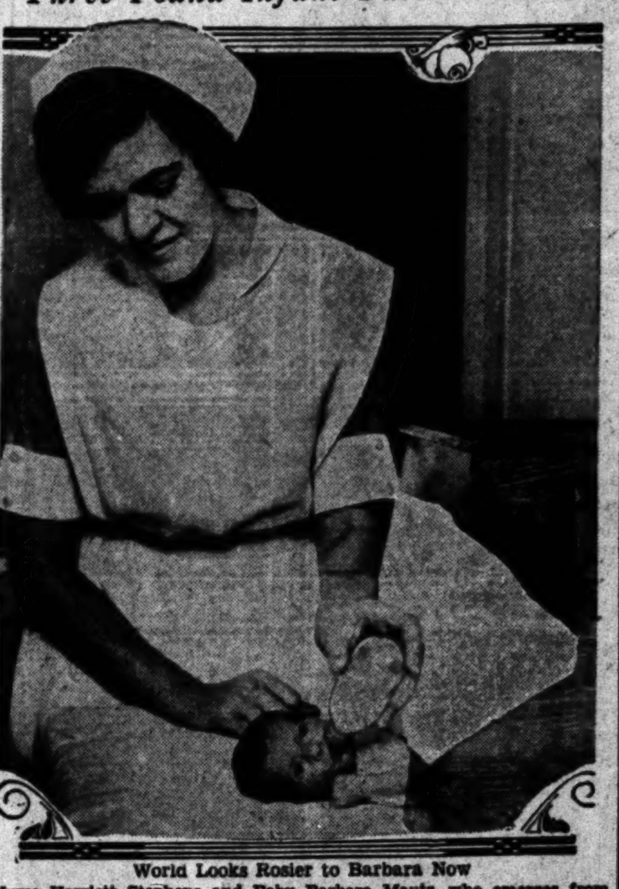
You will have to wear a sun hat again today for the weather prediction is "fair Friday and Saturday, with fog along the coast at night, but no change of temperature."

The top temperature yesterday was 87 deg. at 11:30 o'clock with a high percentage of humidity recorded. At 5 a.m., with the temperature at 70, the humidity was the same figure. At 5 p.m. the mercury was up at 82 and the humidity was 42 per cent saturation.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PROTESTS

Today the City Council will hear protests against the installation of a lighting system in Las Palmas avenue between Franklin avenue and Hollywood Boulevard.

Three-Pound Infant Puts on Ounces



World Looks Rosier to Barbara Now

Nurse Harriett Stephens and Baby Barbara Mautz, who emerges from incubator to take dinner.

INCUBATOR BABY SAYS: I MUST GAIN---AND LIVE

Eighteen-day diets are all right in their place, according to Miss Barbara Bautz, but it will be some years, she thinks, before such things will be forced upon her consideration.

Miss Barbara, whose present and temporary address is an incubator, 127 South Utah street, Maternity Cottage, is a meager three-and-a-half-week-old girl and tips the scales at a scant three pounds and eleven ounces, and, when interviewed yesterday, she indicated that her pet hobby at the moment is the acquisition of curves to her rather rangy figure.

"I understand," she cooed, "that the streamline body went out some time ago and that the boyish figure is demode, so I am just devoting my time exclusively to gaining enough weight so that I can set off a one-piece bathing suit to good advantage a little later on.

"Three weeks ago, I must admit life didn't look so very rosy to me and I didn't care much what happened, but the nurses here have given me an entirely new outlook on life and I feel stronger every day. Why, when I was born on the 6th inst. I weighed three pounds and four ounces and then, as is customary, I'm told, I lost ground and went down to a low of two pounds and fourteen ounces. But with wonderful care, meals every two hours from a Brecht feeder and this cosy little room kept at a temperature of 90 to 95 deg., why I feel like a new person.

"The nurses even made clothes for me—some darling little sleeveless things of gauze that have been just fine for this hot weather. The doctor—Dr. F. W. Thompson, the house physician, you know—says that he wants to keep me here until I weigh five pounds. My, I'll be positively fat, won't I? Then I can go home to my mother, Mrs. Barbara Bautz, who will be very

FILM JESTER ON ROAD GANG

Al St. John Must Work Until He Pays $1642 Arrears in Alimony, Judge Orders

Al St. John, nephew of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, and for many years a well-known acrobatic motion-picture comedian, yesterday turned his back on the film studios at the order of Superior Judge Burnell and entered the County Jail to begin serving an indeterminate sentence for contempt of court for failing to pay his former wife, June, $1642 in back alimony.

AL ST. JOHN

The sentence was imposed despite St. John's dual plea that the recent Equity situation resulted in enforced unemployment and that he is faced with the obligation of supporting "three families."

"I'm keeping my mother and father, my first wife and our adopted child, and my second wife and our baby," the actor argued in his own behalf. Then he added: "I'm doing the best I can."

"Are you strong?" the judge asked.

"Sure," replied the comedian.

"Well, then," ruled Judge Burnell, "I'll let you go to work on the county roads. You can make $1.50 a day there, and that's better than sweeping out the County Jail without pay."

Assignment to the county road gang was made by Judge Burnell as the result of St. John's contention that confinement behind the bars will make it impossible for him to earn any money.

"I've done the best I could to keep up the payments," the comedian had pleaded, "but I've been out of work for some time on account of the Equity strike. Now that it's over, however, I've just signed a contract for a new picture. But I haven't collected any money in advance, and if I go to jail I don't see how I can pay the debt."

It was then that Judge Burnell hit on the idea of assisting him to earn $1.50 per day.

"Well, that's that," muttered the comedian philosophically, as he saw there was no alternative. Then, turning to his present wife, who had accompanied him to court, he called: "Keep the light in the window burning for me."

"He can stay there until he pays up," Judge Burnell commented. "Failure to comply with an order of this court is a separate instance of contempt each day that the order is not fulfilled."

Only when a person is adjudged bankrupt by process of Federal court, it is pointed out in connection with the case, can he take advantage of the constitutional pro-

TWO STATE BOARDS NAMED

Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan and Speaker Levey Appoint Tax and Water Investigating Committees

Announcement of the membership of two investigating committees authorized by the last Legislature was made here yesterday by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan in conjunction with Speaker Edgar C. Levey of the Assembly.

The two committees will investigate the tax and water problems of the State and are the two most important boards of the ten authorized by legislative action, Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan said in connection with the appointment.

ON TAX COMMITTEE

The committee on tax investigation is composed of Senators Arthur H. Breed, Oakland; Herbert C. Jones, San Jose; J. W. McKinley, Jr., Los Angeles, and H. C. Nelson of Eureka, and Assemblymen Charles H. Deuel, Chico; Isaac Jones, Ontario; Harry F. Sewell, Whittier, and Speaker Levey, San Francisco.

The committee to investigate the water problems is composed of Senators Edwin A. Mueller, San Diego; H. C. Nelson, Eureka; Will R. Sharkey, Martinez, and Ralph E. Swing, San Bernardino, and Assemblymen Van Bernard, Butte City; Bradford S. Crittenden, Tracy; Rob-

AIR LINE TO LINK ISLANDS

Los Angeles Men Form Company to Operate in Hawaii; Plan Finally to Operate Ten Planes

Inauguration of a flying service between the cities of the Hawaiian Islands is scheduled for November 10, according to an announcement issued by Los Angeles sponsors yesterday. Planes of the Fokker type with a twelve-passenger capacity, will be used.

The first two planes to be used in the service are to be shipped to Honolulu on the S.S. Navigator on September 30, next. Four other trimotored planes are to follow before Christmas. Jack Frye, president of the Aero Corporation of California, and Paul E. Richter, vice-president, are to be the technical directors of the island service.

G. Fred Bush is head of the corporation, known as the Hawaiian Airways, Ltd. Bush is expected to leave for Honolulu next month and it is probable that either Frye or Richter will accompany him to work out the details of the service. Others who are active in the management of the new company are William Gibbs McAdoo and Nathan Newby, Jr.

The company is controlled exclusively by citizens of Los Angeles. It is expected the service will be expanded until ten planes are in daily use in interisland passenger and freight traffic. Five flying fields have been leased on the islands and five more are under option.

AIR PLANT SITES ACQUIRED HERE

Two More Companies Will Build Factories

Detroit Aircraft Buys at Long Beach

Burgess Corporation Goes to Culver City

Two more aviation plants for the Los Angeles industrial area were announced yesterday by R. D. Sangster, manager of the industrial department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The plants are those of the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, of Detroit, which has acquired a site of twenty acres near Long Beach, and the Burgess Aeronautical and Engineering Corporation, which has leased quarters in Culver City.

According to Mr. Sangster, partial confirmation of the news that the Detroit concern would locate a branch factory and assembly plant here was obtained from the company's president, Edward Evans, at present in Cleveland attending the national races. He was interviewed there by A. W. Poole, manager of the chamber's aviation department. Full confirmation was given with the announcement here yesterday by the Montana Land Company to the effect that the Detroit concern had exercised its option on a site adjoining the Long Beach Municipal Airport.

COMPANIES MERGE

The site contains twenty acres, assuring adequate landing facilities, testing grounds and sufficient space for the erection of buildings contemplated. The Detroit Aircraft is the concern which recently acquired the Lockheed plant at Burbank, immediately following the announcement of the formation of a $20,000,000 corporation. The aircraft companies embraced in a series of mergers, forming the corporation, included the British Blackburn Company of London, Eng.; the Winton Engine Company of Cleveland, the Aircraft Development Corporation, builders of the first successful all-metal dirigible; Aviation Tool Company of Detroit, Ryan Aircraft Corporation of St. Louis, Eastman Flying Boat Company of Detroit and others.

The directorate of the corporation is as follows: Edward S. Evans, president Stinson Aircraft Corporation, and Evans Auto Loading Company; Roy D. Chapin, chairman Hudson Motor Car Company; Charles F. Kettering, vice-president General Motors Corporation; William B. Mayo, chief engineer Ford Motor Company, and R. E. Olds, Reo Motor Car Company.

BUILDS METAL PLANES

The Burgess Aeronautical and Engineering Corporation leased a building at Featherstone and Durango avenues, where it is engaged in experimental work for the production of a new type all-metal amphibian, designed by Capt. H. D. Detjen, German war ace, who is employed as chief engineer of the concern.

To Secretary MacCormick of the Culver City chamber, is given credit for the success in locating the company here, according to Sangster, who said that company officials stated that they had planned to develop a present experimental laboratory at Champaign, Ill., into the main factory of the company.

Lieut. Walter K. Burgess, former commandant of the United States Army aviation post at Clover Field, Santa Monica, is president of the company, other officers being E. P. Hunziker, vice-president and general manager; George B. Bush, secretary-treasurer, and the following directorate: Harley A. Harmon, Joseph C. Wheeler, Charles F. Fries, John D. Rishell, C. W. Van Dyke, A. L. Cheney, Maj. Thomas Walkup and Haines Burgess.

TO MAKE MOTORS

The company is a $3,000,000 corporation and will manufacture, in addition to the all-metal amphibians, two types of motors patented by Lieut. Burgess. The Culver City plant contains 15,000 square feet of space which for the present will only be utilized for the building of the newly designed amphibian while the motors will be manufactured in a building located at Pico and Twelfth streets, Santa Monica.

This is declared by Sangster to be the first company in America to build an all-metal amphibian plane, the only other types being manufactured in Germany. The plane will be equipped with a 225-horsepower motor, and among its features will be the lack of pontoons, the ship resting on the hull of the cabin when in water. It also will be equipped with a retractable landing gear, folding into the wings.

EIGHTEEN AUTOS HELD BY POLICE TO BE SOLD

Eighteen automobiles, confiscated by the police through arrests of persons convicted for liquor law violations, will be offered for sale at public auction at the Lincoln Heights police station, 419 North Avenue 19, at 10 a.m. next Tuesday, it was announced yesterday. Included in the list are six touring cars, four roadsters, five coupes, four sedans and one truck.

MASONS GIVE DINNER FOR GRAND MASTER

A reception was given at Westlake Lodge last night by the French lodge, F. and A. M., No. 329, to Grand Master Gus A. Hutaff, State of California. One hundred Masons were present, including representatives of various lodges throughout Southern California. George Price acted as master of ceremonies following a formal dinner, the guests were entertained by vaudeville artists.

They strayed down into Kentucky, where they were shot to death with promptitude.

WILL'S GRAMMAR

Will Rogers's funny grammar distresses various readers of The Times. Also—I imagine—Will Rogers. He must have great difficulty in remembering to say "is" when the grammar says "are." That's his stuff, and if he changes it I will contribute to a fund to have him boiled in oil.

Rogers is witty, sure enough. But that's the least of it. His shrewd, penetrating philosophy ranks him with Mark Twain at Mark Twain's best.

LOST CITIES

Recent archeological discoveries seem to have added to the mysteries of life.

Another lost race has been unearthed in a cave near Lovelock, Nev. In culture it seems to have been about equal to the California Indians of historic times. It does not help the theory that races vanish because they become too refined.

There is a reasonable explanation for the disappearance of the highly-cultured Mayans and the soft Khmers of Angkor Wat; but such ruins as the "Lost City" of St. Thomas, Nev., remain a bewilderment. No evidences of battle, migration, floods or destruction. It is as though the population of a large town had just evaporated.

REWARDS FOR COPS

Two policemen and an undertaker are squabbling about a reward paid for the capture of a jewelry burglar.

The outstanding feature of all disputes about rewards is that there should be no rewards. It should not be necessary to steam up the police by dangling money in front of them. The theory of rewards is that the pals of the crooks thereby will be induced to tell the cops—which they don't.

"DIRTY PIG"

The ex-wife of Gen. Ludendorff has written a book telling everything she ought not to. However, among other things she relates a good story about a newly appointed German governor who asked an English factor how he should address the king of a certain tribe. "Your Majesty" or "Your Highness"? "I always called him a dirty pig and he seemed perfectly satisfied," was the reply.

A SLAM

Count Keyserling has written some unfeeling remarks about Los Angeles in an article about American cities. He says this is the "most weirdly unreal city I know." He says we are made up of movie stars and retired Babbitts—the latter being the "most unreal, ghostlike type in America." He says that Los Angeles is chiefly of value to the nation as a place to be laughed at.

However, a German journalist has just written an article about Count Keyserling and calls him the P. T. Barnum of wisdom. That makes us even.

TORSO MURDER MOTIVES CITED

State Seeks to Link Accused Doctor With Deals

Bankers Describe Accounts of Westlake and Woman

Glendale Store Cashier Tells of Typing Letter

While the torso and severed head of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton presumably lay hidden beneath brush and water in the bed of the Los Angeles River, Dr. Frank P. Westlake, accused of murdering the woman and dismembering her body, made preparations to record in his own name a lot formerly owned by Mrs. Sutton, according to a maze of circumstantial evidence woven about him by the State at his trial yesterday before Superior Judge Wood.

The prosecution maintained that the 57-year-old retired physician within three weeks after Mrs. Sutton's disappearance was engaged in liquidating her estate to his own use, borrowing money on stock bearing a forged indorsement and withdrawing money from a bank account held jointly by them.

LETTER PRODUCED

During this time, the prosecution further contended through witnesses, Dr. Westlake posed as a friend of relatives of Mrs. Sutton and produced a letter, declared by the defense to be only a copy, he asserted had been sent to him by the missing woman. While the investigation into the identity of the torso victim was in progress the doctor is asserted to have given dresses of Mrs. Sutton to women acquaintances and to have visited the grave of her mother, where he left flowers in what was described as an effort to mislead others in the belief that she was still alive.

Bringing in still another angle in the case, already complicated and involved in technicalities, Defense Attorney Kendrick examining Benjamin King, asserted rival of the doctor in the affections of Mrs. Sutton, rigidly questioned him again on his previous experience as a butcher and meat cutter. King, now a taxi driver, admitted on the witness stand the previous day that for several months he had been a butcher.

EX-BUTCHER QUESTIONED

King stated the only tool of his former trade he had possessed in a long time was a boning knife, removed with effects of Mrs. Sutton to the home of Dr. Westlake. Producing, in court another boning knife, Kendrick requested King to explain how certain cuts are performed in severing joints. With a picture of a portion of the torso in front of him, the witness made the demonstration.

Following the testimony of Jack Nathan, florist, who stated he had sold carnations to Dr. Westlake similar to those said to have been found on the grave of Mrs. Sutton's mother, it was stated by Kendrick that the doctor had placed flowers there out of his respect to the mother, with whom he had been acquainted.

QUIZZED ON TRIP

Yesterday marked King's second appearance on the witness stand. He was quizzed by Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Jordan, who, with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, is conducting the prosecution, about an asserted injury to the hand of Dr. Westlake at the time the two made an automobile trip to Randsburg to visit a mine in which the doctor was interested. Dr. Westlake told him he had injured the hand with a screwdriver, King testified.

Summoned as a prosecution witness, Mrs. Mary A. Sutton, sister-in-law of the supposedly murdered woman, testified concerning certain dental work performed on her teeth by Dr. Edwin C. Hyde, who testified last Wednesday that he recognized his work in the teeth of the jaw bones of the head, found some weeks following the finding of the torso and declared to be that of Mrs. Laura Sutton.

An effort is being made by the defense to prove that the dentist's description is inaccurate.

Mrs. Winifred De Groff, wife of the brother of Mrs. Sutton, testified the doctor told her he had hurt his hand when he fell off a ladder. She and her husband, Emerson De Groff, were questioned by the defense concerning an unidentified woman in black said to have been seen by Mrs. De Groff and her four-year-old daughter while riding to San Gabriel, and at first believed possibly to be Mrs. Sutton. Mrs. De Groff declared the woman was not her missing sister-in-law and resembled her only in the clothes she was wearing.

TELLS OF TYPING

De Groff, buyer for a wholesale drug company, told of acting as custodian of certain documents belonging to his sister while she was endeavoring to effect a financial settlement with her former husband, from whom she obtained a divorce in Ventura. He said he had asked Westlake to call at his home after his sister's disappearance to settle up her affairs if possible, but that the doctor failed to come.

The communication Westlake is asserted to have attributed to Mrs. Sutton was typed in the office of Brownie R. Owens, Glendale store cashier, according to the prosecution, from a letter written in longhand and taken there by the doctor. Owens testified that the property at 1810½ West Eleventh street, where Westlake lived, originally was owned by his grandfather and following his death, by his grandmother. Upon the death of his grandmother the property descended to the former Mrs. Westlake, a niece of Owens's grandmother, he said. Mrs. Westlake died some time ago, but no interest in the property is held by Dr. Westlake, according to his attorney.

OTHERS TESTIFY

Others to testify were Lena Price, who told of receiving a dress from Dr. Westlake; W. L. Rodman, branch bank manager, who testified concerning accounts maintained by Mrs. Sutton and the doctor; P. A. Baer, branch bank manager, whose testimony concerned an asserted loan made to Dr. Westlake on stock declared by the prosecution to have been owned by Mrs. Sutton, and Deputy Sheriff Gray. According to Gray, the accused doctor took him to the home of his son in Pasadena, where he produced bank books of the accounts from a hiding place in a garage.

Throughout the proceedings in court, Dr. Westlake alternately toyed with a rubber band, a pair of tortoise shell glasses or conferred with his attorney. Deputy Sheriff Jackson, a special guard, conducts him to and from the courtroom. It was intimated yesterday that the prosecution may finish its case today.

IMMORAL PLAYS LAW QUESTIONED

Court Grants Delay on Hearing for Cast of "Bad Babies"

Players Appear Again Today

DECLARING that in his belief the city ordinance covering immoral plays has been declared illegal, W. J. (Wild Bill) Clark, representing ten members of the cast of "Bad Babies," arrested at the Figueroa Playhouse Wednesday evening, asked Municipal Judge Bullock for time to plead to the charge yesterday in order that he may look up the law. The delay was granted, Judge Bullock ordering all of the defendants to return at 2 p.m. today.

Charges against Marjorie Montgomery, eleventh defendant on the charge, were filed in Juvenile Court, according to City Prosecutor Nix, as she is only 17 years of age. Those who appeared in court yesterday are Jobyna Ralston, leading woman and former film player; Elinor Flynn, Annette Westbay, Arthur Rankin, George Scarborough, Norman Peck, Mervin Williams, Dario Shindell, Charles Bruins and Frank Jennings, stage manager.

NEWEST SKY MARATHON WILL REFUEL OVER CITY

A type of endurance flight new to Los Angeles, a coast-to-coast nonstop and return, will be undertaken within a week, according to information received yesterday from the Chamber of Commerce of Baltimore, which is sponsoring the trip.

The City of Baltimore is the name of the ship and it will be piloted by George R. Hutchison of Baltimore. He will attempt to fly the craft from Baltimore and will be refueled while above Los Angeles and then attempt to swing back to the Chesapeake Bay city without having made a landing.

Albert Graham and F. A. Jones will accompany Hutchison as relief pilots.

As the plane passes over Los Angeles it will sound a siren and drop a letter of greeting to Mayor Porter and to the President of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The envelope will be attached to black and yellow streammers. If it should arrive at night a small flashlight will be attached. The letters will ask that the finder deliver them at once to the proper officials.

The plane has a fuel capacity of 600 gallons of gasoline, sufficient to carry it to Los Angeles, where it will be refueled from the air and will start immediately on its return trip. It also will be equipped with a radio receiving and sending set and will broadcast en route.

ALIMONY JAILS FILM COMEDIAN

vision that no American citizen can be jailed for debt.

Mrs. Lillian St. John, to whom the comedian owes the alimony, was represented by Attorney Harry Chamberlain. She obtained her divorce several years ago, at which time the court allowed her a sum for the support of herself and child.

St. John has been a familiar screen figure since the early days of motion pictures. He began his career as a knockabout comic in Mack Sennett comedies, when many of the present high-salaried and popular stars were working as chorus girls and "Keystone cops."

INCUBATOR BABY VIES FOR LIFE

anxious to have me for I had a little twin sister who died the day we were born. Wasn't that too bad?

"But mother is feeling just fine and even though it is very rare for a two-pound baby to live—I heard the doctor say so—still he says that I have done beautifull, and he is pleased with the way I kick and squirm and roll my big blue eyes, and I made the nurses laugh the first time I cried out loud. I forgot to say that I was born two months sooner than I should have been, but anyway, the doctor says that now I have just as good a chance to be well and strong as any normal baby.

"Oh, yes, I'd love to have my picture taken. I hope they are good and thank you for calling."

ARIZONA UNIVERSITY LAW STUDENT BURIED

Funeral services for Edward Payne Peck, University of Arizona law student and son of Harvey E. Peck, local hotel man, who was accidentally shot and killed while deer hunting near Ventura Monday, were conducted yesterday at the Ruppe Mortuary, 950 West Washington Boulevard. Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Peck, 22 years of age, was a star on the polo team at the University of Arizona.

SCHOOL TAX CUT DOWN FIVE CENTS

County Board Announces Reduction of More Than $1,000,000 in Budget

Reduction of more than $1,000,000 in the school budget will result from a recommendation made by the Board of Education to the Board of Supervisors and formally approved at the meeting of the educational body yesterday afternoon. This amendment to the budget will not materially limit the operation of the schools in the coming year, according to H. H. Baskerville, chairman of the finance committee.

The amendment will reduce the tax rate 5 cents per $100 valuation. The original budget was $1.66 per $100, and the present figure stands at $1.61 per $100 of valuation.

The elementary special, elementary special building and kindergarten fund, under the amendment have affected a reduction in the tax rate of 1 cent, making a saving of $206,091 in each division, or a total of $618,273.

A reduction of 2 cents in the tax rate on the high-school special fund effects a saving of $429,417.

The total amendment lowers the budget $1,047,690. The total of the original budget was $35,062,753.

In recommending the reduction the Board of Education requested the Board of Supervisors "to levy those tax rates as will produce the reduced revenues recommended by this board for the fiscal year 1929-30."

Nanking Police Adviser Studies Methods Here

Los Angeles police methods may be introduced in China soon, it was forecast yesterday when Capt. Albert S. Woods, adviser to the police department of Nanking, China, visited Central Station as Police Chief Davis's guest. He arrived here on the 15th inst. and will remain until October 1, next, studying newest improvements in police methods.

Capt. Woods was a member of the Berkeley police for twenty-seven years, for twenty of which he was chief of detectives under Chief Vollmer. Commenting on conditions in China, he said that perhaps through his efforts Nanking will adopt American police methods, although the old government favored a national police.

The two great police problems in China are traffic and crime detection, he said. There is not so much petty crime, but there is a great deal of kidnaping for ransom. Kidnaping, robbery and murder are capital crimes in China.

Poison Labels Demanded by Police Board

A demand by President Thorpe of the Police Commission that the Commission take action toward insisting that the skull and crossbones, indicating poison, be placed on bottles of shoe polish composed of poisonous materials, yesterday was referred to the Health Commission.

Thorpe's request followed his reading an account of how a little girl had succumbed to the effects of shoe polish she swallowed in the belief that the light-colored liquid was milk.

Thorpe read a list of recommendations which he said should be given consideration of the board, among them provision for padded cells to provide for patients, since the receiving hospital had refused to take psychopathic cases without a warrant. When the list was read by Thorpe the board adjourned.

City Wet So She Gains Divorce

Before moving from Butte, Mont., to Los Angeles, some one told Mrs. Marian M. Long that hard liquor is hard to get in the coast city, and the information heightened her resolve to come here so that her husband, Jack W. Long, wouldn't drink so much.

Such was the wife's testimony yesterday when asking Superior Judge Dehy to grant her a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and intemperance.

"When we left Butte my husband loaded a jug of liquor into the car and I was certainly glad when he drank it up. I thought sure by coming to the coast my husband couldn't get liquor and would quit drinking it. However, it did not seem to make much difference, he drank just as much as he ever did," Mrs. Long declared.

A decree was granted.

Girls Meet for Friendly Games

"Playdays" begin at 10 a.m. today in Yosemite and Exposition municipal playgrounds, bringi together the girls of six city recreation centers in friendly games, instead of in competition. Such is the plan announced by Mrs. Mildred P. Werdin, director of girls' and women's activities in the Playground and Recreation Department.

Girls from Yosemite, Verdugo and Arroyo Seco playgrounds are to meet at Yosemite playground, while the girls of Exposition, Queen Anne and Vineyard playgrounds are to mingle at the Exposition playground. Games, pastimes, swimming and dancing make up the day's program.

MOTHER'S HATE FOR BABY TOLD

Witness Says Mrs. Valenti Mistreated Child

Small Girl Relates Seeing Cab Set on Fire

Jury in Infant-Murder Case Guarded by Bailiff

Testimony that Mrs. Rose Valenti, 19 years of age, who is accused of having burned her 8-month-old son Dominich to death, repeatedly had expressed an aversion to children before her baby was born and had mistreated the child many times before its death was given yesterday at her trial on a charge of first-degree murder before Superior Judge McComb.

These assertions were made by Rosa Valenti, mother of the girl's husband, Sabatino Valenti. Before the baby's birth, the elder Mrs. Valenti said, her son and daughter-in-law lived in her home at 669 Moulton street and after the baby's birth the couple moved to a two-room house at the rear of the same home. It was in an alley between this house and a garage that it is charged the mother placed the baby buggy containing Dominich and then set fire to it on the morning of July 8, last.

It was brought out in the examination of the girl's mother-in-law by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Penney that her son and the defendant were not married until after the birth of the baby.

Mrs. Valenti can speak Italian only and her examination was conducted through a court interpreter. This expedient also was adopted with Esther Garcia, 10, living next to the Valenti house. She testified that while on her way to a neighboring store she saw the defendant strike a match and throw away a matchbox.

The little girl said she continued on her way to the store and she immediately returned home. When she came to the Valenti house on her way back, she said, the baby carriage and a portion of the wall near which it stood were on fire.

Another witness yesterday was John Giors, of 661 Moulton avenue, the neighbor who first saw the fire. The trial will be resumed at 2 p.m. today and meanwhile the jury has been locked up in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Thorne.

TWO OF STATE BOARDS NAMED

ert P. Easley, Antioch, and Frank W. Mixter, Exeter.

This is a reappointed committee which was brought into existence by the Legislature two years ago, with the exception of Assemblyman Easley, who replaces E. J. Adams of Livingston.

PROJECTS URGED

The water committee, it was pointed out by Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, made a tentative report to the Legislature at the last session recommending the construction of an impounding dam on the Sacramento River at Kennett; the allocation and distribution in the San Joaquin Valley of the surplus water recovered; the construction of a salt-water barrier in the Sacramento River near Antioch, and flood control work in the Santa Ana River basin. The estimated aggregate cost of all the improvements under consideration by the committee exceeds $500,000,000, Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan said.

This committee also will act in conjunction with State and Federal commissions which are to be appointed by Gov. Young and President Hoover for an investigation of California water problems.

The tax investigation committee appointment was authorized by the Legislature for the special purpose of making a study of the report that was made to the last Legislature by the State Tax Commission appointed by Gov. Young two years ago. It also will be concerned generally with all the tax problems of the State and counties, municipalities and political subdivisions of the State, and make recommendations to the Legislature at its next session.

Patient Reaches Hospital by Air

Richard Longyear, 24-year-old Altadena youth, who traveled on a stretcher aboard an airplane from Missoula, Mont., to Los Angeles Wednesday, will be operated on this morning at the Osteopathic Sanitarium Hospital, according to Dr. Norman S. Sprague, chief of staff.

In commenting upon the condition of Longyear, University of Minnesota student and cousin of W. D. Longyear, Los Angeles banker, Dr. Sprague praised the service rendered the sick man aboard the plane, which was converted into a "flying hospital" during the trip from Salt Lake City.

Longyear was accompanied on the trip from Missoula by his brother, Clyde S. Longyear, and Dr. Asa Willard. He is suffering from a mastoid affliction.

YOUNG TALKS TO VETERANS

Lunch Honors Al W. Chase and Clarence Kincaid; Co-operation of Bodies Urged

Pleas for stronger co-operation of veterans of all wars for their mutual benefit and the general welfare of the State constituted the keynote of addresses by Gov. Young and other Californians at the Alexandria yesterday at a luncheon given in honor of Al W. Chase, new State Commander of the United Veterans of the Republic, and Clarence Kincaid, newly elected State Commander of the American Legion.

A year of active organization and increase of membership in the U. V. R. was predicted by Mr. Chase as well as by Mr. Kincaid, each speaker voicing the hope that members of the U. V. R. and American Legion will work together in educating the public concerning the importance of the veterans' welfare legislation, especially the proposed $20,000,000 bond issue for veterans' homes, to be voted on in 1930.

Expressing his pleasure in his two months' visit to Los Angeles, Gov. Young discussed the welfare of veterans, declaring he had no apologies to make for having appointed so many army men on his staff "since the men who so valiantly serve their country in time of war are made of the right metal for service in time of peace." Gov. Young asked full support of veterans and the general public of John R. Quinn, recently appointed head of the Military and Veterans' Affairs Department.

The program was in charge of Joseph T. Painer who said that the soldiers of the Revolution fought that the nation might be born, the veterans of the Civil War sacrificed themselves for the country's preservation and the soldiers of the Spanish-American and World Wars served for the same principles of justice and liberty.

E. Neal Ames, chairman of the luncheon club of the U. V. R. of Los Angeles county, announced that the luncheons, to which all veterans are invited, are conducted at the Alexandria every Thursday noon.

JURY FAILS OF VERDICT IN BEATING

Attack Charged to Four Actors Brings Deadlock; Retrial to be Ordered

Unable to reach an agreement after five hours' deliberation, the jury which was to determine whether Harvey G. Parry, George S. Wilson, Edward Welch and Sam Cummings were guilty of an assault asserted to have been committed on Harry Deck and Frank Goddard, other actors, during the recent trouble between film producers and the Actors' Equity Association was discharged yesterday by Municipal Judge Haas. The case will be set for retrial this morning by Judge Bogue.

Parry and Welch went on the stand yesterday in their own defense. Welch declared that he went to see Deck at Warner Brothers' casting office in an effort to collect on an assertedly bogus check which Deck had given him. Deputy City Prosecutor Fox on cross-examination attempted to bring out the asserted reason for the assault, which he declared was Deck's refusal to rejoin the Equity after dropping his membership. Parry testified that he drove the automobile which the others occupied and that he was not engaged in the melee which followed the asserted attack on Deck.

Big Pines Camp Prepares for Holiday Fete

Big Pines Recreation Camp in the Sierra Madre Mountains will hold an entertainment with a varied program of attractions, because of the three-day holiday caused by Labor Day, it was announced by Chief Ranger Tuttle yesterday.

"Only once or twice a year do city dwellers have an opportunity to take three days off and make a trip to the mountains," Mr. Tuttle said, "and when they do we try to provide unusually attractive features for our guests."

A grand ball at Recreation Hall Saturday night, with music by the Pomona College Boys' Orchestra, will be the feature. Riding, dancing and swimming contests will make the sport program interesting on Monday.

Both roads, by way of Palmdale, 100 miles from the Courthouse, and over Cajon Pass, ninety miles, are reported to be in fine condition. Camp grounds, light and water facilities are available for 10,000 persons.

COUNCIL VOTES AUTO REPAIR FOR DE SILVA

The City Council yesterday granted authority to Acting Director of Airports de Silva to have his departmental automobile repaired at an outside machine shop, instead of by the city. Councilman Webster charged during the debate that the city mechanics couldn't even reline brakes properly.

DEAN MARTIN TO LECTURE IN COLLEGES OF ORIENT

Prof. Charles E. Martin, chairman of the executive committee of the Institute of International Relations, which meets annually at Riverside Mission Inn, with Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid as chancellor, has been named visiting professor of international relations to certain universities of Japan, China and the Pacific area, under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Dr. Martin has served as visiting professor of international relations at the University of Hawaii during the summer term, and is scheduled to go to Japan in September.

Dean Martin received his undergraduate training at the University of California, and his graduate training in international law at Columbia University under John Bassett Moore. He organized and headed the department of political science at the University of California at Los Angeles, and later became head of the same department at the University of Washington. He is a member of the executive council of the American Political Science Association and of the American Society of International Law. He was director of the Institute of International Relations at Riverside in 1927, and was the organizing executive of the same institute when a summer session was held at Seattle in July, 1928.

The 1929 Institute of International Relations will be held at Riverside from December 8 to 13, next.

Dean Martin is to lecture before the Imperial Japanese universities of Tokio and Kyoto, and at Doshisha and Waseda universities, and the Lingman, Nanking, Shanghai and National universities of China.

ALIMONY ONLY FOR CHILDREN

No Able-bodied Childless Woman Can Expect It in Judge Burnell's Court

Healthy young women who have no children need expect no alimony in Superior Judge Burnell's court, the judge informed a group of expectant "collectrices" who appeared before him yestrday.

"Women with no encumbrances who can support themselves should not draw alimony," said Judge Burnell. "The purpose of alimony is to make a man support his children. There is nothing in the statute that compels him to support an able-bodied woman just because he married her."

Judge Burnell took judicial knowledge of the fact that an operation for appendicitis does not incapacitate a man for useful work.

"Appendicitis?" the court replied to the plea of Norman E. Humphrey that he couldn't pay alimony for the support of his child. "I had an operation six months ago myself. I have a lot of lesions, too, but I can chop wood and play golf just the same. I will order you to pay this woman $25 a month."

BROADWAY EXTENSION ADVANCED

Council Denies Appeals and Confirms Assessment so Work May Proceed

The City Council yesterday denied all appeals and confirmed the revised assessments for the opening and extending of Broadway between Pico and Thirty-eighth streets. This is one of the major traffic arteries. It will make a street approximately eighty feet wide.

The courts have awarded $3,734,557 for the land condemned and the expenses are $39,823, making a total cost of $3,774,380. An allocation of city funds, amounting to $500,000, reduces the cost of the assessment district to $3,274,380.

There are 1288 pieces of property involved in the assessment district. Only forty appeals were filed.

Girl Who Sought Death Finds It

Death, which Emma Martinez, 15-year-old student, sought in preference to attending a girls' school, yesterday came to her in the French Hospital.

The day before, according to a police report, the girl swallowed a quantity of ant paste after her parents had sought to have her continue her school studies at a local school for girls. She was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and later sent to the French Hospital. The body was removed to the county morgue.

The girl's home was at 513 North Figueroa street.

OFFICERS TELL ABOUT DRINKS

Police Commission Learns Something New

Pair Who Obtained Pansich Evidence Quizzed

Both Say They Imbibed to Help Build Case

An investigation called by President Thorpe of the Police Commission yesterday to question Officers R. F. Southerd and A. [illegible] Duncan of the vice squad, [illegible] acquainted with the fact [illegible] should not drink while on duty, [illegible] told in a newspaper story [illegible] abatement case against the restaurant of Tony Pansich, [illegible] East First street, resulted in the commission learning otherwise.

Thorpe sought to know whether there were men on the force who knew so little about the rules of the department. The officers said they had been drinking at Pansich's but that it was in the line of duty in order to further efforts to obtain liquor evidence.

Southerd went into more detail and said that during conversations with Pansich the latter had informed him he was "paying $100 a week to a police commissioner for protection." Southerd said Pansich also named other officials. The commissioner named is no longer on the board.

Commissioner [illegible] while he bore no brief for the commissioner named such statements should not be aired unless they could be sustained. If they could, he said, he was in favor of having the matter taken up with the grand jury or the District Attorney.

EVIDENCE EXPLAINED

Dep. Dist.-Atty. [illegible] explained that statements of such a nature were not the thing on which complaints could be obtained in the District Attorney's office, unless charges could be corroborated. A complainant must know something himself, according to [illegible].

Chief Davis suggested that the commission appoint a committee of two to confer with all the officers who had been in Pansich's place to get at the facts.

Commissioner [illegible] hearing further from Southerd on the subject, "just out of fairness," but Deputy Prosecutor [illegible] that since anything Southerd said would be held against him, should he come up for discipline, it was not fair to the officer.

DOESN'T BELIEVE STORY

Southerd was questioned by the commissioners as to whether he believed Pansich's story about the $100 weekly bribery.

"I absolutely don't believe it," he said. "This commissioner told us to go out after this place and get the goods on it."

This settled the matter of going further into Pansich's story and on motion of Commissioner [illegible] a resolution was passed to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting "that the fact that the commissioner in question had told the officers to go after Pansich moves us to believe that there is nothing in the story of Pansich. The officer himself tells us he does not believe the story."

Duncan, when questioned, admitted that on the witness stand in Judge Aggeler's court he did not complete what he would have said under cross-examination. He admitted he had been drinking at Pansich's, but that it was in the line of duty. He knew it was against the rules of the department, he said, but was not given a chance to say so.

The two officers, who had been called for questioning, were sent back to duty.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kitzmiller explained that statements of such a nature were not the thing on which complaints could be obtained in the District Attorney's office, unless such charges could be corroborated. A complainant must know something himself, according to Kitzmiller.

Chief Davis suggested that the commission appoint a committee of two to confer with all the officers who had been in Pansich's place to get at the facts.

Commissioner Drake suggested hearing further from Southerd on the subject, "just out of curiosity," but Deputy Prosecutor McClean said that since anything Southerd said would be held against him, should he come up for disciplining, it was not fair to the officer.

DOESN'T BELIEVE STORY

Southerd was questioned by the commissioners as to whether he believed Pansich's story about the $100 weekly bribery.

"I absolutely don't believe it," he said. "This commissioner told us to go out after this place and get the goods on it."

This settled the matter of probing further into Pansich's stories and on motion of Commissioner Drake a resolution was passed to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting "that the fact that the commissioner in question had told the officers to go after Pansich moves us to believe that there is nothing in the story of Pansich. The officer himself tells us he does not believe the story."

Duncan, when questioned, admitted that on the witness stand in Judge Aggeler's court he did not complete what he would have said under cross-examination. He admitted he had been drinking at Pansich's, but that it was in the line of duty. He knew it was against the rules of the department, he said, but was not given a chance to say so.

The two officers, who had been called for questioning, were ordered back to duty.

COHEN ACCUSED IN NEW COUNTS

Sixteen Violations of Drug Laws Charged

Indictments Also List Two Gun Offenses

Grand Jury Meets Specially; $100,000 Bail Needed

Sixteen counts of violation of the State narcotic laws and two counts of possession of guns with the identification numbers removed were filed against Hymie Cohen yesterday in two indictments returned by the county grand jury in special session.

Cohen, who was arrested by Tom [illegible], chief of the District Attorney's detective staff, and Harry [illegible] of the police narcotic detail and other officers, is accused of being the leader of a large narcotic peddling ring in Los Angeles.

Under the new indictments, Cohen must furnish $100,000 bond if he wishes to be released from the County Jail pending his trial. The defendant previously had been charged with similar offenses in complaints issued by the District Attorney. Bond on these charges was fixed at $85,000, but through habeas corpus proceedings in the Appellate Court this was ordered reduced to $35,000.

Inasmuch as several of the charges in the indictments issued yesterday are duplicated in the complaints, it is believed that the District Attorney may ask for dismissal of them when the cases come up for trial so that the defendant may be tried on all counts at the same proceedings.

SOCIETY OF CHURCHMEN TO CONVENE

Delegates of German Catholic Federation Will Arrive Tomorrow

Delegates to the German Catholic State Federation convention are to arrive at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Central Station. They will be greeted by a reception committee consisting of Joseph Geiger, president of St. Anthony's German Catholic Society; Anton Voss, president of the Gesellen Verein; J. H. Dockweiler, Theodore Bussman, Gustave Riese and Stephen Buhr.

Solemn high mass at St. Joseph's at 9 a.m. Sunday precedes the convention, Father Didacus of St. Louis, Mo., delivering the sermon and welcome. State President J. A. Werner will call the convention to session at 2 p.m. Sunday, in St. Joseph's hall. The peak event is the meeting at 8 p.m. Sunday, German Vice-Consul H. Hage being a speaker. Bishop Cantwell, Mayor Porter, Judge Aggeler, J. H. Dockweiler and Dr. Windhorst, founder of the German Catholic Center party, are among the notables to attend. Joseph Mesmer will introduce Anthony Schwamm as chairman of German Catholic Day.

The convention will continue through Monday, ending with a banquet.

WIFE HURT IN FALL AND MATE HELD

Another Man Sought as Police Fail to Learn if Tumble Was Accidental

Mrs. Patricia Kelly, 36 years of age, was critically injured yesterday when she fell to a concrete pavement from a second-story window of her home at 443 Crocker street. Police reported they were unable to determine whether she fell accidentally or had been pushed out, and pending further investigation they held at central station for questioning her husband, James, 30, who they assert was in the house at the time. They also instituted a search for a man named Joe Molik who Kelly told them was present, too, when the woman fell.

At the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where Mrs. Kelly was given first-aid for a fractured skull and possible internal injuries, Police Surgeon Loposich reported both the woman and her husband showed indications they had been drinking. After emergency treatment Mrs. Kelly was transferred to the General Hospital.

ABBOTT WILL BE HERE

Noted Educator Coming From East as Guest at Celebrations

Dr. Mather Almon Abbott, well-known educator, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow to be the guest, until Thursday, September 5, next, of the University Club and the alumni of Yale and Princeton Universities and Lawrenceville Preparatory School, Lawrenceville, N. J., of which he is headmaster. Plans for his entertainment have been arranged by E. Avery McCarthy, chairman of the Southern California Fathers' Association of Lawrenceville School.

Among the affairs planned in Dr. Abbott's honor will be a dinner at the University Club Tuesday evening, at which he will deliver an address on "The Young Man of Today—Whither and Why." Guests will include Dr. Ernest Moore, president of University of California at Los Angeles, and Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of University of Southern California.

RESORT COMPANY PLEADS BANKRUPTCY

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in United States District Court by the Seymour Finance Corporation, operators of lodges at June Lake, Mono county. The petition mentioned liabilities of $202,165 and assets of [illegible].

Doctor Takes Some Speed Medicine

Motor of Track Days Seemed Very Tame

Dr. William E. Shattuck, left, former auto race driver, and Lieut. Harry Brown, who took physician up for speed test.

EX-RACER OF AUTOS GETS NEW THRILL

Dr. W. E. Shattuc Flies at 200-Mile Clip With Pilot of Lockheed-Hornet

Thundering and roaring down the track at seventy-five miles an hour in a racing automobile used to give Dr. William E. Shattuc a real thrill, but he says he never knew what speed was until yesterday, when he took a trip with Lieut. Harry Brown in a Lockheed-Hornet at approximately 200 miles an hour.

The former racing driver was a member of the A.A.A., when high speed was just coming into existence. His opportunity to experience real speed came when Lieut. Brown invited him to take a trip with him in the ship which will be flown from here to Cleveland in a nonstop race against time.

"When the huge plane was given the gun we rose so rapidly that all feeling of nervousness left me. We were going 250 feet per second, I have been told, and that was almost twice as fast as I ever went before. I believe that if people could but experience the perfect flight that I did there would be more travel in the air. It certainly was wonderful," Dr. Shattuc said.

BUNIONIST SURRENDERS ON CHARGES

C. C. Pyle Appears and Has Trial Set on Failure to Pay Wages to Aides

Surrendering at central police station, C. C. Pyle, transcontinental bunion derby promoter, yesterday entered pleas of not guilty before Municipal Judge Bogue to two charges of failing to pay wages earned by members of his entourage. He requested jury trial, which Judge Bogue set for September 25, next, releasing him on $500 bail. Pyle, who has been sought by police since Judge Bogue issued the first warrant for him last Saturday, gave his age as 47 years and his address as 423 South Coronado street.

The former manager of Red Grange, football star, is accused of failing to pay Paul Hickman, an actor, $483 wages and of theft of the labor of James Thorpe to the amount of $50. If convicted, he faces a possible jail sentence of one year and a fine of $1000.

PEASE FEATURES "CARESS"

An organ composition written by Frederic Groton of Huntington Park will be featured by Sibley G. Pease at his organ recital at the Elks' Temple tomorrow afternoon. It is called "Caress." The recital, which begins at 4:30 p.m., is open to the public.

GOV. YOUNG HAS 'BULLY' TIME HERE

Executive Goes Back to Sacramento After Stay of Two Months in City

"Bully!"

Unconsciously echoing the pet phrase of the late President Roosevelt, Gov. Young, who departed for Sacramento yesterday after a two-months stay in Los Angeles, used that word to describe his visit here.

"I have had a perfectly bully time these past two months, even though I have been one of the busiest men in Southern California," the Governor said just before his departure. "I have enjoyed every minute of my stay here and I have made many contacts that have been helpful."

During the forenoon the Governor received many callers in his offices in the Associated Realty Building and to them he announced that he will return to the city on September 19, and that he will come here two or three times a month thereafter.

On the eve of his departure Gov. Young announced that he has named Miss Leona Holmstrup as assistant secretary in permanent charge in his Los Angeles office. Miss Holmstrup, who came to Los Angeles with the Governor last June, has proven an invaluable aid to the chief executive and announcement that she is to remain here was hailed with delight by heads of the various State departments in Los Angeles yesterday.

Gov. Young was accompanied to Sacramento by Keith Carlin, private secretary.

Three Held as Counterfeiters

Asserted attempts of three men to pass five supposed fake silver dollars on Justice E. L. Neykirk of Camarillo, Ventura county, who operates a service station, resulted in the arrest yesterday of Theodore Miller, Ralph Tully and Maurice O'Connell.

It was stated to W. W. Ashe, in charge of the secret service for the Treasury Department, that when two officers arrived from Ventura, after the three men had been detained, numerous fake coins were found on the ground near them. A complaint has not been filed against the three.

DYER-ACT VIOLATION SUSPECT ARRAIGNED

James M. Supple, accused of violation of the Dyer Act by the transportation of an assertedly stolen car from Tulsa, Okla., to Los Angeles, was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Hansen. He waived hearing and was held to answer to the Federal grand jury.

STEUER EXPECTED TODAY

New York Lawyer Due for Conference With Pantages Attorneys on Defense Plans

While the District Attorney's office made a final round up of witnesses yesterday, Alexander Pantages, theater owner, and his wife, Mrs. Lois Pantages, both to be tried on felony charges next month, prepared today to welcome Max Steuer, noted New York criminal attorney, who is hurrying here to take part in the Pantages defense.

Steuer is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles late today, either by way of the Transcontinental Air Transport route, or by rail. Dispatches from the East Wednesday declared the New York attorney was leaving New York via the air-rail route, which would land him in Glendale between 5 and 5:45 p.m. today.

WIFE'S DEFENSE

When the New York lawyer arrives here he is expected to go into immediate conference with Attorneys W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford, both also retained by Pantages, to learn the details of the State's case against Mrs. Pantages which goes to trial in Judge Hardy's court next Tuesday. Mrs. Pantages is charged with driving her automobile while intoxicated and causing the death of Joe Rokumoto and injuries to several of Rokumoto's children.

Although no statements were forthcoming from Attorneys Gilbert or Ford yesterday, rumors were to the effect that Mrs. Pantages's defense would be based on a plea that she was suffering from a nervous disorder when her machine crashed into Rokumoto's light car. It was testified by various witnesses at Mrs. Pantages's hearing in Municipal Court that she struck three other machines before she hit Rokumoto and several other witnesses also testified that in their opinion she was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

MESSENGER QUESTIONED

Dist.-Atty. Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert Stewart, were busy yesterday putting the finishing touches to the cases against Mrs. Pantages and her husband, the latter to go on trial in Superior Judge Fricke's court on September 23. Leo Fisher, a messenger boy, who was declared to have been delivering a message in the Pantages Theater Building on the day that Eunice Pringle declares that Pantages attacked her in a small room of the edifice, yesterday was questioned by the prosecutors. It was declared that Fisher's testimony would corroborate that already given by State's witnesses at the preliminary hearing.

KICKING BITTERS DECIDED LEGAL

Federal Judge Says They May be Served

Old Product Faces Shame of Being Accused

Law's Silence on "Beverage Purpose" Blamed

Bitters, even if they contain alcohol, may be served, even in individual drinks without violating the National Prohibition Act, according to a ruling by United States District Judge Henning. The decision was on file yesterday.

The decision came in the case of G. F. Buckley, defendant, who was accused of serving four drinks of Amargo bitters to prohibition agents. The defendant stated that he had been instructed by the owner of the place where he worked not to serve one person more than two drinks of the bitters, and that, if he had, he had been deceived into doing so. He had pleaded guilty on the understanding that, if the court held no crime had been committed, the case would be dismissed.

It was brought out that the bitters in question had been on the market forty years and been sold by case and bottle and the court held that it was no infraction of the prohibition laws to sell it by drink, due largely to failure to define what is a "beverage purpose." It was stated by the court that the case does not constitute a test case with regard to the sale of bitters or drinks similarly sold. The case was dismissed and the defendant discharged.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE JAILED

Phil Mohun, soldier of fortune, last night took up his residence in the County Jail after having been arrested by R. T. Aulbert, detective lieutenant, charged with issuing a $50 worthless check in Coffeyville, Kan.

Shortly after his arrest, Mohun failed in an attempt to obtain his release through a writ of habeas corpus which was denied by Superior Judge Aggeler.

Mohun also is awaiting trial on charges brought by Federal authorities accusing him of transporting airplanes into Mexico during the revolution in violation of the neutrality laws.

Suspect Held in Forgery Quiz

Suspicion of forgery was charged yesterday against Harry M. Lewis, 28 years of age, of 128 South Alta street, who says he is an assistant director in motion pictures.

Hollywood police assert that Lewis was one of a gay party at a West Hollywood cafe where one man dropped an American Express book of travelers' checks. The detectives charged that Lewis picked up the book and forged seven $20 checks, which were passed on stores and cafes. Lewis was placed in the Hollywood jail pending further investigation.

Fleecing of Patrons Laid to Barbers

A drive has been started by the Los Angeles Health Department on local barber shops asserted to be operated in violation of city and State sanitation laws.

F. D. Sweger, director of housing and sanitation, asserted some barbers keep small, white round objects made from wax or soap in stock and pretend that these are taken from the hair of patrons and that special treatments and shampoos are necessary to save the hair.

W. D. Smoodin, operator of a shop at 518 3-4 Towne avenue, and M. D. Warren, at 520 East Fifth street, were arrested by Health Inspector C. F. Lewis and B. A. Lovett. Before Municipal Judge Bogue, Warren pleaded guilty to applying a towel to more than one face and was fined $15. Soodin pleaded not guilty to a similar charge and his trial was set for September 24, next, according to Sweger.

Police Denied Secret Service Rum Law Fund

The City Council yesterday refused to appropriate an additional $5000 per month to the police secret service fund for the enforcement of the liquor laws. Chief Davis asked for this money following the commission's action in forbidding police to enter houses without search warrants.

Under the budget the department receives $2500 a month for this work.

Owen Funeral Will Be Today

Funeral services for Cyrus W. Owen of 1789 West Adams street, will be conducted at the chapel of Pierce & Lowe, 925 West Washington street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Owen, for twenty-three years a resident of Los Angeles, was the father-in-law of Dr. E. J. Wylie, past president of the State Board of Dental Examiners of California, and brother of the late Charles Owen, Representative from Montana. He was 71 years of age and had been ill for the past year. He died at Roosevelt Hospital Wednesday morning. He is survived by his widow and daughter, Mrs. E. J. Wylie of this city.

Doran to Arrive Here Today for Grape Surveys

Dr. J. M. Doran, commissioner of prohibition for the United States, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning at about 8 o'clock over the Southern Pacific, it was stated yesterday at the local prohibition offices. Dr. Doran has been conferring with dry administrators on the Pacific Coast and with grape growers in California.

In a meeting Wednesday in San Francisco he gave his idea of marketing California's large crop of grapes and of methods to control the use of the product. It is expected Dr. Doran will spend several days in Los Angeles and vicinity.

RAIL MAN'S FUNERAL TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

Final rites for Henry M. Williams, for forty years one of the most prominent railroad men in the West, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the J. D. Paris Company chapel, Tenth and Flower streets. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mr. Williams, connected with the Santa Fe for many years, was one of the oldest members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and widely known among trainmen. He died last Tuesday at his residence at 2433 South Grand avenue. He leaves one son, Joseph L. Williams, of this city.

Today's Bible Text

"Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves." Philippians ii:3.

BARRING THE RED

There is a State law which forbids the display of the red flag as a Communist emblem. We can't think of any reason why a bozo would care to show one—unless it is the itch to do the forbidden. It is only a danger signal here and who wants to travel in quarantine?

TABLE DELICACIES

Mexican authorities have granted licenses for the drying and salting of burro meat. Maybe some of these desert prospectors can catch these mountain canaries by putting salt on their tails and live forever. If a man doesn't like his burro here is one way he can be dried up.

GOING DOWN

An aviator making a leap from an altitude plane made a straight drop of more than 9000 feet before opening his parachute. In the olden days many folks thought that a man who fell from a very high place would be dead or unconscious before he struck bottom. Now he is liable to be whistling jazz stuff for the first mile down.

THE MOTHER BIRD

Our pet dirigible, the Los Angeles, is also a roosting place for flyers. The airship has been able to hook up and loosen planes while journeying swiftly on its own account. The mother bird provides a nest for her fledglings. The dirigible is not specifically built for this mission, but it is fine to know that it can be undertaken with safety and success.

THE PAPER SUIT

An authority asserts that the man of the future will go to his tailor shop and have his clothes cut from a specialized grade of paper which may be glued together as the fitting process goes on. The suit will cost about $2 and at the end of the month the wearer can touch a match to it and burn it up while he is having the next one made. The Sunday paper would give the whole family a new outfit. It sounds very simple, but a practical joker at a stag smoker could have a lot of fun.

PERSIAN PATTERNS

They have quite a bit of the new freedom in Persia. The women no longer wear veils and they may circulate where they will. But they must still be mighty careful of their associates. Neither maid nor matron may speak to a man in the street or even walk on the same side of the highway if it can be helped. If the girls here were subject to such regulation they would start a revolution—and make it stick. It is likely, however, that in the next turn-over the Persian beauties will be on a par with the peris of Paris.

A DOG'S LIFE

A Sacramento court decided that a man was too mean to own a dog and took the animal away from him. The funny thing is that the hound refused to obey the judgment of the court and tried to stick to the man—thus proving that his race recognizes obligations that are trivial to mankind. This guy had abused the animal terribly and practiced many forms of cruelty upon him, but the dog was nevertheless willing to forgive and forget. Some folks look down upon a dog's life, when as a matter of fact they are not wholesome enough to live up to it.

WANT TO BE NOTORIOUS

The ruling passion shows early. Here is a little girl in her teens who wants an official guardian named at once, although she has her parents to rely upon at all times. But she craves a court guardian because she is going to make a world-record flight as soon as she learns to fly and can find a millionaire to back her. She will need the guardian to make contracts for the vaudeville, movie and magazine engagements that will at once follow and the cigarette indorsements she can sell. This is her preparedness. She is ready to hop to Shanghai on one lipstick. The funny thing is that the world is cluttered up with fairies like this. If they don't make the front page their lives are worthless. And they don't care much how they make it.

THE RIOTS IN PALESTINE

British troops appear to have put down, for the time being at least, the religious war in Palestine between Jews and Arabs. It is an excellent thing for the peace of the world and for the solidarity of the British Empire that they have succeeded, and it is to be hoped that that success will continue. Serious ill feeling between the followers of Mohammed and those of Moses began in the time of Mohammed himself and has continued at intervals ever since. In so long-standing a quarrel it is not easy to arrange a peace; but the British Empire will have no peace of mind unless one is attained.

The danger is not so much in Palestine as it is in other British spheres of influence, especially Egypt and India, though the trouble in Palestine might become serious enough if Ibn Saud, King of the Hedjaz, decided to take a hand in it. This monarch, very modern in some respects, very medieval in others, especially in a fanatical devotion to the precepts of Islam, has a formidable and well-equipped fighting force at his command and his ability as a military leader has been tested and found considerable. In Egypt Britain has the Suez Canal to guard, and in Egypt, in India, as in Palestine, she has that much more precious possession, British prestige.

There is, perhaps, not much danger of a "holy war." The Germans tried their best to get a jehad under way during the World War, when opportunities were unusually favorable, but the effort failed miserably. Now the Turks can be counted out; they have even abolished the Caliphate, rallying point for Mohammedanism; and such influence as they have will, without doubt, be cast in the scales for peace. The remaining Mohammedan countries (excepting always the Hedjaz) are weak and leaderless. The old quarrel between the Sunnites and the Shiites is still unreconciled. In India, any attempt of the Mohammedans to stir up trouble would bring down on their heads the far more numerous Hindus, whom they hate and who hate them.

The danger is that if rioters in Palestine or anywhere else get the upper hand, it may inspire the natives of every country under British rule to attempt a similar revolt.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald's government is reported to be wearying of the Palestine mandate, but not even a pacifist (and MacDonald is not completely that) at the head of the British government would dare to take the responsibility of a retirement under fire, with all that it might entail.

Britain has not, of course, to carry all the burden; France is forced to move to prevent unrest in her mandated area in Syria, and both France and Spain will do careful watching in North Africa.

The difficulty in Jerusalem arises largely from the fact that the "wailing wall," long venerated by the Jews as a holy place, is in close proximity to the Mosque of Omar, equally holy from a Moslem standpoint, and that the adherents of each religion feel the presence in that vicinity of the other as a desecration. Such feelings are easier to understand than to abolish. Jerusalem, of course, is accustomed to religious riots; the city has had them from very ancient times; many have been furnished by Christian factions fighting over the holy places of that faith; and the Zionization of Palestine probably will not be accomplished without further difficulty of the same sort.

But it behooves the British to do their best to keep order, for they have more than local tranquillity at stake.

THOSE POWER WIRES

The narrow escape of the Graf Zeppelin from contact with high-voltage power wires along one of the borders of Mines Field, the Los Angeles municipal airport, emphasizes the desirability of removing those wires to some safer location. The catastrophe which might conceivably have followed had that contact been established would have staggered the world. The ignition of such a vast volume of hydrogen and other inflammable gases would almost certainly have slain thousands of the spectators as well as the crew and passengers of the airship.

Since it is not easy to move airports, and since the location of these must be chosen with many different factors in mind, it is the power wires that must be moved because the airport has the right of way, without regard to which was established first. Power lines can be run almost anywhere and changing them from one place to another presents no technical difficulties; it is only a matter of expense.

The relatively small expense involved when it is a question, as it is at Mines Field, of human life, should not be permitted consideration. These power lines are unquestionably a danger to airplanes; they are a much greater danger to lighter-than-air craft, which, in the normal course, are likely to be considerable users of the municipal airport in the not-distant future. To say that a major disaster was missed at Mines Field Monday night by a margin of a few feet is to utter a sufficient argument for ending the dangerous condition and promptly.

THE MOVIE KISS

The movie kiss seems to have become a permanent institution. And yet there is not much enthusiasm in general to justify it. It may have begun as a fadeaway, leaving the reality to the imagination, as was recently demonstrated by May Irwin and John C. Rice. But more and more it has become unashamed and brazen, leaving the imagination free to take a complete vacation.

If the director only knew that the public would rather exercise its own brain in some matters, the realism would not be exploited. Young folks themselves are so ashamed of it in actual life that they turn out the lights in order not to see it themselves. A kiss in the dark is much more effective. The klieg light does not improve it.

From the standpoint of sheer artistry, the movie kiss is in the red. The face is all distorted and the lips are squeezed out of alignment. Cupid's bow is smashed to fragments and the whole institution is wrecked beyond repair. It leaves a bad taste in the mouth of the audience.

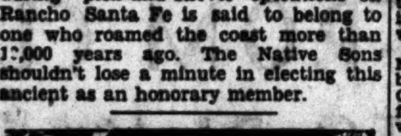
A few years ago one of the most popular screen stars was unkissed in public. At the approach of the climax, the camera faded out. Long queques hung from the box offices.

Whether modern marriage has taken its cue from the movie, or whether the movie has learned from the newlyweds, may be a matter of conjecture; but the osculations of both bring titters from the spectators. A real kiss must be felt, not seen. When seen, all the romance is rubbed off. Real romance demands mystery.

The early censors fought over the movie kiss. They may not have analyzed their feelings; but their finer sensibilities were violated. It was not good taste. The Indian paint on the lips does not taste better today. If the movies only knew it is not art that brings criticism they might be more sensitive to reproof. They foolishly imagine it is morals.

OLD-TIMER

Skeleton of a human being found during pick-and-shovel operations on Rancho Santa Fe is said to belong to one who roamed the coast more than 10,000 years ago. The Native Sons shouldn't lose a minute in electing this ancient as an honorary member.



THE NIGHT WATCH

By James J. Montague

The owl is often handy by,
  When shadows hover deep,
To sing a midnight lullaby
  While little children sleep.
And though they hardly hear his song
  Of woods and fields and streams
It ripples echoing along
  Their happy little dreams.

The robins all are wearied out
  What time the sun has gone;
Through all the day they flit about
  Across the velvet lawn,
And when the night time calls to rest
  They perch with drooping wing
Above the mud and straw-built nest
  Too fagged to chirp or sing.

And then the owl, from far away
  Observes "Too hoo-hoo-hoo,"
Which is his owlish way to say,
  "I'll stand the watch for you!"
Then till the round and golden moon
  Has faded in the sky,
He flutters here and there to croon
  His sleepy lullaby.

The bats that flutter to and fro,
  The cats that prey and prowl,
The crickets in the bushes know
  The music of the owl.
And while the little children sleep,
  From dark to dawn it seems Like distant melody to creep
  Throughout their happy dreams.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

CARTOONIST GALE has taught us to think of Los Angeles as a miss, so possibly it is indelicate to refer to her age. But September 4 Miss Los Angeles will be 148 years old. And as we are going to celebrate her birthday this year, and every year hereafter, we hardly see how the age question can be dodged.

The original founding ceremonies—Los Angeles is one of the few cities of the world which was founded and didn't just grow like Topsy—will be re-enacted in the old Plaza at 5:30 p.m. that day, and after that there will be a reception at the old Abila adobe on Olivera street, just off the Plaza, the city's oldest and most historic house.

This celebration is one every tourist interested in the historic past of Los Angeles should witness; secure in the knowledge that if he really informs himself on this city's colorful history he will be able to give pointers on it to the average citizen.

Who's This Guy De Neve?

The History and Landmarks Club can bear testimony to the truth of the latter assertion. When it became known that Tenth street was to be widened into a boulevard, that treasurer of historic interests suggested that it be named De Neve. Some of the Councilmen, it is said, were mystified. They could think of a lot of subdividers who wanted to get their names on the city map by having boulevards named for them, but they couldn't think of any of 'em who was named De Neve.

DE NEVE BLVD.

De Neve founded Los Angeles, was third Governor and first colonizer of the Californias, Alta and Baja, and gave Los Angeles such a start that before many years it outranked Monterey, then the capital, and finally was made the capital. In the eight years of California's political existence before De Neve came there had been a military governor and then a civil governor; but De Neve was the first upbuilder. He submitted colonization plans to the viceroy and as a result Los Angeles was founded by royal decree.

It looks as if Tenth street might be named Olympic Boulevard on the theory that the widened street will be opened just about the time the Olympic Games are held here. We feel, though, that De Neve has waited long enough for a little honor in this town, and that after the Olympic Games are forgotten the name of De Neve would do more to remind us of our history than even Olympic Boulevard would.

Notice the Flags

A good deal of the history of California will be told in the flags you will see at that birthday party on September 4. The flag of Spain, of course, floated over the original founding ceremonies. Later came the flag of Mexico. There is a Bear flag presented by the Native Daughters and an American flag presented by the G.A.R. The latter especially represents much loving research, for it is not an ordinary American flag. It is a copy of the first American flag raised in California after American sovereignty was proclaimed. There then were twenty-nine States in the Union, but with the faith which always has characterized Californians that first flag was made to show thirty stars!

Fight Film!

Just to show how hard it is to get into the movies, J. R. reports the case of a girl who failed, even though she was filmstruck clear to her teeth.

The Changing Cigar-Store Atmosphere

Lee: Not all the girls who enter cigar stores go for cigarettes. A stylishly dressed girl walked in and out of one at First and Broadway several times yesterday, helping herself to the following free services: (1) Consulted clock to correct wrist-watch; (2) studied complexion and set of hat in mirror; (3) consulted telephone directory for address, not using phone; (4) studied the hang of her skirt, such as it was, in full-length mirror; (5) waited indoors by electric fan, instead of out in sun, for car or date. She didn't seem to know anyone in the place and didn't spend a cent, yet seemed more at home than any of the men who walked in, bought and walked out again. And had you noticed how many of the cigar stores are putting in full-length mirrors now?—W. A. S.

Just Dash In

No, we hadn't noticed. In fact, it's getting so a shy man is half-scared to enter a cigar store now.

It's almost like entering a millinery shop.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

GIL HAS MADE A RECORD

[Houston Post-Dispatch]

President Portes Gil of Mexico will have an imposing list of achievements to report to the Congress which assembles on September 1. During his short administration, Mexico has made social, economic and educational progress in spite of one of the most serious of her many civil wars.

The outstanding accomplishments of his term of service are, of course, the termination of a three-year controversy between church and state and the suppression of the Escobar uprising. Others of importance include the taking of higher education out of politics through providing joint faculty and student control of the national university; expansion of rural education; improvement of international political and commercial relations and launching of a campaign to reduce the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the republic. The President personally took the lead in the antialcohol drive and it is being continued by a national committee working under his supervision.

A test even more important will come in November when the Mexican electorate will be called upon to select a successor to Portes Gil. The President has declared strongly for a free and fair election, expressing his willingness to turn over his office to anyone chosen therein to succeed him. An orderly election followed by the peaceful succession of the winning candidate will go far to convince the world that Mexico has come of age politically and will make the administration of Portes Gil a memorable period in the country's history.

THEY'RE LUCKY

[Baltimore Sun]

It is not surprising that several Senators are on the point of demanding an investigation of Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt's assertion in her published confessions that some dry Senators drink and that one Senator made a speech on the floor when he was in such bad order that he had to hold onto the furniture to keep himself in an upright position. It is one of the conventions of public life to demand an investigation when such charges are made, a convention as rigid as the reply to the informatory double in bridge.

Nevertheless, there is ground for suspicion that only the most naive Senators will go very far toward summoning Mrs. Willebrandt to appear before an investigating committee. She is a terrible woman to meet in a regulation ten-round investigation, and many of those who have mixed it with her in the past are now filling comfortable graveyards, so far as their public careers are concerned. This does not mean that she is invariably right. It means that any time she is proved wrong on one fact she comes back with three others just as unpleasant.

No, the Senate will probably ask for no further information from Our Mabel. Its members ought to retire to their several places of worship and give humble and hearty thanks that she hasn't given any Senatorial names and addresses already.

THE WAR ON THE BORDER

[Toronto Star]

The increased activity of United States preventive officers has put a temporary crimp into the operations of those who run liquor across the border. The increased effectiveness of the United States patrols, however, does not weaken the arguments in favor of neighborly action on the part of Canada; first, because there is danger of international complications arising from possible clashes between armed patrol boats and armed rum-runners, and, second, because it is a reasonable assumption that the co-operation of both countries is required in effecting a permanent suppression of the traffic.

A FIGHT FOR WATER

By Maj. Frederick R. Burnham

[This is the second of a number of articles written for The Times by Maj. Burnham, author, explorer and big-game hunter, now on an extended tour of the Antipodes and Africa in the interests of the California State Park Commission and of American parks in general. Other articles by the same writer will appear at intervals in The Times.]

Here are some stories that prove our kinship to the Aussies.

About twenty-five years ago West Australia—a state about the size of Texas—had only a struggling frontier population of 175,000. This included Perth, the capital city. There was gold way out in the Beyanst, 350 miles away at Kalgoorlie, but no water nearer than the Swan River that flows through Perth. As if this distance was not enough, this gold camp lay over 1000 feet above the river. The gold camp wanted 4,000,000 gallons of water a day; that required a pipe two and one-half feet in diameter. The nearest large pipe factory was England. It also required five pumping stations to overcome the lift and friction. These plants, except for rough timber, had to come from home; all that Australia could furnish was lead. They did have a lead mine and every joint of this cast-iron pipe, to stand the pressure, had to be sealed in lead.

But I have forgotten to mention one other contribution to the 350 miles of iron pipe—350 miles, and then some—of iron nerve. Before the great enterprise was finished and while the costs were mounting into the millions, the engineer made a slight error. Some of the citizens lost courage and began abusing him in the press and by letters; so bitter were the attacks, that, although he had fought through a forest of difficulties, with the desert heat at 110 deg. and over, he could not stand the strain. Three days before the water arrived in Kalgoorlie he killed himself.

But the job was finished and from this gold field $400,000,000 has been taken and it still employs a thousand men. Every joint of pipe held, every station did its work just as the engineer said it would, and now the citizens of a prosperous West Australia point with pride to the great engineer who planned and carried out the enterprise.

How like ourselves and our own fight for water!

Here is another one from Never-Never Land—a tale of the Pony Express raised to the steenth power:

These Aussies of the Bush meet and play with death with a sardonic humor that the stranger is apt at first to miss. They call their very best mail carriers Fizzers—just why, I do not know; but with the sun at 160 deg. most any man would fizz like bacon on a hot frying pan. These riders follow a rib of this subcontinent 1000 miles long that crosses Oodnadatter to the settlements in the north. Some of these dry marches, after the trades have dried up all the water left by the monsoon, give dry spots over 100 miles across. The lone rider drives from three to seven pack animals loaded with the precious mail, to every outstation in the Never-Never.

Many of these tales I have by indirection obtained from the bush people themselves, nearly always fragmentary, just bits here and there, jokes, allusions that you can only piece together into a wonderful epic after you have seen the country. I have just read a little book called "We of the Never-Never," by Aneas Gunn, and while it is written by and for bush people it rings true of our own Texas, Arizona and all the Southwest. By changing the terms used all the events and characters drop into place. It is not a tale of desperadoes or of cruel nature, sinking the human atom in a slough of despair and futility. It is of life, joy, hardship, pleasure, death and success. Here are a few lines about the "Fizzer" that I shall boldly quote as near as I can possibly remember them.

The "Fizzer" was due at sundown, and for the "Fizzer" to be due meant that the "Fizzer" would arrive. By 6 o'clock we had all got cricks in our necks by trying to go about as usual and yet keep an eye on the north track. The "Fizzer" is a type of man by himself, hard, sinewy, enduring. He travels day after day, month after month alone.

With a light-hearted "So long, chaps," he starts out from the Katherine River on his thousand-mile ride and with a cheery "What ho, chaps!" rides in again within five weeks, with that journey behind him. A thousand miles on horseback into the Australian interior and out again traveling twice over three long dry stages and several shorter ones, keeping strictly within government time limits, would be a life experience to the men who set the limit if it wasn't a death sentence.

The Fizzer was due at sundown and at sundown a puff of dust rose on the track and as a cry of "Mail, Oh," went echoing round the homestead, the Fizzer rode out of the dust. The next moment we were in the midst of his clattering pack horses.

Pack bags, swags and saddles came to the ground with loud, creaking flops, everyone lending a hand, the Fizzer moving in and out among the horses shouting a medley of news, instructions and welcome.

Early next morning the Fizzer called, "So long, see you again half past eleven four weeks," and by half past eleven, four weeks, he would have carried his precious freight of letters to the yearning, waiting men and women, hidden away in the heart of Australia and be out again laden with inside letters for the outside world.

LETTERS TO The Times

Buyer Is Particeps Criminis

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of August 23 there was a letter from J. Andrew West, City Attorney of Prescott, Ariz., from which I quote the following:

"If the Jones law had made the purchaser of bootleg whisky a particeps criminis with the seller conditions would improve."

In this connection I desire to call the attention of Mr. West to what Mrs. Willebrandt states in her article in The Times of August 21: "The Jones amendment to the Volstead Act also enables the man who purchases liquor from a bootlegger to be prosecuted. This is because the sale has been made a felony."

I noticed in the papers the other day where a man who had ordered liquor was convicted with the bootlegger who sold it to him on the ground that he was a party to the transportation of liquor, which is illegal under the Volstead Act.

Therefore, it would appear from what Mrs. Willebrandt states in her letter (and her opinion ought to be pretty good) and from the result of the trial where the purchaser of liquor was convicted with the bootlegger, that it is only a matter of time when some of our so-called prominent citizens will not only be buying booze from their special bootleggers, but may be living with them.

Junior College Admissions

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why has the governing board of the new junior college of Los Angeles established such an arbitrary rule as to admission of students? This rule disregards a high school diploma and requires a student to spend three years at junior work, then two years university work to be eligible for graduation. Consequently, hundreds of students will be deprived of junior college diplomas. Many students will go to adjoining States, where this arbitrary rule does not exist.

Why are students graduated from high school with insufficient credits to enter the university? A SUBSCRIBER.

His Waning Faith Waxes

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would like to pay tribute to the excellent letter in today's Times by John Henmil. My waning faith in the future of the United States waxes to know that such reasoning citizens are many. His letter is a powerful sermon against that horrible, bloodthirsty, emasculated Thing called "prohibition."

CECIL E. REYNOLDS.

Wet Cynicism

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mrs. Willebrandt has not told the half of it, but in what she does say she has made the strongest argument in favor of the modification of the Volstead Act I have ever read.

It is her "opinion" that the law can be enforced. Is it also her "opinion" that the law against murder can be enforced? Imagine enforcing a law that is the subject of nationwide discussion by classes of our citizenry, with about a 50 per cent division of opinion!

When Mrs. Willebrandt tells us how to enforce prohibition I will tell you how to keep the fog rolling in from the ocean with a pitchfork. J. R. NADDY.

An Advocate of Gravity

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read with much interest your editorial on the Boulder Dam and Colorado River development in the Los Angeles Times of August 24.

I believe the United States government and the seven States involved in the Colorado River development and the citizens of Los Angeles especially, should have a clear understanding regarding the most feasible plan for the uses of the water of this river.

Why pump water 1600 feet for any domestic or economic purpose, when the gravity system may avoid this tremendous cost? Why reservoir the waters of the Colorado in the polluted basin of the Virgin River when the citizens of Southern California are thirsting for pure drinking water which can be supplied by gravity flow?

W. L. STOWERS.

Another Bouquet

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The articles of Mrs. Willebrandt are worthy of the high type of newspaper in which they appear. Congratulations. J. B.

Hawaiian Orthoepy

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In answer to Ella Griffith: The Hawaiian boy married the girl because he admired her—not for the way she mispronounced Hawaii—"ai" is pronounced "eye." The same rule applies to Waikiki. It not pronounced Wahkeke, but Wykeke. Old-timers or Kamaainas pronounce Hawaii Ha vie ee. HELEN SERNON.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Miss Doris Lee Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson Gilmore of Maryland Drive, was married at 5:30 p.m. yesterday in the home of her parents to A. McAllister Brown, only the relatives witnessing the simple ceremony at which Rev. John Albert Eby officiated, and attending the wedding dinner afterward.

The bride was lovely in the same wedding gown worn by her mother, a creamy old satin foundation, of close-fitting bodice, with an overdress of tulle and princess lace, made long and bouffant, and trimmed with tiny seed pearls. Her veil also was of the princess lace, and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

After an extended trip through the north, and a later sojourn at Coronado and San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be at home to their friends at 6366 Maryland Drive.

Mrs. Brown, who has a host of friends among the younger set, attended the Immaculate Heart Convent. Mr. Brown, only son of David A. Brown of Wilshire Boulevard, completed his education in the East after attending Los Angeles High School.

Conductor is Host

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hertz entertained at one of the most delightful affairs of the summer, Monday evening, when they gave a buffet supper at the Sea Breeze Beach Club as a farewell to their many friends in Los Angeles and Hollywood. Mr. Hertz is leaving to conduct an orchestra in San Diego.

A musical program including 'cello solos by Lajos Shuk, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Hertz, was given, and an interesting group of numbers was danced by Irene Palasty.

Among the eighty guests in attendance were Messrs. and Mmes. George Birkel, Arthur Rodzinsky, Alfred Kastner, M. Stoloff, Robert Negruzzi and L. Neustadter, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carter, Mmes. Elsa Alsen, Arthur Alexander and Gertrude Ross, Misses Ramona Little, Raine Bennett, Pepper McKeever, Madeline Brandeis and Irene Palasty, and Messrs. Alexander Akhimoff, Josiah Zuro, Raymond Brite, Hugo Riesenfeld, Eugene Goosens, G. Sil Vara, Lajos Shuk, Hans Winter and Edward Langkow.

Engagement Revealed

During a bridge party given recently, the engagement of Miss Thelma Mehrtens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Mehrtens, to Walter L. Borkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Borkman of Pasadena, was announced by the use of a miniature bride and bridegroom given as prizes. Miss Mehrtens is a member of the Kappa Sigma Phi Sorority, and guests included many of her sorority sisters. They were Mmes. Raymond Beyers, Hubert Bryant, George Harrison, Elston Davenport, Hubert Prive, Lewis James, Howard Wells, Victor Fricker, Walter Home, Edwin Schieder and Walter O. Borkman, and Misses Joyce Minert, Peggy Richmond, Maryanne Donohue, Irene Witliff, Melba Farren, Dorothy Donohue, Annice Carlock, Jesse Kennedy, Marguerite Krueger, Helen Schrank, Lucinda Vincent and Helen Hegberg.

A color scheme of blue and yellow was carried out in all appointments.

Linen Shower

An event of today will be the bridge luncheon and linen shower with which Mrs. Ruth Horne Hartwell is entertaining at her home in Fremont Place honoring Miss Estelle Summer, charming bride-elect of Carl C. Carter, whose wedding will take place October 2. Among those bidden are Mrs. George D. Robertson, Mrs. James Huston Jones, Mrs. Mel Le Mon, Mrs. Byrne Nelson, Mrs. Lee Bering, Mrs. Garnet Rainey, Mrs. Meridith S. Moore, and Misses Nelda Jeffery, Marjorie Simmonds, Barbara Simmonds, Nita Warrick, Alice Aldrich, Marion Moore, Huston Jones, Dorothy Dehn, Pauline Manchester and Jessie Taylor.

This is the first of a series of prenuptial affairs planned for Miss Summer.

After-Theater Supper

Delightful was the after-theater supper dance given at Paul Perrot's new cafe last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Knox, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Mattrix of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Martin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Quincy Barstow, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Craig, Miss Christine Laidlaw, Miss Ophelia Warren, Ernest Lawrence and T. Alfred Buckingham were in attendance.

Returning from East

Miss Janet Rally, daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Rally, who has been in New York all summer, will return to Los Angeles September 9. She will be a student this year at the University of California at Los Angeles in Westwood.

Sorority Tea

Forty-five invitations have been issued by the Alpha Chi Omega at the University of Southern California for a bridge tea to be given this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Roy Hoffman, 315 South Lorraine Boulevard. The hostess will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Mildred Smith and the alumnae chapter of Alpha Chi Omega.

For Bride-Elect

As a courtesy to Miss Maxine Kells, bride-elect of Garratt Bradford Smith, Mrs. Louis Retsrepi of 246 South Lorraine Boulevard entertained Tuesday with a bridge-tea and handkerchief shower. Little Mary Ellen Restrepo, small daughter of the hostess, is to be flower girl at the wedding.

The guests of Mrs. Restropo included Mmes. J. E. Ettleson, H. R. Kells, B. Chase, C. H. O'Hara, P. Wright, Ernest Becker, C. K. Dodds, Jean Morgan, M. Barry, John Law Hodge, I. Marshall, Raymond Wilson, Frank Bouman, Edward Jackson, J. Davies, Lloyd Harris, Jack Pinall, Laurence Gray, Dan Ferguson, Charles Futch, Charles Adolfi, Bruce Mumberstone, A. McArthur, M. Abbe and C. W. Grant, Misses Vivian Adams, Eleanor Donau, Mercedes Rodman, Honor Higgins and Katryn Wright.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson is to be Miss Kells's matron of honor, while Mrs. John Law Hodge and Miss Kathleen Nolan will be the attendants, and Mr. Hodge will serve Mr. Smith as best man.

Midnight Bathing in Vogue

Night road racing and midnight bathing were combined as a society sport in London during the summer. Parties would leave London by auto between 10 and 11 o'clock, speed to the beaches and take moonlight dips as Big Ben tolled 12.

NEWLYWEDS GO ON HONEYMOON

Couple Will be at Home in Glendale

Mrs. Edmund James Wardle, Jr.

MR. AND MRS. PETER J. Lechner, 100 North Lucerne Boulevard, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Dolores Lechner, to Edmund James Wardle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund James Wardle of 10 St James Park, last Friday in St. Cross Episcopal Church at Hermosa. The bride wore an ensemble of brown velvet.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wardle left for a honeymoon in Santa Barbara, after which they will be at home at 501 South Verdugo Road, Glendale. Mr. Wardle, who was graduated from the University of California, is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

MONTH-END SALES IDEA SPREADING

Robinson's Bargain Event Presents Two Days of Matchless Opportunities

BY OLIVE GRAY

Fundamental as the El Camino Real signs, which point the way, Robinson's End of the Month Sales not only have proved to be events of real opportunity to Angelenos, but have inspired stores in other vicinities to do likewise. In fact, it is said that stores throughout the United States have instituted such sales, taking the lead from the J. W. Robinson Company.

Soon after Robinson's removal to Seventh street—an event momentous in our city's business life—the End of the Month Sales at Robinson's were put in effect; and so popular did these sales become, so eagerly looked forward to by an appreciative clientele, that as time passed, they gained in momentum even as motor travel has gained along that Camino Real which was chosen as the emblem of this store's progressiveness.

That the forthcoming End of the Month Sale should mark the close of the summer season, as well as the end of the month, makes it a more than ever auspicious event. It is because of this, and also for the reason that the end of vacation Saturdays comes at this time, that Robinson's is holding the sale throughout two days, today and tomorrow. With this succession of important events in view, all sections throughout the store have cooperated to present opportunity in the way of price reductions—without reduction in quality, it need never be said regarding Robinson's—and the longer period for grasping such opportunity is sure to be realized by those alert to economic possibilities.

S. C. Area Called University Park

Because of the contemplated Hoover-street cut, the area along University avenue between Jefferson street and Exposition Boulevard has been designated by the board of trustees of the University of Southern California as University Park.

Beginning with this academic year the new Trojan address, University Park, Los Angeles, will appear on all the official stationery of the University of Southern California. It already has been registered at the postoffice.

Buildings located in the campus area of University Park include Old College, Bovard Administration Building, the Student Union, Science Hall, Bridge Hall, the School of Architecture, the School of Law, the Women's Residence Hall, the Men's Dormitory, the campus Young Men's Christian Association Building and the new Philosophy Hall, which is to be dedicated in November.

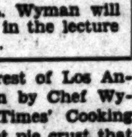
CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES



Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

Proof that warm weather doesn't diminish the interest of Los Angeles housewives in preparing attractive desserts is given by Chef Wyman's "Request Demonstration" at the Los Angeles Times' Cooking School today. So many inquiries have been received about pie crust that she will show exactly how to prepare a flaky pie crust and will make a custard filling for it. She will also make a Boston cream pie with filling and show the class how to make jam-filled cookies which will be especially good for a Labor Day picnic. Besides these desserts, she will prepare ham with pineapple and sweet potatoes.

SALMON PASTE SANDWICHES

One-half a cupful of salmon, freed from all skin and bones, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of ketchup, one-half a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of melted butter and one tablespoonful of capers, cream and butter, mash the salmon, and add to it, and work to a paste, add all the other ingredients, spread slices of bread that have been cut thin with butter that has been creamed with a little dry mustard, cover with a sandwich paste and garnish with slices of hard-boiled egg and chopped parsley.

HONEY AND ORANGE PUDDING

Mix six tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, and one-half a cupful of cold milk, scald one cupful of milk in a double boiler, add to it the cornstarch and stir and cook slowly for twenty minutes, beat the yolks of two eggs slightly and add to them one-half a cupful of honey, pour this mixture and allow to cook for one minute longer, remove from the double boiler, fold in one cupful of orange juice, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, and one tablespoonful of the grated orange rind, allow to cool slightly, then fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites, to which has been added four level tablespoonfuls of sugar, pour into serving dishes and chill.

APPLE AND CABBAGE SALAD

One-half of a small head of cabbage, shredded fine, three stalks of celery, three eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of dry mustard, one and one-half cupfuls of vinegar, chop the celery fine, and add to the cabbage, place in a cool place to stand until the dressing is made, place the vinegar in a sauce pan, and if too strong dilute with a little water, allow to come to the scalding point, beat two of the eggs until light, add to them the sugar and beat again. Add the mustard, and stir into the scalded vinegar, allow to cook for one minute longer, remove from the fire, season with salt, and when cold, pour over the cabbage and celery mixture. Hollow out apples leaving just a thin shell, notch around the top and fill with the cabbage mixture. Place each apple on shredded lettuce, place a hard-boiled egg, sliced, on top of each, place in the refrigerator and allow to chill.

PILLAU OF CHICKEN

Take a young chicken, weighing two pounds and cut into even-sized pieces, place four tablespoonfuls of butter in a saute pan, add the chicken, and allow to brown, add one finely chopped onion, one chopped green pepper, and allow to cook for ten minutes longer, stirring to keep from burning, then moisten with one cupful of broth to which has been added one-half a cupful of tomato sauce, add one-fourth of a cup of dried mushrooms which have been soaked in hot water for one hour, adding the mushrooms and the water, season with salt, paprika and half a teaspoonful of saffron which has been diluted in a little water, add to this, one-half a cupful of well-washed raw rice, and three tablespoonfuls of grated Parmesan cheese, cover and let cook slowly being careful not to burn until the rice is tender.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

Mrs. B. is a widow with four children. She wants above all things to make them happy, and her effort to accomplish this beatific state is to indulge their every whim.

When Nell, 16 years of age, wants a new dress, a fur coat, or a motor boat, if she persists long enough, her mother, even against her better judgment gives in. Junior, 18, still looks to his mother for spending money, clothes and the up-keep of his small car. If she demurs, even a little, the two older ones pounce upon her. "I'd think you'd be glad to make us happy," they sing in chorus and she admits that that is her single aim.

Gretchen is small and undersized. She plays with her food at the table or eats it with her fingers, because no one dares to suggest otherwise for fear that she won't eat at all. The maids appear and disappear in a stream, for she resents discipline and has a tantrum when crossed. At these times she shouts at her mother that she is mean and cross and never, never lets her do anything. The mother smiles rather wryly and says to any listener: "You know she isn't well and she's extra cross tonight because she's been playing too hard today."

There are supposed to be regular hours for the younger children and the fiction still exists that they are in bed every night at 8:30. But those who know realize that it is nearer 9:30 before the right pajamas, the extra cover, and the last drink have been provided. When the children cannot think up a single more request and the mother is exhausted, the lights are turned low and they settle down for the night.

The most obvious result of this good woman's devotion to the cult of happiness is that not a child is really happy. What they possess does not interest them because each wish is granted so readily. The mother cannot see that her indulgence deprives the children of their ability to enjoy what she provides for them. After the excitement of asking and teasing (because she occasionally squirms a little,) they are actually bored when their wish comes true.

Children need a firm hand. They do not want all they ask for even if they think they do. The cookie jar that stands open to reaching hands ceases to attract one, but the cookie jar from which one can have no cookie today, but can have one tomorrow, becomes an alluring treat. Whether it is cookies or fur coats, trips to Europe or an hour more play at bedtime, the principle remains the same. The effort to keep children happy by giving into all their whims, is a beautiful one in theory and gives the mother satisfaction, but it results in spoiled, bad-tempered, discontented children.

City Attorney's Plea for More Help Blocked

Councilman Lewis yesterday blocked City Attorney Werner's request for three additional clerks and three additional stenographers, by refusing to vote for suspension of the rules, and precipitated a heated debate on various and sundry matters. He charged that an attempt was being made to "railroad" the Council's approval of the request.

Councilman Martin declared, during the debate, that members of the City Attorney's staff were starting to work at 10 a.m., and said they should report for duty not later than 9 a.m.

"The staff should not be placed on a time-clock basis," protested Deputy City Attorney Neal. "I have worked on each of the last seven Sundays and many of the deputies are in their offices until midnight."

"The present Council is the best kind of an argument for electing Councilmen at large," declared Councilman Webster. "This Picayunish quibbling over inconsequential matters will lead the public to believe everyone in the City Hall is crooked."

Hickman Reward Blocked by City Attorney Ruling

Apparently the final word was said yesterday on the squabble over the payment of the city's $10,000 reward for the capture of William Edward Hickman, murderer, when the City Attorney filed an opinion with the Council to the effect that the charter does not countenance the payment of rewards for the apprehension of criminals.

On June 19, last, the Council instructed City Clerk Domingues to draw a demand for $10,000 and give it to County Clerk Lampton, at the same time directing the City Attorney to file an interpleader action whereby the various contending parties could come into court and present their claims. The ruling submitted yesterday was signed by Assistant City Attorney Herron and was interpreted by officials as preventing payment of any reward by the city.

Big Order for Mud Fuel

An electricity plant on the Rhine has just placed an order for 100,000 tons of mud fuel. A German company recently discovered how to make the mud in the bed of River Emscher into a useful substitute for coal. For thousands of years rich combustible matter has been washed down the river from the Westphalian coal fields.

Let simmer for an hour and strain off the liquid, mashing as much as desired of the cooked lettuce through the colander. If liquid does not equal three cupfuls, add hot water. Next, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and three cupfuls of whole milk. Return to the stove and heat to almost boiling point, seasoning with a little salt. When ready to serve, add a generous sprinkling of chopped parsley and a teaspoonful of whipped cream to each serving. Thin strips of Melba toast may be used if desired.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reducing Arms

Question: Mrs. H. H. writes: "Kindly tell me how to reduce the upper arms."

Answer: Any kind of arm exercises will reduce the fat on your arms. The best ones to take are those requiring a reasonable amount of muscular tension and, at the same time, these exercises should be used rapidly and with vigor. Probably the best plan would be to purchase one of the "chest weight exercisers" which you can secure from any sporting goods store.

This apparatus is attached to the wall and the exercises are taken by raising and lowering weights which are attached to handles by ropes running over pulleys.

Injury to Back

Q.: H. G. writes: "Several years ago while cranking my car I had a sudden 'crick' in the last joint of the back, which caused a miserable pain at the time and more or less ever since. It is in the back, extends down the front of the right leg and mainly in the hip joint. Worse at night and early morning, but wears off through the day."

A.: You probably strained your back enough to either displace one of the vertebrae or move the sacro-iliac out of position. As several years have elapsed since the injury, it will no doubt take a long time to bring about a cure. The best treatment is with osteopathy or chiropractic, and the use of hot applications to your back. Most practitioners using manipulative therapeutics have electrical appliances or therapeutic lights wihch will produce better effects in the treatment of your back than any form of heat that you can use in your own home. Until such treatment is started, have some member of your family apply hot compresses to your back once or twice daily for ten or fifteen minutes with several changes of hot towels.

LONG BEACH JOINS FETE LABOR DAY

Schools, Clubs and Other Organizations Will be in Alamitos Bay Events

Headed by the newly organized Playground and Recreation Commission of Long Beach more than fifty schools, clubs and civic organizations will participate in the first annual pageant of the seas to be staged at Alamitos Bay on Labor Day. The program will start early with speed-boat and sailing races by the Southern California Outboard Association and the Alamitos Bay Yacht Club and windup after dark with a tournament of lights in which sixty floats have been entered.

Spectators who view the pageant, which is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock, will be transported back to scenes at the harbor of Genoa in the days of Christopher Columbus and will see the life story of the explorer unfolded by illuminated pictures. Other spectacular features are scheduled.

Starting at 11 a.m. Monday the outstanding speed-boat pilots of Southern California, headed by the national champion, Dick Loynes, will hold a series of races in the bay. This will be followed by sail-boat races under auspices of the yacht club—and swimming races during the afternoon.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

TO WHOM DOES HE BELONG?

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Today among savages it is still customary in times of stress to kill and eat children. A Roman father could kill or sell his children into slavery. In Europe, during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, unwanted children were commonly murdered or abandoned. Our own history is full of brutal acts.

With the growth of the modern factory system, children were hideously exploited as a source of cheap labor. Poverty stricken parents sold their children into the virtual slavery of the mills. They were forced to work eighteen and twenty hours a day. If they refused, they were cruelly beaten; if they ran away, they were brought back in chains. They were given no schooling.

All these shocking things were the natural result of the fact that until the present century the child was regarded largely as the property of his parent. Now laws protect the child on every hand. He has rights. He is a person.

Yet rooted deep in the unconsciousness of all of us is the feeling still that our children belong to us. True, our ownership is largely benign but ownership is what in essence we still feel it to be. We feel that we own their love and their allegiance; that somehow we have the right to their success and a controlling voice in the momentous decisions of their lives.

Our emotional attitude has yet to catch up with the law. We should consider ourselves as the law considers us—guardians of our children's lives, holding control only during the time of their helplessness and immaturity.

Don't try to own your child, or rather, try not to own him. Remember he is a person. He belongs to himself.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information relating to the proper preparations and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, Arden ave., Glendale.—Ed.]

MISS WYMAN'S ANSWERS

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

M. M., Los Angeles, Cal. The recipe you sent me and wished to have corrected you will either have to use five egg yolks and five whole eggs or use the ten egg yolks and two level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch that has been moistened in a little milk. I tried this pie out, and find as you say that according to your recipe after adding the whipped cream it is too thin; but I think this will rectify your trouble. I would call it a Black Top unless I used some chocolate in the custard mixture.

TOMATO SOUP

S. S., Los Angeles, Cal. I am sorry but the recipe for tomato soup which you have asked for I am unable to give you, as those [illegible] are trade secrets and their [illegible] are made in such large quantities that it would be almost impossible for the housewife to make it with any satisfaction.

PEACH JAM

M. L., Los Angeles, Cal. Cover five pounds of peaches with boiling water, allow to stand for about five minutes, drain and cover with cold water, peel, pit, and slice, place in a saucepan, add five pounds of sugar and allow to stand in a cool place overnight, cook slowly for half an hour, stirring often, add two pounds more of sugar, and cook slowly being careful not to burn until a little will jell when tried on a cold plate. Some of the blanched peach kernels may be added to this and gives it a very much better flavor. Apricots are treated the same way as peaches. Sometimes half as much grated canned pineapple is added to the apricots. Any time that you wish recipes of this kind write me and I will be glad to oblige.

GRAPE JUICE WITHOUT SUGAR

B. B., Upland, Cal. It will be possible for you to make or bottle grape juice without heating it. Crush the grapes in a bowl, and put them in a clean jelly bag. Squeeze the sack until all the juice is pressed out, place the juice in a saucepan and heat until it steams, but do not allow it to boil, place the juice in a clean enamel kettle or bowl and let stand overnight to settle, run the juice through a flannel bag into the bottles that have been sterilized, leave a space at the top of the bottles for the juice to expand, place the bottles in a kettle with a wooden rack in the bottom, fill the kettle with cold water to within one inch of the top of the bottles, heat the water until it is nearly to the simmering point, remove the bottles and cork with corks that have been soaked in hot water for three hours, dip the tops in melted paraffin and store in a cool dark place, laying the bottles on their sides. You can use the white grapes for canning but I don't think that you would care particularly for them. Grapes make a splendid jelly provided they are picked before getting too ripe.

CANDIED FIGS

B. B., Bell, Cal. Wash and select firm ripe figs, drop into boiling water for three minutes and drain well. For each pound of figs, boil one cupful of sugar, and half a cupful of water until clear, drop in the figs, only putting in enough figs at a time to cover the bottom of the kettle and allow to boil slowly for fifteen minutes, remove from the fire and let stand over night; repeat this process for five days until the figs are clear and are filled with the syrup. When the fruit is bright and clear, drain and dry in the sun or a cool oven. For the crystallized figs when the figs are dry, cover with a syrup made with six cupfuls of sugar, and four cupfuls of water, and let stand for three days, drain, sprinkle with granulated sugar and pack in glass or tin boxes in layers.

ORANGE BREAD

V. H., Los Angeles, Cal. Four cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a cupful of butter, two eggs, one-third of a cupful of syrup from the candied orange peel, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half a cupful of sugar, one cupful of milk, sift the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together, then cut in the shortening with a pastry knife, beat the eggs well, add part of the milk to them and stir into the mixture, then add the rest of the milk, the orange syrup and the diced candied orange peel, place in an oiled pan and bake in a moderate oven for fifty minutes. To make the candied peel, cut the peel from three medium-sized oranges, cut the long way of the orange, place in a saucepan with one cupful of sugar and one-half a cupful of water, simmer slowly until the peel is clear, this should give you one-third of a cup of syrup but it is necessary to add sufficient more water to make the necessary amount.

Note: If this is not the recipe you have reference to let me know and I will endeavor to give you the one you want.

GRAHAM CRACKER PIE CRUST

R. L. T., Ocean View Avenue. Sift one and one-half cupfuls of finely ground graham cracker crumbs, and chop into it one-half a cupful of cold butter, or shortening, add just enough ice water to hold the crumbs together, pat the mixture into your pie dish and fill with the desired filling.

DARK BRAN MUFFINS

A. A., Los Angeles, Cal. Sift two cupfuls of wholewheat flour with two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, and eight level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, place in a bowl and stir in four cupfuls of bran, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two and one-half cupfuls of milk, beat to a smooth batter, place in well-oiled muffin tins and bake in a hot oven for thirty minutes.

Wife Confesses Error But Mate Granted Divorce

George P. McGrath appeared before Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday asking for a divorce from Marie C. McGrath on the grounds of misconduct with another man.

As the hearing of the case got under way Mrs. McGrath arose in the courtroom and came forward. Tears dropped from the woman's eyes as she asked the judge to let her give her version of the matter.

"I have erred," Mrs. McGrath began, "but I was not altogether to blame. I am sorry, awfully sorry. I have asked my husband to forgive me, but he will not do so."

"I am sorry," said Judge Yankwich, "that your husband is not willing to forgive you. The law does not require him to and I cannot compel him to. I hope that before the year is up he will change his mind, particularly for the sake of your child."

After hearing the testimony of the husband the judge signed the decree.

Marriage Knot Cut for Twin

A double wedding of two pairs of twins performed at Yuma, Ariz., nine years ago, ended with a divorce for one of the couples here yesterday when Calvin D. George obtained a legal separation from Desse George on the ground of cruelty. The decree was signed by Superior Judge Kendrick.

The specific act of cruelty complained of by the husband was that his wife called him names, the most objectionable being "fathead." Ulysses George, brother of the plaintiff, and husband of his wife's twin sister, still happily married, corroborated George's testimony.

One of the complaints of the husband was that his wife refused to take up a residence separate and apart from her twin sister, where they lived for nine years, or up until the time of their separation.

After hearing the husband's story a decree was granted by Judge Kendrick.

Bandit Holds Up Bank at Beach

"Give 'em to me," said a roughly dressed man yesterday as he walked into the Hermosa Beach branch of the First National Trust and Savings Bank, and unwrapped a large revolver from a newspaper, pointing it at the cashier, M. R. Cummings.

The cashier handed the man a bunch of bills totaling approximately $700 which the bandit wrapped up in the package with the gun, and walked out of the bank. He was seen to leave in a small coupe.

Deputy Sheriffs under Capt. Howard Brooks, chief of Sheriff Traeger's robbery investigation detail, were given a description of the bandit and ordered to assist in his apprehension.

Herman Robinson Will Take Part in Radio Show

Presentation to be Feature on Tuesday Evening

Ceremony Will be Broadcast Over Local Station

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

If anyone says the intelligencia does not appreciate radio, refer them to this.

The "brightest boy in California," Herman Robinson of Palms, has elected to take part Tuesday night in the seventh annual National Radio Show, which starts Monday in Ambassador Auditorium.

Herman has a good reason for going to the show. He was named as the State's "brightest boy" to take part in the Thomas A. Edison nationally conducted mental tests, which recently worked up considerable interest. And now Edison is going to give the lad a full-fledged radio-phonograph combination, with the ceremony of presentation scheduled to take place on the radio show stage.

ON THE AIR

They are going to broadcast the presentation over KFWB and maybe Mr. Edison will sit up until after midnight, somewhere back east, to hear it.

Efforts still were going ahead yesterday to make arrangements with Commander Byrd, away down south near the pole, to press a radio button which will flood the auditorium with lights. It appears that Byrd is willing, but there has been some delay in making the necessary reception of the aerial spark at this end.

INTERFERENCE EXHIBIT

Two other new "shots" have just been lined up. One is a radio automobile with a built-in receiving set. Dials are placed on the car's instrument board. The other is a display of instruments used by the interference committee of the Radio Trades Association.

George Walters, chairman of the committee, says there will be some radio machines used by physicians in treating lumbago and other human afflictions.

FINISHING TOUCHES

The auditorium presented a cluttered appearance as construction work was brought to a head. Aisles were strewn with lumber, paint pots and even the shoes of some carpenters, who wouldn't trust their hobnails to the hardwood floor.

But above the uproar was reared the tops of booths, rounded, pointed, gilt-tipped and otherwise constructed to make tourists from the Near West feel at home in a minaret setting.

One thing was apparent; the show will have plenty of color. They have spilled a lot of paint and each exhibitor evidently did his booth according to his own ideas. Result—variety in architecture.

Concrete Pipe Manufacturers to Meet Today

One hundred and fifty members of the California Associated Concrete Pipe Manufacturers will assemble at 9 a.m. today for a two days' convention to be held in the Alexandria. Fred F. Foster of Los Angeles will welcome the delegates, following which there will be reports of the directors, the president, John Van Cleve of Exeter; the secretary-treasurer, H. W. Chutter of Fresno, and of committees headed by Henry Scholten and Fred Spiekerman.

Following luncheon the convention will be addressed by M. W. Loving of Chicago, secretary of the American Concrete Pipe Association; W. J. MacKenzie, president of the Northwest Concrete Products Association, and L. W. Armstrong, storm-drain engineer, city of Los Angeles.

Tomorrow will be devoted to business sessions and election. Entertainment includes a ladies' luncheon and bridge this noon, novel entertainment tonight, and a dinner-dance tomorrow night.

JACK MOWER, ACTOR, GRANTED DIVORCE

Benjamin A. Mower, known in motion pictures as Jack Mower, was granted a divorce from Margaret Mower yesterday by Superior Judge Tappaan. Mower, represented in court by Attorney C. A. Stice, accused his wife of desertion and infidelity. His testimony was corroborated by two private detectives who had seen Mrs. Mower in company with another man.

SCREEN COUPLE FILE NOTICE OF MARRIAGE

Patsy Ruth Miller and Tay Garnett

Announcing they will be married September 8, next, Patsy Ruth Miller, film actress, and Tay Garnett, director, appeared at the marriage license bureau yesterday and filed a notice of intention to wed. They gave their ages as 25 and 35 years, respectively.

The wedding ceremony, Miss Miller said, will be in St. James Episcopal Church, and will climax a romance that had its beginning about a year ago when the two met at an informal Hollywood party.

For several years Miss Miller has been playing important roles in productions for several of the larger companies. Garnett is a more-recent addition to the ranks of the film colony. Beginning as a writer, he recently was appointed a director of Pathe pictures.

TRANSPORTATION CLUB MEMBERS TO DEPART

Members of the Los Angeles Transportation Club will leave tomorrow on a Union Pacific special train for an extended tour of Yellowstone National Park, it was announced today by L. M. Brown, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific. The party will represent leading agents and executives of all lines of transportation, including railroad, steamship, motor bus and air, operating in the United States. They will go via Salt Lake City, where a sightseeing tour of the Mormon capital will be made, and then into the park. They will return to Los Angeles September 7. The trip is the annual travel tour sponsored by the membership committee of the club.

FOSTER MURDER CHARGE SOUGHT

Police to Ask Indictment of Kingman Trio

Miss Taylor Identifies Two as Death Bandits

Three Held in Arizona for Killing Rancher

So certain are police that A. Frank Foster, soap manufacturer and polo player, was killed by one of three suspects recently arrested in Kingman, Ariz., they have requested grand jury indictments charging the men, Alex Cetlinsky, Ned Miller and Stephen Rosema, with murder and robbery.

The action took place yesterday after Miss Beth Taylor, only eyewitness of the shooting of Foster, had made positive identification of two of the trio, Cetlinsky and Miller, one of whom she believes is the bandit who fired the fatal shot into Foster's head when the latter was slow in holding up his hands. The identification was made by Miss Taylor in Kingman, Wednesday. Yesterday she and Detective Lieutenant Brown returned from the Arizona town.

HELD FOR MURDER

Brown and Detective Lieutenant James of the police homicide squad will leave this morning for Kingman to obtain the revolver found in the possession of Cetlinsky. Acting Chief of Detectives Taylor stated that he wished to have the weapon in the hands of a local ballistics expert so that definite comparisons can be made of bullets fired from the gun with one taken from Foster's body.

It is not expected that the detectives will bring the suspects back as the trio have been indicted in Arizona for the murder of George H. Ingrum, a rancher, near Kingman.

DOG BROUGHT BACK

An interesting feature of this murder investigation was brought back by Detective Lieutenant Brown in the form of the photograph of a dog said to have been responsible for the discovery of Ingrum's death. According to Brown Rosema confessed that, after fleeing from Los Angeles, he and his partners picked a ride with Ingrum. Seven miles west of Kingman Rosema said Cetlinsky shot and killed the rancher. His body was hidden in a clump of brush a short distance from the highway, it was stated.

After riding with the trio of suspects for five miles Ingrum's dog, which had been in the car at the time the rancher gave the suspects a lift, suddenly leaped out of the car and fled back along the highway to his master's body. A few minutes later motorists, attracted by the howling of the faithful canine, found the body of Ingrum. They drove hurriedly on into Kingman and the Sheriff was in time to arrest the trio before they had time to leave the town.

DESCRIPTIONS TALLY

The suspects, according to information in the hands of local authorities, fled from this city two days after Foster was killed. They had abandoned an automobile which they had stolen in Chicago. Descriptions of two of the trio tallied with those furnished by Miss Taylor and Chief Taylor had her accompany Detective Lieutenant Brown to Kingman where she made the identification.

Foster was shot to death as he stepped into his automobile parked in front of his apartment at 2700 San Marino street July 29, last.

Move Begun for Texas Gun Girl's Return for Trial

Steps to return Rudell Heath, 21-year-old Texas gun girl, to Los Angeles for trial on forgery charges were taken by Sheriff Traeger yesterday after being officially informed of the girl's arrest in Tulsa, Okla., where she is asserted to have swallowed a small quantity of poison in an attempt to end her life.

Miss Heath disappeared from Los Angeles, forfeiting a $1500 bond, while awaiting trial. Casey O'Conner, representing the H. S. Hallner Bonding Company, will attempt to return the girl here for trial, it was announced, but should he fail extradition papers will be sought, according to Capt. J. B. Fox, chief of the Sheriff's fugitive detail.

VICTIM OF TRAIN DIES IN RECEIVING HOSPITAL

Crushed fatally by a Southern Pacific locomotive last evening, Charles Cook, 55 years of age, whose address is believed to have been 1705 Pine street, died shortly afterward in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Police report that Cook tried to run across at Sixth and Alameda streets in the path of engine No. 2633 of the Southern Pacific Railroad, in charge of Engineer E. Sparks and Fireman J. Adams. His skull was fractured, his chest was crushed and he received many other serious injuries.

PLAYGROUND IDEA BACKED BY PHELAN

Former Senator Points to Importance of City Parkc to Meet Present Conditions

No step in civic development and improvement is more important today than the further development of municipal parks and playgrounds, according to ex-Senator Phelan of San Francisco, president of the San Francisco Playground Commission and director of the San Francisco Public Library. Mr. Phelan is a visitor at the Biltmore.

The automobile has driven the youngsters of the cities off the streets, he said, and there is no place for them to play except on grounds provided by their municipalities. But provision of adequate playgrounds is not enough, he said. Supervised play on such grounds is absolutely essential and it is for that reason that California cities, such as Los Angeles and San Francisco are employing experts in this particular line of endeavor.

Although here on buiness connected with properties owned by him at Palm Springs, Mr. Phelan is making a study of Los Angeles playgrounds and supervised play, he declared.

California beaches, the former Senator said, must be preserved for the people of the State.

PEARLS OF CONVICT TO GO ON SALE

Necklace Will be Used to Satisfy $2500 Judgment Against Wickersham

A judgment for $2500 in favor of Mrs. F. C. Fay was entered yesterday by Superior Judge Westover against Sam Wickersham, now serving a term in San Quentin penitentiary for [illegible] theft in connection with a nonexisting mine promotion scheme.

The judgment followed a suit brought by Mrs. Fay against Wickersham on a promissory note. She asserted that Wickersham induced her to invest $2500 in the mine and had given her his note. No one appeared in court to represent the defendant.

Following the trial it was announced that a pearl necklace belonging to Wickersham, valued at $3500, has been attached and will be sold at a Sheriff's sale to satisfy the judgment.

Mrs. Fay is the daughter of Mrs. Frankie Noumann, on whose testimony Wickersham was convicted of grand theft. It was proved at the trial that Wickersham had induced her to give him valuable stock for a share of a mine he said was being developed in Verdugo Canyon. The mine never existed.

Valley Boosters to Be Guests at Alhambra Field

Interested in the development of the San Gabriel Valley as an aviation center, directors of the San Gabriel Valley Development Association will inspect the new Western Air Express airport on Valley Boulevard, Alhambra, today at noon, according to Myron J. Haig, executive secretary of the organization.

Hal Shields, general passenger agent of Western Air, and William Maxfield, superintendent of maintenance for the air line, will tell the association officials of the advantages of the San Gabriel section of the county in connection with the aviation industry and escort the visitors in an inspection of several of the Fokker tri-motored planes used by the company on its San Francisco and eastern lines.

The San Gabriel Valley Development Association is a civic organization composed of representatives of all of the valley communities from Pasadena to Pomona and has been active in prosecution of plans for a county airport now being considered by the Board of Supervisors.

AIR-TRAVEL GAINS CITED BY OFFICIAL

The trend toward air-rail travel from coast to coast and part way across the continent was indicated yesterday when Western Air Express operated two sections on the Los Angeles-Kansas City airway, it was declared by C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager. "This is the first time since the line was opened on June 1, last, that it has been necessary to employ two twelve-passenger planes," Smith said. "During June and July the daily ships were filled to 50 per cent of capacity, which is unusual for a new air passenger line. There is every indication that August will better this percentage."

BY DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT RUM GLIDES INTO SIGHT

As dawn's first light appeared on the hilltop Officers Bailey and Pitts of Hollywood police division peered into the purple shadows which lurked in the valley below. Naught was to be heard but the low drone of an awakening city far away and the intermittent tinkle of juggled milk bottles in the middle distance.

But all things were not as they seemed. For a moment a heavily loaded auto truck stood out in silhouette on the summit of Laurel Canyon Road. Then with suspicious swiftness it vanished into the lilac gloom of the lower grades.

Officers Bailey and Pitts placed themselves in ambush at Lookout Mountain Drive and waited. Five minutes passed. Then, with muffled motor, the truck slipped down into the trap. It skidded to an abrupt stop as the officers stepped out into the highway with drawn guns. The driver leaped from his seat and scampered for the brush, reported the officers.

There was the sharp crack of a revolver shot and the driver jerked to a stop, flung his hands above his head, and surrendered.

On the truck the officers said they found 118 sacks of Bourbon whisky in quart bottles, and forty-four cases of Scotch whisky in bottles of similar capacity. The liquor has a retail value, the officers quoted, of $25,000.

The driver of the truck, Dean D. Blakley, 27 years of age, of 1613 Vista del Mar avenue, was booked on charges of possession and transportation of liquor. He stated he was employed to drive the truck from San Francisco. Police believe the contraband beverage was landed off some small ship between Santa Monica and Santa Barbara. Blakely pleaded guilty on arraignment before Municipal Judge Bogue and was fined $900.

DOCTORS AIDED IN WALSH CASE

Defense Witness Says Dead Girl Took Blame

Performed Operation on Self, Jury Told

Prosecution Ends Testimony at Murder Trial

Coming as a surprise witness in the trial of Dr. P. S. Traxler and Dr. R. S. Lanterman, charged with the murder of Miss Delphine Walsh through an asserted illegal operation, Mrs. Arline Morgan went on the witness stand in Superior Judge Doran's court yesterday and testified that Miss Walsh admitted to her that she had attempted to perform the operation herself. Mrs. Morgan is in charge of Dr. Traxler's office.

Mrs. Morgan stated that the conversation took place in Dr. Traxler's surgery while Miss Walsh was on the operating table where she had been placed by the physician, to whom she had appealed for relief from pain.

Dr. Lanterman preceded Mrs. Morgan to the stand. He also testified that Miss Walsh had admitted performing the operation on herself. When questioned as to his connection with the case the physician stated that he had administered the anesthetic while Dr. Traxler gave Miss Walsh a treatment in an attempt to stay the spread of infection.

Previously, attorneys for Lanterman made a motion that the charges against him as a codefendant be dismissed but the motion was denied. Another motion urging an instructed verdict as to the physician's innocence also was denied.

The prosecution, headed by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Kemp and Veitch, closed its case shortly after noon. The defense counsel, headed by Jerry Geisler, immediately opened their testimony.

In the first five months of this year the United States was the leading country of origin for imports into Greece, and second as a country of destination for Greek exports.

TSBURGH, Aug. 29. (AP)—All miracles of baseball history pale before a Pirate pennant triumph in the season of 1929, but the Dreyfuss Dragoons continued their all but vain quest at Forbes Field today. Led into battle a second day by their new generalissimo, Jewel Ens, the Pirates rode forth to their third conquest of the Cubs in two days, this time by a score to 4.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 29. — Big Ed Baecht who wasn't good enough for the Portland club last year, extended the Ducks' losing streak to two this afternoon, by turning in a three - hit pitching performance that produced a 3-to-0 victory for the Angels. The Seraphs' triumph once more put Jack Lelivelt's battling outfit back in a tie for first place with Portland.

ED BAECHT

Some 8000 fans, half of which were women taking advantage of ladies' day, turned out for the struggle but didn't get a chance to do any cheering for their home club. Baecht kept them silent along with the Portland bats and in only two rounds were the Ducks able to advance a man as far as second, so well did he have the situation in hand.

Wes Schulmerich cinched the victory for the Cherubs in the ninth inning when he landed on one of Leroy Mahaffey's fast ones and drove it into the center-field bleachers for a home run that scored Earl Webb ahead of him. Until that swat the

ON THEIR WAY TO NATIONAL TENNIS CROWN

Here are Johnny Doeg, the demon southpaw of Santa Monica, and George Lott, who yesterday went into the finals of the national net championships by trimming Tilden and Hunter in four sets at Longwood. They meet Berkeley Bell and Lewis White in the finals tomorrow. Lott is shown in the inset. He hails from Chicago, and was a last-minute selection for the finals of the Davis Cup play against the French. [Associated Press photos]

Vittmen Only Half-Game Behind Leaders

Wetzel Takes Hurling Duel from Pudgy Gould

BY RALPH HUSTON

Making it four straight over Sacramento by taking both ends of yesterday's double-header, the soaring Stars of Hollywood found themselves only a half-game out of first place this morning. The twin victory over the sinking Senators and the 3-0 victory which the Angels scored over Portland boosted the Vittmen almost into a tie for the first rung of the second-half ladder.

ELI
FUNK.

Oscar Vitt himself was astonished when he had to use but two pitchers to win the double-header, George Hollerson hanging up his first victory of the season in the local orchard, wherein he pitched a complete nine innings, winning, 7 to 3, while Buzz Wetzel lasted to tame the Senators in the abbreviated second affair, 1 to 0.

The Stars pecked away at Big Ned Bryan often enough in the first game to take the lead and hold it. The Solons got to Hollerson for a marker in the first frame on Backer's infield hit, Monroe's single, and sacrifices by McLaughlin and Osborne. Burkett covered first on McLaughlin's sacrifice to Hollerson and the Solon third baseman was injured in the collision and was unable to resume play. French went in at short and Backer shifted to third for the rest of the day.

SCORE EARLY

The Stars knotted it up in the second on Carlyle's double to left and Heath's sharp single to center. They forged to the front in the next frame and were never headed. Lee opened with a single to center. Rollings sacrificed him along and the shortstop galloped to third on Monroe's error. Funk doubled into left to score Lee and Severeid's double to center tallied Funk.

There was no more scoring until the fifth, when Rollings led off with a single, advanced to third on sacrifices by Funk and Severeid and scored on Carlyle's single. Hollerson had been in serious difficulties in the third and fifth, only to be

Santa Monica Player and Partner Enter Final Round of National Double Finals With Victory

BROOKLINE (Mass.) Aug. 29. (AP)—George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, and his hard-stroking southpaw partner, Johnny Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Big Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter for the second time in a week here today in the semifinal round of the forty-eighth national doubles championship, 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Berkeley Bell and Lewis N. White, both of Austin, Tex., became the other finalists by conquering W. F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, and Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, in another four-set match, 7-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. The victorious teams will play for the national title Saturday afternoon.

When the national mixed doubles play ended just before darkness fell, Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. S. Olliff, the English team seeded fourth on the foreign list, were along in the semifinal bracket as a result of their 8-6, 5-7, 11-9 victory over Miss Helen Jacobs of San Francisco, and Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex., the top ranked American pair.

In the mixed quarter-finals play Mrs. Franklin Mallory of New York and Bill Tilden, the national champions in 1922 and 1923, defeated Eleanor Holton of Boston and H. M. Cully of Cambridge, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Sarah Palfrey, Boston, and Junior Coen defeated Miss Marjorie Morrill, Boston, and Berkeley Bell, Austin, Tex., 4-6, 8-6, 6-2. In the other mixed matches

MISS WRIGHT, MRS. LIFUR WIN

Southern California Stars Battle in Semifinals of Western Women's Tournament Today at Cleveland; Los Angeles to Have Finalist

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Gregg Lifur and Kathleen Wright, a pair of veteran campaigners from Los Angeles; Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City's golfing mother, and Peggy Wattles, sturdy Buffalo ace, survived grueling matches on the Mayfield Country Club course today to wedge into the semifinal round of the women's western golf championship.

MISS KATHLEEN WRIGHT

The battles were the hardest fought of the tournament. Mrs. Hill conquered Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit, and Miss Wright defeated Rena Nelson, 16-year-old Chicagoan, on the nineteenth green; Miss Wattles edged out Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., on the eighteenth carpet, and Mrs. Lifur upset Mrs. Lee Mida, Chicago, 2 and 1.

None played exceptionally good golf, however, and as a result one guess was as good as another as to who will win the title, which was dropped for the first time in three years by Mrs. Leona Pressler, Los Angeles, yesterday. The only certainty was that Los Angeles will have a finalist, as Mrs. Lifur meets Miss Wright in tomorrow's eighteen-hole semifinal, while Mrs. Hill tackles Miss Wattles, a player of the first rank whom she has never met before.

MANY THRILLS

While all matches today were replete with thrills, good and bad shots, the duel between Miss Nelson and Miss Wright was a standout. The young Chicagoan, who provided the major upset of the tournament yesterday by eliminating Virginia Van Wie, Chicago's first ranking star, held the lead most of the journey, but wilted on the eighteenth and nineteenth holes

Cuban Scores Decision Over Foe in Sensational Twelve-Round Bout in New York

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Glistening under the flood lights like a shaft of polished ebony come to life, dazzling Kid Chocolate punched out a tingling victory tonight over Al Singer, Jewish idol of the Bronx, while 45,000 of the fight-faithful yelled themselves almost into silence in the spacious National League ball yard.

From every section of the Bronx, settlement of Singer's kinsmen, from the negro section of Harlem, where the dusky Chocolate Drop from Cuba now makes his home, the rank and file of boxing as well as the city's elite turned out to form one of the largest crowds of the season at a match where nothing but individual supremacy was at stake. The gate receipts ran well over $200,000.

KID
CHOCOLATE

But even after a solid year of wholesale argument as these two flashing kids rose along separate paths to pugilistic stardom, the question of supremacy still was not settled tonight to the satisfaction of all. Finding their voices after the strain of the furious battle, the crowd booed the decision lustily and long. Even the referee and judges failed to agree, two voting for Chocolate and one for Singer.

BOTH PERFECT

There were no knockdowns as the two youngsters, almost letter perfect in boxing technique, fought swiftly and cleanly through the twelve rounds. The Associated Press score sheet gave the grinning Cuban "Keed" a margin in six rounds, with four for Singer and two even.

Fighting a careful counter-campaign from the start, Chocolate met the swift rushes of the black-haired

KEITH GLEDHILL AND VINES HOME FROM EASTERN COURTS

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, and Kieth Gledhill, Santa Barbara, arrived home from a successful tour of the eastern tennis courts yesterday morning. Vines and Gledhill won the national intersectional matches at Chicago for California, while the pair won the junior nationals in doubles, and were runner-up and winner, respectively in the singles. Vines entered the men's doubles play at Alhambra late last night as a partner of C. McPherson, his former Pasadena High mate, but Gledhill has returned to Santa Barbara, and will not play until the Pacific Southwest, September 20-29, inclusive.

Fidel LaBarba Takes on Jackie Mandell in Hollywood Legion Stadium Tonight

FORMER CHAMP PICKED TO WIN

Youngster Has Chance to Upset Dope

Blake Leaves for Europe Next Week

Ray McIntyre, Murray Box Semi-Wind-up Spot

The main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tonight is an unusual one. A former world's champion, Fidel La Barba, is fighting a coming youngster in Jackie Mandell. Fidel's reputation makes him the favorite. Mandell is the kind of a fighter to make trouble for La Barba. He is smart, a good boxer and as game as they come.

This will be La Barba's last fight for many months in the United States. George Blake will take Fidel east. From New York they will head for Europe, where a campaign has been mapped out by fighter and manager. It has been months since Fidel has been a main eventer at Hollywood. He has outgrown the stadium. The purses La Barba gets now for fighting net him just about what can be grossed at Hollywood. Blake and La Barba are returning to the stadium to repay the Legionnaires for past favors.

Many an upset has occurred at the Hollywood stadium and it isn't impossible for Jackie Mandell to upset the dope tonight. Mandell is a great prospect and he has talent that can make him a champion. All he lacks right now is experience. He isn't the favorite because fight fans think Fidel will outsmart him and as La Barba is a dangerous puncher there is everything in Fidel's favor. Mandell will have to work out a defense against La Barba's body attack.

The Legion has an all-star card. The semi-wind-up is one of the best booked in weeks at Hollywood. Ray McIntyre and Frankie Murray, bantamweights, are featured fighters. Fidel La Barba refused an offer of $1000 to fight McIntyre at Ventura last week and under no consideration will Speedy Dado fight Frankie Murray. Willie Fausto and Frankie Boldt, junior lightweights, meet in the special and Fausto is the choice to win.

The four-runders will be Happy Romero and Bert Wagner in the second spot and James Kelly fights Paul Drake in the curtain-raiser.

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

A DIFFERENCE IN GREENS

STORIES from Pebble Beach dwell on the disappointment registered by the natives over the fact that Mr. Robert Tyre Jones's first three days of practice failed to produce any record-breaking rounds.

It seems that the natives are unaware of some of the handicaps under which Mr. Jones labors, and they expect too much of the man who is the world's greatest golf player.

In the section of the South where Mr. Jones resides—Atlanta, Ga.—it is impossible to grow any kind of greens but those with a bermuda base.

Now, if you asked a golfer reared in Southern California to putt on a bermuda green he would throw up his hands in horror. Occasionally a temporary green of this texture is used—much to the disgust and torture of members of the club where it is located. But as a regular thing—never.

Therefore, when Mr. Jones journeys East or North or West he is forced to readjust his putting game entirely. Bermuda is rough and tough—totally unlike greens in other parts of the country.

Mr. O. B. Keeler, the Atlanta journalist who is quite generally referred to as Mr. Jones's Boswell, told me the other day that before the national open championship at Winged Foot Bobby slipped up to New York for a few days of practice on greens of fine texture.

Between the time he won the national open two months ago and the day he arrived in this city Bobby had shot but seven games of golf.

He had no practice on velvet greens like we have in this State. Expecting him to crack records right off the bat was silly.

I note, however, that Mr. Jones finally appeased the natives of Pebble Beach with a fine par-cracking round of 70—two under par—the other day, this indicating that the world's greatest golfer is getting his eye and touch adjusted to the change.

From now on you may expect most anything from Mr. Jones. He is that kind of an athlete, that stoutish young man from Georgia.

WORLD SERIES IDEAS

MR. HENRY MONOHAN, who has been doing his bit over a great period of years to uphold the dignity and prestige of the Espee, is about to burst forth with a great baseball idea.

Henry proposes to run one of the finest railroad specials to the world baseball series since Noah took the animals into the ark.

Henry was in charge of the Southern Pacific special which took the Trojans to Chicago for the Notre Dame football game two years ago, and, he believes, there are just as many dyed in the wool baseball nuts interested in the Chicago-Philadelphia Athletics world series as there were in that famous game.

Not that Henry likes baseball better than football. Far from it. I believe Henry, given his choice, would ditch even a world series for a Trojan-Notre Dame game.

But inasmuch as there is no such conflict, the world series coming early in October, Henry is for putting his talents to work early and not only running a fine special to the world series but exploiting some new ideas which will make the Trojan special to Chicago later in the year bigger and better than ever.

Mr. Monohan has announced no details for his baseball tour de luxe, but he is quietly working on the venture and expects to burst forth in full bloom with the details later.

A LEIPERVILLE CLIMBER

COLLYER'S EYE, a national sports publication, rates the ten leading welterweights of the country as follows:

1. Jackie Fields.
2. Jack Thompson.
3. Gorilla Jones.
4. Young Corbett.
5. Billy Angelo.
6. My Sullivan.
7. Al Mello.
8. Bucky Lawless.
9. Joe Dundee.
10. Tommy Freeman.

From Leiperville, Howard Dougherty, son of the Baron of Leiperville, James F. Dougherty, sends me clippings relative to the climb up the ladder of Billy Angelo, noting that the boy is four notches above the recently dethroned champion, Joe Dundee.

Howard Dougherty is the boy promoter who recently opened a new arena at Leiperville, and has been packing in the crowds mainly with Angelo as the attraction.

Angelo was just a preliminary boy with a hefty sock when he fought here over a year ago, being stopped by Eddie Gill on the Godfrey-Uzcudun card at Wrigley Field.

But the boy has a courageous heart, and he has been coming fast since that setback.

Mr. Dougherty sire, saw the Gorilla Jones-Dummy Mahan bout here on his recent visit, and he did not hesitate to say that Angelo will stop Jones, whenever they meet.

He says that is a match for Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams to make if he wants a real red-hot attraction.

CARTER TAKES WORKOUT

Northern Wildcat Training for Goldie Hess Go; Declares Townsend's Gloves Loaded

Wildcat Carter was on approval yesterday at the Manhattan Gymnasium when he took his first workout. The negro boxer, who fights Goldie Hess at the Olympic Tuesday night, looked the part of a great little ringman.

His manager, William Neal, arrived from the north by train in time to handle him for the workout.

Neal offered to post $5000 with the boxing commission here as a guarantee to Billy Townsend to box Carter in Los Angeles.

"We got a bad deal in Seattle last Tuesday night," says Neal. "Carter had whipped Townsend and never came close to getting knocked down. But last Tuesday every time Carter was hit he was dropped. The referee stopped the bout with Carter on his feet and throwing punches.

"This was the first time a knockout has been recorded against Carter in over sixty fights. Leslie is only 19 years of age and I am told it wasn't his condition. The only theory we have is that Townsend had something in his gloves besides his fists. Every lick he hit Carter raised a welt or a bump."

Hess and Carter are to scale 132 pounds next week. The match looked like a sellout until Carter got the negative sign put on him in the North.

However, Carter may go to the post the favorite with the betting fraternity. They have never yet liked Hess and each time he has cost them money.

The Olympic received a dozen offers yesterday from managers and fighters who want to fight Yale Okun. The list includes George Manley, Joe Sekyra, Tony Marullo, Joe Monte and others.

Okun would like to engage Ace Hudkins if the Wildcat is cleared by the commission. Such a match would probably go to the ball park. Hudkins goes into court around September 4 in an attempt to regain the $13,000 which he was fined by the State Athletic Commission.

While Hudkins has not been suspended a note of revenge is seen in the boxing board by denying him the right as a citizen to ply his trade of boxing.

Okun was yesterday offered a bout with Tuffy Griffiths in Chicago by Promoter Paddy Harmon for October. Jimmy Johnston is in Agua Caliente and will not return until today or tomorrow.

Tony Portillo and Richie King will meet in the eight-round semi on the Hess-Carter card next Tuesday. The special is between Joe McComas and Sid Torres.

The Speedy Dado-Ernie Peters bout has been definitely moved up to September 10. If Hudkins is cleared he will box Joe Anderson a week later.

saved by sharp fielding, and the Solons finally shoved a run across in the sixth. With one out, Rohwer homed over the right-field screen, leaving the Senators just two runs behind.

This margin wasn't enough, so Funk and Carlyle hit homers in the Hollywood seventh to increase the lead. Funk's blow cleared the right-field wall and Carlyle's dropped into the bleachers. Rohwer tallied for the Solons in the eighth on his single, Hoag's drive to left and Stoeven's double to right, all with two out. The Stars got their final run in their half of the eighth when Albert doubled to right, dallied on the second bag while Burkett popped to Monroe, gained third on Hollerson's infield out and scored on Lee's double.

Wetzel and "Pudgy" Gould, who had toiled on Wednesday, hooked up in something resembling a pitchers' battle in the second affair. The Hollywood star was in frequent difficulties, but managed to save the contest. Hollywood's only run came in the fifth with two out. Burkett fanned and Wetzel grounded to Stoeven. Lee walked and went to third on Rollings's single to right. Funk cracked out the necessary base hit, bringing Lee across with what proved to be the winning run.

The Solons threatened violently in the seventh, but couldn't put across the tying marker. Stoeven opened with a single to center. Gould sacrificed. Backer singled to right, putting Stoeven on third. Monroe hit to Burkett, who threw to Severeid, getting Stoeven at the plate, and Osborne forced Monroe at second to end the contest.

Lee drew an error when he booted Backer's grounder in the third inning of the second game, after playing through fifteen contests without a miscue.

FUNK FEATURES

Funk's terrific hitting featured. He got his third homer in as many days, got three for four in the first contest and one out of two tries in the second affair.

Cleo Carlyle cut off a sure Sacramento run with some strong-arm work in the second game. Koehler doubled to open the sixth for the Solons. Rohwer sent a long fly to Carlyle. Koehler almost started for third, after the catch, but looked up to see Carlyle's perfect throw come bouncing into Rollings's hands, right on the bag, and hustled back to second. Carlyle then made a beautiful running catch of Hoag's long fly to right center, a fly ball that a lot of outfielders wouldn't even have touched. Koehler made third after the sensational catch. If Carlyle hadn't held him on second on the previous out, he would have been a cinch to score.

Carlyle also drew doubles on unfortunate plays by Ray French. In the first game he hit a Texas-leaguer that French tried for, and just missed after staggering around in the sun, and in the second affair, a slashing drive at the Solon shortstop took a bad bounce, and rolled into center for two bases. There were ten doubles in the games.

Vitt is resting easily with four straight victories, but must depend on one of two wobbly hurlers for today's fray—Joe Marty or Hank Hulvey. Buddy Ryan has Cano ready. "Lefty" Flynn rejoined the Sacramento club yesterday afternoon and probably will be used before the week is over.

Bill Klepper, big sachem of the Seattle Indians was on hand to chortle over his club's two straight from the Seals. The Tribesmen meet the Angels here next week. Yesterday's box scores:

well. To climax a perfect year all four of the lads were sent to the Hawaiian Islands with all expenses paid for a marvelous three-week trip by The Times.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 the City of Los Angeles will dock at Wilmington and the writer will have to go back to work and the four boys get ready for another year of school.

None of us can make up our minds which trip was the best, the trip over or the one back to the mainland. Going over we were all excited thinking of the wonderful beaches we were to see and bathe on, the fire-spitting volcanoes, the lava beds, the native feasts, and surf boards, while now we are thinking of the perfectly wonderful time that was had doing all the things that all boys long to do; really learning to ride a surf board, seeing all the volcanoes and lava beds, taking a swim every day in the surf, and the knockout native dishes prepared for us at the feasts.

One thing that is sure, Southern California Junior Olympic aspirants will have to look out for the Hawaiian entries next year in the finals. While we were over there, the four national champions entered into competition with native lads one afternoon in all five Junior Olympic events, and several islanders surprised everyone by making over 400 points in the first attempt at the events. The Junior Olympics will be sponsored by the Honolulu Advertiser in the islands next year and it is our prediction that its contestants in the finals will be hard to beat.

LEE IN FORM

Dudley Lee had played through fourteen consecutive games without an error up to Thursday of this week. In the fourteen games the Hollywood shortstop handled thirty-eight putouts and forty-six assists, a total of eighty-four fielding chances.

Introducing the ALOHA
A LIGHT, AIRY STYLE OF SOFT, MELLOW FELT
by Hardeman

Now First On Display

In the soft Hawaiian tongue, "ALOHA" means both "Good Morning" and "Goodbye," as well as expressing affection.

Doubly appropriate therefore is its selection as the name for the hat which is the first and last word in fashion for this season—a real "man's hat," for which you can have a genuine fondness.

The ALOHA is a splendid hat of the new Bognor type, with the popular narrow band, feather-light in weight, of a soft, mellow felt that encourages a touch of jauntiness in wearing it. On summer days you'll enjoy its airy lightness—on countless occasions you will welcome the relief it affords from formal stiffness.

And the price is also attractive.

of beating Ed (Strangler) Lewis were ru esterday with the announcement by the uld wear long tights when he clashed with
, in a finish wrestling battle at the Olym
Wednesday night.

Experts declare that Stecher would have defeated Lewis in their last meeting here had he worn long tights. This garment, it was explained, is worn to eliminate the possibility of the foe turning around in a body scissor hold because of perspiration or grease on his body.

Stecher claimed after his last battle with Lewis that the Ken tuckian, or one of his handlers, removed his long tights from his dressing-room before the match. It is a known fact that Anton Stecher, his brother-manager, argued with him not to go into the ring until the long tights were returned, but the scissor expert believed he could dispose of the head artist without them.

Both Lewis and his manager, Billy Sandow, deny they had anything to do with the disappearance of Stecher's tights. They did declare, however, that the Nebraskan had the habit of wearing rosin beneath the knees of the long woolen wrestling outfit for the express purpose of temporarily blinding his foe with it. His system was to get a head scissor in such a manner that the rosin rubbed into his opponent's eyes.

Sandow stated yesterday he would ask that the referee be instructed to examine Stecher's tights very closely after the grapplers got into the ring, and if any sign of rosin is found to refuse Stecher permission to use the long garments.

When Stecher first broke into the game, and went four years without having a fall scored against him, he wore the long tights every time he wrestled, and was able to beat many foes who thought they could squirm out of the hold by rubbing grease on their stomachs. The success of his body scissors depended upon the tights, mat experts declare.

RED SOX RUINED

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29. (AP)— errors by the Red Sox in the inning helped the Athletics to score three runs and eke out a 7-6 victory in a homecoming fray this afternoon.

The Red Sox miscues ruined Jack Rothrock's attempt to win the game single-handed by hitting a home run with the bases filled in the fourth inning.

Big Ed Morris went the full distance for the visitors. The Mackmen touched him for five hits in the third inning and that gave them four runs and a lead of two. These four markers were recovered on Rothrock's homer in the following round.

Jimmy Dykes returned to the Athletics' line-up today after being out of the game for three weeks on account of a Charley horse. Score:

There were two out in the final stanza when Hudlin purposely walked Metzler, filling the bases, so that he could pitch to Cissell. The Sox shortstop hit the first pitch for a single to left to count the winning run. Hudlin yielded eight hits. Score:

RALPH SNODDY ILL; UNABLE TO COMPETE IN REGATTA

DETROIT, Aug. 29. (AP)—Ralph Snoddy of Los Angeles, has typhoid fever and will be unable to pilot the Miss Los Angeles II in the Harmsworth Trophy race in the Detroit River here Saturday and Monday, the regatta committee was informed today.

SERAPHS AGAIN TRIM PORTLAND

GREAT SUPPORT

The Angels gave Baecht perfect support, Walter Berger robbing Buster Chatham of a double in the fourth when he snagged the Duck shortstop's drive off the left-field bleacher wall with one hand. Schulmerich also helped the big right-hander in the fifth, when, with men on first and second and only one away, he snared Bates's line drive after a long run and rapidly sent a perfect throw to Haney that doubled Harris off second to break up a rally. Earl Webb also made a couple of nice catches at first, while Bobby Murray and Ray Jacobs came up with some difficult plays.

Mahaffey, another specialist in fast ones, also pitched a fine brand of ball, until Schulmerich walloped that homer in the ninth. But Mahaffey yielded eight hits and didn't hurl the ball dispensed by Baecht.

Baecht was wheeling that terrific fast one right by the Duck batsmen most of the afternoon and chalked up six strikeouts. Of the three hits made off the Angel chucker, only "Junk" Walters' single to left in the fifth was a legitimate bingle. Woodall's safety in the sixth was a blooper off the handle while either Jacobs or Schulmerich should have caught the pop fly on which Chatham was credited with a hit in the ninth. You can put it down right now that Mister Baecht is going to be a helluva hurler before he finishes his time in the national pastime.

Murray chalked up the first run in the third inning which he opened by rapping a double down the left-field line. Sandberg, after making two ineffectual attempts to sacrifice, fanned, so Murray decided it was time to steal third, which he promptly did. Mahaffey then uncorked a wild pitch and Bobby romped across the plate with a run that would have been enough to win the ball game.

Murray worked his way into scoring position again in the fifth when he stole second and took third on Sandberg's infield out, but this time Mahaffey fanned Baecht to leave him stranded.

The Ducks made a gesture toward scoring in the fifth which began with Keesey drawing the only walk issued by Baecht. Harris tried to sacrifice but Murray pounced on the ball and whipped it to Haney to force Keesey. Walters then singled to left, but Schulmerich turned Bates's line drive into a double play that ended the inning.

TWO SINGLES

Haney and Statz opened the Los Angeles sixth with singles, but Mahaffey fanned Webb and Berger and Haney was doubled stealing on the latter's whiff.

In the Portland sixth Woodall led off with his handle hit to right and Mahaffey bunted him along, but Webb made a nice running catch of Chatham's long foul fly and Baecht personally tossed out Hillis to end the round.

The Angels iced the struggle in the ninth when Webb singled, Berger sacrificed and Schulmerich loosened a couple of boards in the bleachers with his home-run wallop.

Chatham got a lucky hit with one away in the Portland half of the ninth, but Schulmerich snatched Hillis's fly and Baecht blew a fast one by Sigafoos for a third strike to send the gathering home early.

Berlin Horne, the pitcher the Cubs exchanged for Slug Tolson, joined the Angels today and will probably be seen in action before the series ends. Clyde Barfoot will take the mound for Lelivelt tomorrow, while the Ducks, who are pretty much up against it for pitchers, will have to use Cascarella or Ortman.

Burke, the youthful Portland arbiter who is being given a tryout this week by President Harry Williams, worked behind the plate today and got by pretty well. But it looks as though Prexy Williams is taking quite a chance in giving the youngster his opportunity in such a crucial series as this—between two clubs battling for the league lead. President Williams, by the way, is expected to be in Portland for tomorrow's game to take a look at the strange phenomenon of packed stands in the Portland ball park. Score:

FIELDS WILL SECOND ROSS IN GO TOMORROW

Jackie Fields, welterweight champion of the world, and his fiery manager, Gig Rooney, will second Barney Ross in his clash with Ramon Lugo tomorrow night at the Main-street Athletic Club. Ross, undefeated veteran of 150 amateur battles in Chicago, is making his first professional start in his bout with the Mexican featherweight.

Fields and Rooney also will second Marty Fields, another Chicago featherweight and boyhood chum of the champion. Fields boxes Marcus Zorilla in a preliminary bout.

Brooklyn Scores Two Runs in Ninth

BROOKLYN, Aug. 29. (AP)—Bill Walker, youthful southpaw of the Giants, pitched eight no-hit innings against Brooklyn here today, but the home team fell upon his fast ball in the ninth for four hits and two runs. The Giants won by a score of 6 to 2.

Melvin Ott's bat practically carried the day for the Clan McGraw. In four trips to the plate he hit his thirty-third homer and a double, walked once, scored four runs and batted in two. Score:

BRAVES BUMPED

BOSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Benge's single with the bases full in the tenth scored two runs and gave Philadelphia a 5-to-4 win over the Braves here today.

Benge was retired from the box in the tenth after Spohrer's long double had scored a Boston run. He was relieved by Collins, who halted the Boston rally. Thompson and Friberg did the Phillies' heavy hitting. Score:

BOBBY JONES SHATTERS PAR

ifying play Monday and Tuesday. Principal among those out of the original field are Jesse Guilford, Watts Gunn, William C. Fownes, Jr., James Ward of Kansas City, Maurice McCarthy, the intercollegiate champion, Maj. Guy Campbell of England, and John D. Ames of Chicago, one of the 1928 qualifiers.

Jones, although shifting his base of practice, was the center of attention again today. His 71 at Cypress Point clipped a stroke off the official course record, as it had been slightly rebuilt and a previous 70 was considered unofficial. Par is 72.

Dr. C. F. Willing, the Portland (Or.) dentist, played Pebble Beach in exactly par figures, 72. To give additional evidence that he is a real title threat, the veteran was even par with 36-36. He had birdies at the fourth and fourteenth, to offset slips on the first and seventeenth.

His card: Out, 554-335-344—36; in, 443-444-445—36——72.

George Von Elm, the Detroit star, carded an approximate 72, but Big Jess Sweetser, 1922 champion, had an erratic round, picking up on two holes but bagging three birdies out of four successive holes on the incoming nine.

Sweetser paired in a foursome with Lord Charles Hope, losing out on the last hole to D. Clark Corkran of Philadelphia and Eustace F. Storey of England. Corkran was the steadiest of the quartet with an approximate medal round of 76. The Englishmen approximated 80 each.

Playing with Eugene Homans, Thomas Bourne and Eustace Storey, Cyril Tolley, British amateur, turned in a card of 73, despite sixes on the first two holes.

Don Moe, Portland amateur, who has been given eighth place in the seeded players, turned in a brilliant card of 73 today. He was out in 36 and back in 37.

Eddie Held, New York City, covered the ocean course in 78 this afternoon for his first round. He is fresh from a victory in the Western Canada amateur, where he was both medalist and winner.

Jack Gaines of Los Angeles had a chance to share the spotlight with Jones today, when he turned the fourteenth hole 4 under par. But the sixteenth and seventeenth lay in wait for him and a 74 was the result for his round.

Walter Fovargue of Seattle turned in a card of 75 and Francis Ryan of New York a 79.

SWIM ENTRY LIST CLOSES

More Than Hundred Aquatic Stars Sign Up for "Times" Pre-Olympic Classic

Exactly 103 entries, sixty-seven men and thirty-six women, had filed their entries for the Times Pre-Olympic swim at 6 o'clock last night when the lists were officially closed by the executive committee. Every swimmer of note in Southern California was listed among the competitors, while four internationally known stars furnished the out-of-State interest. Sunday's event promises to be the biggest thing ever staged in Southern California waters.

Charley Keppen, manager of the classic, pointed out that any entries in the mail before 6 o'clock last night would be accepted, and it is barely possible that the total list will soar well over the century mark. Every beach swimming and athletic club in Southern California is entering its leading performers, insuring the spectators of a great race from start to finish.

ADALINE WHALING

The men's race will start promptly at 2 o'clock from the pier at Venice, and the competitors will head toward the pier at Ocean Park, seven-eighths of a mile away. The women's race will also start from the Venice pier, the feminine stars getting under way at 2:05. They will swim to a line of buoys a quarter of a mile away, and will return to their starting point.

The thousands of spectators who are expected to witness the classic will be given minutely reports on both races by means of public address systems which will be installed on both piers and along the beach front. A Coast Guard cutter in command of Lieut. Jewell, acting commander of Base 17 at San Pedro, will follow the swimmers, and signalmen will flash the numbers of the leading contestants to other signalmen on shore, who will broadcast the standings to the crowds.

Both the men's and women's events are expected to be exceptionally close. While there are outstanding swimmers in both events, there are enough dark horses present to make a big upset easily within the realms of possibility.

Two beautiful cups have been put up for perpetual competition. Each must be won three times to become the permanent possession of the winner. In addition, there are sixteen prizes for men, consisting of wrist watches and cigarette lighters, suitably engraved, and six prizes for women, wrist watches and vanity cases. Because of the number of young feminine stars entered, Keppen yesterday announced that a special prize probably would be awarded to the first miss under 15 to cross the finish line. Two little girls, only 10 years of age, have been entered in the half-mile event.

An automobile accident late Wednesday night caused the probable withdrawal of three entrants from the San Clemente Beach Club. They are Dodie Blewett, Adeline Whaling and Dorothy Justin, who suffered injuries when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a freight train. Available reports indicated that Miss Blewett had suffered a broken right arm; Miss Whaling and Miss Justin receiving severe cuts and bruises. The complete entry list:

BERNICE LOGAN SETS RECORD AT SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Aug. 29. (AP) For the third time in as many days records fell today at the grand circuit race meeting here when Bernice Logan covered the mile in the first heat of the 2:12 pacing event in 2:01½. This is a new season's mark for pacing mares and ties the mark set for stallions by Better Win Tuesday.

Bonnie M. had no great competition in winning the Chamber of Commerce $10,000 purse in straight heats, covering all three rounds in 2:03 or faster.

Princess Iroquois took the claiming pace in straight heats and the Governor's purse for 2:15 trotters went to Chester Stout in three heats. The 2:12 pace was unfinished, the slowest time being 2:03 1-4.

Laird Leads in Alhambra Play

BILLY DOEG IS AMONG LOSERS

G. Boege Also Bows Before Former Bruin Star

Sidney Wood Cops Victory in Handy Fashion

Favorites Come Through in Women's Matches

Bob Laird, former University of California at Los Angeles varsity tennis captain, led the field in quest of the Alhambra open singles championship yesterday following two victories over Billy Doeg, Santa Monica, and G. Boege, Fullerton, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-1, 8-10, 6-2, respectively.

The Laird-Doeg preliminary failed to result in a terrific battle as predicted prior to the players taking the court yesterday. Laird swamped his youthful foe in straight sets but met his match in Boege who carried the former Bruin star three sets. Boege's serving and driving caused no end of trouble for Laird but the latter finally solved these tactics by storming the net at every chance.

Sidney Wood, tourney favorite, and seeded first in the men's singles, downed G. McMillan handily, 6-4, 6-1. Cliff Robbins, the U.C.L.A. fresh leader, handed W. Baldwin a 6-0, 6-3, beating, while Frank Westsmith turned in a 6-6, 6-0 victory over L. Moeris. S. Patterson, Los Angeles Tennis Club, joined Laird in the third bracket, defeating A. Green, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, and W. Cannon, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Elizabeth Rathbourne of Pasadena was extended in her engagement with Ellen Lee, winning only after an exceedingly close tilt, 6-1, 10-12, 10-8. Other favorites won straight-set contests, including Dorothy Workman over Harriett Darling, 6-4, 6-3; Dorothy Robinson from Ruth McCabe, 6-3, 6-0; Louise McFarland over Mrs. Ward, 6-3, 6-4, and Miss Taylor from Mrs. Wilson, 6-4, 6-1.

The second and third rounds of the men's singles will be staged today, the second round of the women's singles, and also the preliminary pairings in the men's and mixed doubles. In the former event Bob Laird and Jack Tidball are top seeded choices, in the latter Charles Wessner and Dot Robinson.

Yesterday's complete results:

MEN'S SINGLES

First round, L. Patterson defeated B. Wilson by default; R. Smith defeated E. Ramsauer by default; G. Bartosh defeated D. Daiels, 6-4, 6-1; G. Boege defeated R. Branda, 6-1, 6-3; J. Sisson defeated W. Hillard, 6-4, 6-0; N. Patchen defeated J. Burn, 6-3, 6-4.

CHOCOLATE IS BOUT WINNER

Jewish lad with remarkable skill, set the pace of battle despite Singer's aggressiveness and spurted with furious rallies whenever the going got rough and dangerous. The ebony enigma silenced Singer's heaviest gun, a straight powerful right to the head, tied up the Bronx favorite effectively in the clinches, and outgeneraled the fiery little Jewish lad at every stage.

With only a few lapses, gloves flew in clouds through every round as the youngsters set a mad pace. Although Singer weighed 128 3-4 pounds to Chocolate's 125, the negro lad was the stronger at the close.

Both Singer and Chocolate had two great rounds when the battle seemed about to be terminated suddenly. In the fifth, the Cuban Chocolate Drop flashed his right hand to Singer's head in one fast rally and the Jewish boy barely kept his feet. In the eighth the negro again caught Singer with a ruinous right uppercut and Al had difficulty holding the shadowy "Keed" while his head cleared.

SMART FIGHT

Singer flashed his best form in the second and eleventh rounds when he drove Chocolate about the ring under a bitter attack that almost found the vital spots the negro boy guarded so well. But in the twelfth, the final session, it was Chocolate again who stole the play, mustered the final measure of strength, and pinned Spinger to the ropes with a flood of punches that settled the argument as far as the referee and judges were concerned.

Chocolate fought a cagey, well planned battle through the early rounds, fighting only in bursts on the defensive as Singer plunged confidently to the attack. He had a shade the better of the first session and a clear margin in the third. Singer's aggressiveness, the occasional punches that seeped through Chocolate's guard in the open, and his better organized attack at close quarters, gave the Jewish boy the second, fourth, and fifth round.

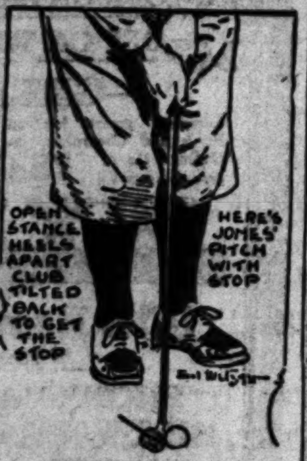
After the sixth, Chocolate rallied and unleashed a right hand that previously had been held in reserve for blocking purposes. He beat Singer consistently to the punch, out-smarted him in the hot exchanges, and easily won the seventh, eighth and ninth rounds. The tenth was even, Singer staged his final rally in the eleventh, and Chocolate again took complete command of the situation in the final session.

For all the clean and accurate punching, the only damage either showed when the melee was over was a deep cut in Singer's right cheek, opened in the fifth round, and a "mouse" that appeared under Chocolate's left eye a round or so later.

Peterson is Knocked Out by Griffith

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Jerry (Tuffy) Griffith of Sioux City, Iowa, making his fourth start as a heavyweight, hammered out a technical knockout victory over Big Boy Peterson of New Orleans, at Mills Stadium tonight. Griffith had Peterson draped on the ropes at the end of the fifth round, and the New Orleans boxer was unable to come out for the sixth heat of their ten-round engagement.

Bobby Jones Expert With Short Chips



OPEN STANCE HEELS APART CLUB TILTED BACK TO GET THE STOP
HERE'S JONES' PITCH WITH STOP

BY SOL METZGER

Bobby Jones's short pitch is a classic. I reckon every golfer on the Pacific Coast able to will be in the huge galleries following the defending champion at Pebble Beach this week, as it's Bobby's first appearance on the Pacific Coast. They'll see how simple golf is when played by an expert. Let's look at his pitch as he's playing it today, the pitch from around seventy-five yards off. Yesterday we explained his chip from just off the green.

The first difference you'll note in comparing these two shots is that his stance is a wee bit wider for this longer shot. But it's still a lot narrower than that used by most good golfers. Bobby's stance is for every shot. Incidentally, a narrower stance will cure swaying.

The second difference between his chip and pitch is that for the latter he tilts or lays the club-face back at a greater angle. That means greater elevation for the ball in flight and more stop. Note that the stance for both shots is a bit open and the hands close in to the body. Both shots are straight through for the pin with the club-head. Both demand that the ball be hit crisply. There is no exaggerated swing. Tomorrow—Jones's sportsmanship.

Cure that hook or slice. Straighten out your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for free leaflet on "Driving." Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

ARMY POLOISTS HEAD THIS WAY

Eleventh Cavalry Will Play Uplifters Four

Mallet Squads Open Series Sunday Afternoon

Hal Roach Will Lead Local Players in Tilts

CAPT. WOOD

Playing a two-game series with special permission from their chief, Col. Roger Fitch, four Eleventh Cavalry horsemen ride into town tomorrow morning from the Presidio at Monterey. The army players will cross mallets with Uplifters horsemen, captained by Hal E. Roach, over the next two week-ends at Rustic Canyon field, Santa Monica. Capt. D. S. Wood, familiar figure in service polo circles, will lead the cavalry poloists into action.

Cavalry poloists always put up a colorful brand of polo, and the series here is expected to be no exception. On the army team besides Wood, one of the greatest backs in service polo history, are Lieut. John L. Hines, Jr., Capt. Charles Kilburn and Capt. W. A. Falck.

Hines is a son of Maj.-Gen. Hines, commander of the Ninth Coast Army Corps, which takes in the Pacific Coast. He learned his polo at West Point, where good horsemanship is one of the essentials. Kilburn has played on army teams in Washington, D. C., and El Paso, Tex. Capt. Falck is a Los Angeles boy, who won fame as captain of the California crew some years ago. He has played good polo with the Eleventh this year.

Will Rogers, Snowy Baker, Hal Roach and Clair Brunson will represent the Uplifters in the series.

Play by play will be broadcast from the sidelines, Uplifters officials announced.

LOCAL GOLFERS IN SEMIFINAL

under her more experienced rival's steady fire and golfing stamina.

Miss Nelson shot a 43, three over par, going out to get a slender 1-up lead and increased it another hole by capturing the eleventh with a birdie 5 after playing to a half on the twelfth. Miss Wright came back with a pair of birdies on the succeeding two holes and squared the match, only to drop one behind on the 370-yard fifteenth by laying her drive and approach into bad traps. Holding this lead and stroking along beautifully, Miss Nelson all but had the match in her grasp as she stepped to the eighteenth tee. But she broke. She shanked and dubbed four consecutive shots to traps, requiring a bad 8 on the par 5 hole, while Miss Wright played safely and straight down all the route for a par to even it up. On the extra hole, the Californian smacked her drive 285 yards down the fairway, pitched 100 yards to the green and plunked her ball in the cup for a birdie 4 and the match as Miss Nelson needed a 5 because of a trap lie with her iron second.

SCORES BIRDIE

Mrs. Hill, twice trans-Mississippi champion and tournament medalist, and Mrs. Higbie had an uphill battle from the fourth hole on. The fight ended on the nineteenth when Mrs. Hill spanked a pretty 150-yard iron shot to within twelve feet of the pin for an easy birdie 4, while Mrs. Higbie miscalculated her approach, requiring three to find the carpet.

Miss Wall fell before Miss Wattles, but she fell after fighting one of the greatest comebacks in her career. Miss Wall muffed a short out on the eighteenth when she had a big chance to win the hole and square the match. Miss Wattles played safely for a half and won.

Wildness and her opponent's steadiness cost Mrs. Mida the match with Mrs. Lifur today.

BIG LEAGUER AT 16

Jimmy Fox, aged 22, first baseman and clean-up hitter of the Philadelphia Athletics, came from a farm at Sudlersville, Md., on the eastern shore. He first played in the big leagues as a catcher at the age of 16.

LIVELY BALL BARRED

The Eastern League has barred the lively ball this season.

TILDEN LOSES SPOTLIGHT

Young Stars to be Feature Attraction of Coming Pacific Southwest Tennis Championships

For once in nine years or thereabouts, William T. (Tennis) Tilden, six times our national champion and nine times our big bet of the Davis Cup team, will receive not all but only a share of the spotlight in the oncoming Pacific Southwest tennis championships.

The Kansas City schoolboy, Wilbur (Junior) Coen, protege of Tilden, who, it will be remembered, defeated John Doeg, Wilmer Allison, Arnold Jones and other crack netters at the cup trials in 1928, will attract a large following, which in turn will detract from Big Bill.

The now famous doubles combination of Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, Wimbledon winners, and conquerors of the French stars, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, will be followed closely in their matches here during the doubles as well as the singles events.

Bunny Austin of England, sensation of the Wimbledon classic this year; Tamio Abe of Japan's cup forces and the South African highlight, Norman Farquerson, will also take away from our Big Bill a considerable following of rabid net enthusiasts. These foreign entries and the Americans will lend to the tournament not not only color, but that necessary international flavor.

California's host of local talents, winners of seven national championships this summer, including Kieth, Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines, Ben Gorchakoff and Art Kussman, Jay Cohn and Charles Hunt, and Helen N. Wills, should the queen decide to appear in the exhibitions against the English or the tournament, or both, will also strip the Philadelphian of some additional attention and following.

There will be considerable attention stolen from the entire male division by the opposite sex as a result of the appearance here of the English Wightman Cup forces, especially Miss Betty Nuthall and Helen Jacobs, Midge Gladman and May Bundy.

FREIGHTER LINE IN NEW VENTURE

McCormick Company Starts Northwest Service

Seven-Ship Fleet to Provide Semiweekly Sailings

Gain in Local Offerings for Area Prompts Move

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

The McCormick Steamship Company yesterday announced the inauguration of a new freight service between Los Angeles and Puget Sound, with two sailings weekly out of here, supported by seven ships. The steamer Skagway started the service yesterday when she sailed from Los Angeles with a full cargo of Los Angeles products.

Carrying general cargo exclusively both ways in this service will be the steamer Skagway, Dorothy Wintermote and the Brookdale, while the other four ships, Jane Nettleton, John C. Kirkpatrick, Santa Ynes and Daisy Gray, which bring lumber south, will go north with general cargo. The Dorothy Wintermote is now en route here in the new service.

The move forges another link in a trade-transporting chain rapidly being welded by the McCormick Line, and with present services to the Columbia River will give sailings to San Francisco from here on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Gains in shipments northward of goods manufactured in Los Angeles have been astounding within the past year, according to M. A. Richley, terminal superintendent of the McCormick Line here, yesterday.

"A year ago offerings of Los Angeles to the Puget Sound area were nothing to brag about. Now you'd be surprised by a look at our manifests, disclosing the volume of auto tires, plumbing, electric fixtures, radio equipment and such manufactures going into the Northwest from Los Angeles factories."

Half a dozen years ago the McCormick Steamship Company had half a dozen lumber schooners only. Today that firm either owns or represents ten times that number, blanketing the Pacific Coast, plying between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, from the Pacific to South America, to Europe and by the end of the year will represent the Klaveness Line of fast motorized freight ships to the Near West, as the Far East now is becoming known.

The company here has a terminal with about 1200 feet of water frontage where an average of thirty ships call monthly.

STUDY OF FRUIT IN SHIP HOLDS TO START

Scientific studies on marine refrigeration, particularly of fresh fruits and vegetables, will be made aboard the Kerr motorship Silverhazel out of San Francisco September 12 for the Orient, the results of which are expected to benefit Southern California materially.

It is to be conducted by Prof. E. L. Overholzer of the University of California, assisted by Carl Spurlock, horticultural commissioner of Solano county, who will take a complete laboratory for a score of tests en route.

Studies will include temperature measurements of the fruit, storage compartments, air and seawater; relative humidity in storage compartments; composition of the atmosphere in the holds and in the fruit itself; air movement about the refrigerated cargo and external influences, and possible development of physiological troubles and fruit diseases, and correlation of factors favorable or opposed to these.

The experimental cargo will include citrus fruits, plums, peaches, prunes, grapes, pears, pomegranates, figs, apples, cauliflower, lettuce, celery, melons and such.

The aim is the furtherance of markets abroad for California perishables, and a report of the studies later will be available through the Giannini Foundation of the University of California.

Four hundred and fifteen passengers and a fair cargo of Hawaiian products will arrive on the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles from Honolulu this morning. As with a majority of sailings so far this year, the passenger list represents a material increase over the corresponding voyage last year. Items of cargo include fresh and canned pineapples, sugar, honey and general merchandise. The liner also has several dozen automobiles of passengers, mail and parcel post.

The Belgian flag, a rarity here, will be seen here September 5 with the arrival here of the new Belgian motor tankship Belgian Gulf No. 1, coming from Antwerp to load 70,000 barrels of Shell gasoline for the United Kingdom. W. H. Wickersham is agent. The vessel reached Panama the 7th inst., but had to undergo repairs, delaying her. She recently was commissioned for the d'Armement d'Industrie et de Commerce.

Another stranger here, the Norwegian motor freight ship Beljeanne, is due here tomorrow for bunkers, en route from Wilmington, Del., to Tsingtao, China. Her holds are so spacious she can handle locomotives of ninety tons and similar sisterships performing such service in Europe during the war won special commendation. She is one of a fleet of eight ships owned by Christen Smith of Oslo, and was built at Newcastle in 1926.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (AP)—The steamer Heina Oelhaus, which recently ran afoul a shoal south of San Francisco, was moored at a dock here today while underwriters debated whether she was worth repairing. A survey conducted by the American Bureau of Shipping and Lloyd's determined that the Oelhaus was not an insurable risk, and shipping men gave it as their opinion that the cost to put the Oelhaus in condition would be greater than what the vessel is worth. Port authorities declared the disaster was due to faulty navigation.

When the liner California sails from here Saturday for New York she will have a full list of passengers and a capacity cargo. One of the principal items in the cargo will be 4000 cases of selected eggs from Petaluma. The egg shipment, totaling 1,620,000 eggs, is one of the largest made by California dealers to New York.

SEATTLE, Aug. 29.—To serve as a fox farm tender for the Kanaga Ranching Company on the Aleutian Islands, the Aleutian Native was due to sail from Seattle to the Aleutian Islands tonight. The ship formerly was a Portland fire boat and has been rebuilt at a cost of approximately $100,000.

PORTLAND, Aug. 29.—James E. Barver of Portland will sail aboard the Norwegian motorship Bronxville of the Klaveness Line Sunday, going to Singapore, where he will take over headquarters office of the Klaveness flag in the Far East.

The Bronxville was at Tacoma today loading part of her outward cargo for the Orient.

Capt. H. Bull-Metsem, master of the Bronxville, said this was his first trip to the Columbia River in twenty-one years.

Kenealy Wins Fourth Clas

Mel Kenealy further demonstrated to dirt-track fans that his midget mount is one of the fastest of its kind in this neck of the woods last night by winning the thirty-lap special race held at the American Legion oval. In winning, Kenealy set one of the fastest times for the distance ever made by any other race driver at the Legion track. He tooled his mount around thirty turns in 16m. 8 5-10s., lapping one complete lap ahead of Speed Hinkley, who captured second-place honors. Bill Rubin took third.

The presentation of the Wy[illegible] trophy by the famous [illegible] was the outstanding event of the evening. This makes the second trophy that Kenealy has captured, having won the Bob Hanson cup a week ago.

Kenealy also won the first event, an eight-lap race, and in doing so recorded a new dirt-track record for that distance. Mel went the eight laps in the fast time of 4m. 6-10s.

Results of the other races are as follows:

Wrigley Swim Set for Today

TORONTO (Can.) Aug. 29. (P)—Barring an overnight change in conditions the much-postponed Wrigley fifteen-mile marathon swim will start at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Officials of the swim announced tonight that weather conditions had improved to such a degree that the race was virtually certain of being held tomorrow unless cold winds again forced the temperature of Lake Ontario down below the required minimum of 60 deg.

Among the 277 entrants are [illegible] women, Ruth Tower of [illegible], who finished second in the [illegible] women's marathon last week, and Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong of [illegible], third in that event. [illegible] of Germany, winner of the Wrigley marathon of two years ago, was the outstanding favorite of experts here tonight. George Young, winner of the Wrigley swim at Catalina Island in 1926, did not lack for supporters.

Big Six

By the Associated Press

The Big Six members who represent the Athletics did the heavy hitting for the organization yesterday. Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons each got two hits in four times at bat to register small gains in their batting averages. Foxx went up from .374 to .376, while Simmons lifted his mark to .368, [illegible] his place ahead of Rogers [illegible] who slipped off to .364 with one hit in five tries. Babe Ruth got [illegible] hits, including his thirty-[illegible] homer of the year, but he was at bat seven times in a double-header. Frank O'Doul once more joined the Big Six yesterday, displacing his Phillie team-mate, Chuck Klein. O'Doul is slugging at a [illegible] .390, which puts him in [illegible] place in the standing, while Klein has fallen off considerably.

LA SEGOVIA

MR. AND MRS. D. J. JAMES invite their friends and the public to inspect, this week, the opening of their magnificent building. Knowing the demand for more new and ultramodern conveniences in the present-day apartment, we offer the ultimate; something different in combination, character, quality, refinement and service. Furniture and furnishings found only in the most exclusive homes.

SILK VELOUR DRAPES with valance, full-length mirrors, specially designed and built-in furniture; deep, soft rugs; paneled walls in living and bedrooms, dainty dinettes; combination bookcases and desks; full colored bathrooms, specious wardrobes and closets; wall safes with combination locks in every apartment; separate entrance halls from living-rooms and other outstanding features too numerous to mention. All embodied in a four-story picturesque soundproof building with a subterranean garage and 24-hour service.

LA SEGOVIA is located in the celebrated Wilshire residential district, near the Wilshire and Western shopping center; where the most exclusive cafes, theaters, shops, schools and churches are located.

YOUR EARLIEST inspection will be time well spent in selecting a single, double or triple apartment home with twin beds and two baths. The above is under the able management of Mrs. Ida Chamberlain.

POLICE CHIEF'S ACTION STANDS

Commission Ratifies Naming of Women Aides

Another Effort to Check Up Falls Through

Reasons for Appointment System Explained

Another effort by members of the Police Commission to check up on the right of Chief of Police Davis to select those he deems most fit for service on the police department under civil service regulations fell through yesterday and the commission approved his choice of Mrs. Katherine Belles as an assistant probation officer and Mrs. Mabel De Stevens as assistant policewoman.

It developed that Mrs. Gladys B. Nelson, at present employed by the Automobile Club of Southern California, topped the civil service tests both for policewoman and probation officer, and that Mrs. De Stevens and Mrs. Belles, second in the two lists, respectively, were selected by the Chief, subject to the commission's approval.

President Thorpe thought the board ought to use its own judgment on the selections and asked why Mrs. Nelson had not received one or other of the appointments.

CHIEF EXPLAINS

Chief Davis explained that Mrs. De Stevens has been with the department for six years, that she had been a secretary under three police captains, had studied sociology and criminology at the University of Southern California to prepare herself for police work and that she had taken a keen interest in the Juvenile Bureau. He said she bore a splendid reputation for efficiency and the appointment was promotion for her, as was customary for the encouragement of good work by members of the department.

In selecting Mrs. Belles, he said, he had taken the three names certified by the Civil Service Department and submitted them to a number of the largest organizations in the city interested in welfare work, with the result that they had suggested Mrs. Belles, although Mrs. Nelson's name had been on the list.

Mrs. Nelson, questioned by Commissioner Pierce as to her qualifications, said she was with the United States naval intelligence during the war, later was in the Treasury Department under McAdoo and the United States Railroad Administration. At present she is studying law. She said she received ten credits in each test for war service.

DRAKE MAKES MOTION

Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller informed the board that the charter provides for the Chief to appoint members of his department subject to approval of the commission.

"Do I understand that the Chief is right when he selects one out of three names submitted from the eligible list?" asked Commissioner Drake. Kitzmiller replied in the affirmative.

"Then I make a motion to approve the selection made by the Chief," said Drake. Commissioner Pierce seconded the motion and Commissioner Coe, who was recently appointed, and Thorpe also voted in favor.

IT'S CLEAN-UP TIME IN BOYVILLE

Listen, Kids, Circus Due in Two Weeks

Famous Families Do Incredible Stunts

Mitzi Ruffenach, with Ringling Brothers' huge show and trio of clowns who will perform here beginning September 12.

NOW is the time for all good boys to keep on being good—to be sure their hands are clean and their hair is combed before they sit at the dinner table; to do the chores about the house cheerfully, and run errands without a whimper. Because, listen kids, the circus is coming to town!

The vanguard of the huge Ringling Brothers' and Barnum and Bailey combined shows arrived in Los Angeles yesterday in the form of Advance Car No. 1, carrying its quota of billposters and bannermen; and it was officially announced the "big top" will be pitched for four days, commencing Thursday, September 12, next.

This year, the announcement says, the show is bigger than ever. There will be five rings, four stages and a huge hippodrome track. More than 100 clowns will cut up in their customary ways, and seven herds of elephants and a menagerie of 1000 wild animals will be on exhibition.

The human side of the circus numbers 800 men and women stars of the arena, including the combined Wallenda-Rellimuts troupes in incredible feats on the high wire. Entire families and companies of famous performers again will be presented in acts of skill and daring.

Among the newly imported European attractions will be Hugo Zacchini, known as "the human projectile." His act consists of being fired bodily through space from the mouth of a monster cannon. Another different feature is Goliath, mammoth sea elephant, who takes on weight at the rate of more than a ton each year.

Worker Buried in Ditch Cave-in Loses His Life

Buried under several tons of earth and small rock when the sides of a ditch in which he was working caved in, James Sims, 50 years of age, of 1415½ Eleventh street, Santa Monica, was suffocated to death yesterday, according to a report at the Coroner's office.

Fellow-workmen strove desperately to extricate him but were unable to reach him in time to save his life. The accident occurred on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, which is undergoing construction in Westwood. Sims's body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Price & Daniels in Sawtelle.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The Montmartre orchestra, headed by Proff Moore, will go aloft in a Western Air Express passenger plane Tuesday noon to broadcast the new song, "Big Boy Jess of the Western Air Express," composed by George Whiting and Edwin Weber. The title of the song was selected from the winners of the contest conducted for the event in nine of the largest cities in the United States.

The Montmartre orchestra will broadcast the song by special remote control, transmitting the sound waves to KFWB station, where it will be rebroadcast.

NEW DINING PLACE

One of the newest dining places in the city is the cafe in the Strand Hotel, Union avenue near West Seventh street, where de luxe dinners are featured nightly and from 12 noon to 8 p.m. Sundays. The chef there formerly was with the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York City. One of the unique attractions for the cafe is a luxuriously furnished social hall where patrons may entertain with bridge-luncheons without additional cost.

CAFE FASHION SHOW

Featuring the smartest in fall fashions, a colorful style show will be given in Paul Perrot's Cafe on Seventh street, opposite Westlake Park tomorrow noon. Mannequins, especially selected for their beauty and grace, will model the fashions which will include street frocks, evening gowns, hats, cloaks and arrays for every occasion. The Laughner-Harris orchestra will provide the music for the event.

CRITIC TO BE HONORED

Stars of stage and screen are planning a special tribute Tuesday night in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood to Louella Parsons, motion-picture critic, who will be the guest of honor at a festive cinema affair planned for that evening. Irving Aaronson and his Commanders are planning a special program of dance and novelty numbers to present on the occasion.

CAFE OPENING POPULAR

Theatrical and motion-picture celebrities filled the new B.B.B. Cellar in Hollywood at its opening last night to congratulate the conferencier and song writer on the unique cafe. Many took part in the impromptu entertainment of the opening. The place itself is one of the most modernistically decorated spots in the film city, the futuristic fittings so popular in motion-picture settings being used throughout.

OAKS TAVERN BRIGHT SPOT

One of the downtown bright spots where cafe patrons may enjoy an excellent dinner and entertainment before or after the theater is the Oaks Tavern, Fourth and Mill streets. Besides dancing to good music several clever singing and dancing novelty acts are presented. George Jeracos, "the singing waiter," renders many operatic selections in five different languages.

STAYS OPEN LABOR DAY

For the convenience of its many patrons the Harmony Cafeteria, Hollywood Boulevard near Vine street, will be open Labor Day from 12 noon until 8 p.m. Special holiday dishes will be featured, including the delicious roast chicken for which the cafeteria has long been noted.

NEW LIGHTING EFFECT

A Capucine "baby spotlight," latest stage effect from the Moulin Rouge, Paris, has been received at the Pom Pom, Hollywood, and will be used in "Chop Suey," current musical revue. This apparatus, using a special lens and operating with an eight-aperture color frame, throws unusual tints of light on the Pom Pom show girls.

Blasting Brings Man Jail Term

Pleading guilty before Municipal Judge Bogue to a charge of blasting within the city limits without a permit, John Grancich was sentenced yesterday to serve ten days in the City Jail. Arresting officers told the court that a 100-pound rock, which they brought into court as evidence, crashed through the roof of a residence owned by Mrs. C. W. Prollius at 2365 Stanley Hill Drive, narrowly missing the woman.

The blasting was being done in connection with a city contract, Grancich pleaded in his defense. He admitted neglecting to take out a permit to use explosives.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT HER HOME HERE

Mrs. Herbert E. Chesebro passed away yesterday at the family home, 4452 West Fifth street. Besides a husband, Mrs. Chesebro leaves a son, Herbert W. Chesebro, and daughter, Mrs. Carl A. Miller, and two grand children, Martha Ann and Charlotte Jane Miller. Services will be private at the home at 2 p.m. today.

BOARD WILL SIFT POLICE REWARD TILT

Man Who Chased Jewelry Robber Declares He Was Ignored by Officers

Police Commissioners Drake and Coe, the new members of the board, yesterday were selected by the Police Commission as a committee to investigate and make recommendations in regard to the complaint of J. A. O'Connor of 3217 West Adams street that he was ignored when rewards of $1548 were distributed by Capt. Caton to five police officers following the arrest and conviction of Walter Deustch for Hollywood jewelry robberies totaling more than $50,000 last spring.

Counsel for the officers, Chester D. Smith, W. F. Mole, H. L. Elliott, B. R. Steed and A. W. Stoll, who got the rewards, held that they are entitled to the money for capturing Deutsch and recovering the jewelry. It was contended the rewards were offered following the recovery of the stolen property.

O'Connor, who gave chase to Deutsch without a gun, and whose information led to Deutsch's arrest, declared that $750 of the reward had been offered by insurance firms prior to the capture. He said he had not been called to testify against Deutsch nor notified that the reward was about to be divided.

Chief Davis admitted that the reward should have been placed in the hands of Assistant Chief Finlinson for distribution, and that the recovered jewelry had not been placed with the property clerk, as is customary, but that the matter had been handled at the Wilshire station. He thought there should be recognition of O'Connor's bravery in chasing Deutsch unarmed and giving information leading to his arrest. He suggested that the officers confer about a share of the reward for O'Connor and given time to raise the amount agreed on.

Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller declared it is not a matter for the board to handle, but should be settled in the courts, but the commission decided at suggestion of Commissioner Pierce to see what can be done.

More Readers Send Money for Aid of Family

Out-of-town readers were prominent yesterday among those who, moved by stories appearing in The Times, sent donations to relieve the plight of a mother and three children police found stranded and destitute in this city a month ago, shortly after their arrival here from Amarillo, Tex. Of eleven contributors who mailed checks and currency totaling $32, five live in cities outside Los Angeles.

One donation was a $5 check sent by Freda Simon of 115 Park avenue, Prescott, Ariz. A check for $5 came from S. W. Macdonald, m[illegible] of Montgomery, Ward & Co.'s store in Sacramento. Another check for $5 was mailed by a man in Hollywood Beach near Oxnard, who asked that his name be withheld; and "S. H." of Pasadena, and "A Widow" of Long Beach sent $1 each.

Other donations included $10 from Elizabeth F. Winship of the Ambassador, and $1 each from "An Old Lady of San Pedro;" C. W. Chase of 153 South Main street, and three unidentified donors.

Flyers Prepare for Nonstop Hop to Ohio Races

Roscoe Turner and Henry Brown, entrants in the nonstop race against time to Cleveland, are expected to take off from the Metropolitan Airport at midnight. Both pilots announced yesterday that their planes are in shape for the flight.

Lee Shoenhair has set the pace from here to Cleveland with 13h. 50m., and the effort will be to lower Shoenhair's time.

John Wood and Art Goebel will get away Saturday at midnight, it now is expected. A message was received yesterday from Goebel saying that he will fly his new ship from Wichita and will arrive in Los Angeles today. This will give him twenty-four hours to overhaul his craft before he takes off.

Death Suspect Hunt Ordered

United States immigration inspectors at the Mexican border yesterday were asked by Sheriff Traeger to keep watch for Guadalupe Luna of 101 College street, Downey, who is sought for questioning regarding the fatal shooting early yesterday of Pablo Quisada of Downey following an altercation.

According to witnesses to the shooting, Luna and Quisada first engaged in an argument which ended in a scuffle. Luna then drew a revolver and the other man was killed during the struggle, the witnesses told investigators.

The shooting occurred on Church street near the railroad yards, the report states.

HOMELESS VAGRANT'S MONEY BRINGS ARREST

Discovery of $600 in the pockets of a homeless vagrant, who said he was on his way to a free employment agency in search of work, yesterday resulted in his arrest on a charge of suspicion of robbery. The suspect, who said he is James J. Wilson, 27 years of age, was stopped by Officer Romer at Eighth and Main streets, where his appearance and manner aroused the suspicion of the policeman. Not satisfied with his explanation, Romer subjected Wilson to a search, which revealed the money, $500 of it in $100 bills, stuffed into the pockets of his shirt. When he declined to answer the officer's questions concerning the currency, Romer booked him at central station.

HUSBAND WEALTHY BUT SHE MUST WORK

Mrs. Helen L. Hamman

Mrs. Hamman's arm is bandaged from injuries received when she smashed her husband's attorney's door window.

DENTIST'S WIFE TO GET NO ALIMONY

Mrs. Hamman Faints as Court Denies Her Plea for $1000 a Month Support

Mrs. Helen L. Hamman fainted in the corridor outside Superior Judge Burnell's court yesterday after her application for $1000 a month alimony had been denied.

Mrs. Hamman is suing Dr. Lee M. Hamman, wealthy dentist, for separate maintenance. She asserted she can not support herself in the style which the doctor accustomed her to on less than $1000 a month, and she asked for a share in his community property, which, she said, she helped him to acquire.

"How much did you spend a month before you were married?" asked Judge Burnell.

Mrs. Hamman said she supported herself on $135 a month.

"Did the doctor leave his first wife on account of you?" the court inquired.

Mrs. Hamman admitted that he did.

"But I didn't break up his home," the plaintiff added.

"How old are you?" asked Judge Burnell.

"Thirty-two."

"Not ill or incapacitated for work?"

"No."

"As you were able to make $135 a month four years ago, and it has not been proved you are unable to work now, there is no reason why your husband should pay you alimony," said Judge Burnell. "This child of yours is not the son of Dr. Hamman, and has no claim on him for support."

Attorney Knickerbocker said he will appeal from Judge Burnell's decision and Attorney Jones for Dr. Hamman said he will contest the appeal.

Mrs. Hamman obtained public notice recently when she smashed a window in the office of Attorney Jones and was taken to a hospital for treatment of the resulting cuts on her wrist.

RITES FOR GRANGER SET FOR TOMORROW

Funeral services will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, at 10 a.m. tomorrow for C. N. Granger, veteran railroad man and resident of Los Angeles for fifteen years, who died last Tuesday at the home of his son-in-law, A. A. Alton, 13512 Lucca Drive, Santa Monica, after a brief illness. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Arrangements are in charge of the George Fitch undertaking concern, 1201 South Hope street. Mr. Granger came to Los Angeles in 1914 to live after twenty years' service as conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Beulah E. Alton, Mrs. Florence Hammon, of Los Angeles, and two sons, Harry Granger of Los Angeles, and Charles Granger of Baltimore.

HUSBAND CRUSHED HER PIE, WIFE COMPLAINS

"My husband was very erratic," Mrs. Mildred M. Hansen testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich when asking for a divorce from Felmar C. Hansen. "Once to please him I made a nice strawberry pie. He got mad and took the pie in both his hands and crushed it, then asked me for a towel on which to wipe his hands. Before I could get the towel he tore the tablecloth from the table and wiped his hands on it, then took a match from his pocket, lighted a cigarette and applied the lighted match to the tablecloth." "Decree granted," declared Judge Yankwich.

Failure of students in the University of the Philippines at Manila to observe the uniform dress law has brought from President Rafael Palma the threat that "any student caught violating it is amenable to punishment."

RUM TUTOR OF BOY PAIR CONVICTED

Juvenile Psychologist Found Guilty of Giving Intoxicants to Minors

Vernon E. Augustine, a graduate student of juvenile psychology, who is asserted to have tested his theories on two young boys with intoxicants, was convicted last night on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. Motion for new trial is recorded by Clerk Bert Kiersey for September 3 before Municipal Judge Sheldon, who presided in the case. Augustine was sent to jail without bail.

The two minors in the case are Frank May, 15 years of age, of 1253 West Thirty-eighth street, and Edward Schneider, 12, of 706 East Fifty-fourth street, to whom Augustine is asserted to have given whisky and wine tonics.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Woodhead and Deputy City Attorney Kaufman, who prosecuted the case, called the two boys and their mothers to the stand as witnesses. The boys admitted having a small bottle of wine in their possession when they met Augustine at a Vernon-avenue theater, but declared that he took them to the beach and bought them several drinks of whisky and wine. Both were drunk when picked up, Sawtelle division police declared.

WOMAN IN JAIL AFTER GEM ORGY

Charged With Shooting at Autos and Pedestrians While Intoxicated

Mrs. Frances Johnson, 32 years of age, of 2816 Sunset Place, was booked at City Jail late last night on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, after she is asserted to have fired several shots at passing automobiles and pedestrians near her home.

At the jail Mrs. Johnson, according to the reports of Detective Lieutenants Rathbun and Ward, admitted she had been drinking during the evening and was unable to account for her peculiar escapade. S. Yates, owner of the apartment-house, where the woman lives, told the police she had made her home there for four years and he was at a loss to explain her action. The officers found five empty shells and two bullets from a .25-caliber automatic pistol, but were unable to locate the weapon.

Leg Crushed in Motor Mishap

Surgeons at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night were attempting to save the left leg of Edward Watkins, 22 years of age, of 2850 Marsh street, which was badly crushed when he was caught beneath his car after he cranked the motor.

Watkins, a clerk of the Board of Education, told Police Surgeon Lopizich, who treated the compound leg fracture, that he parked his car at Fourteenth and San Pedro streets and must have left the gears meshed, as he was unable to jump from the path of the auto after he had cranked the motor.
